

RECEPTION PLEASES AUSTRIAN DELEGATES

Crowds Show No Hostility to Enemy Plenipotentiaries.

VIENNA WOMEN ATTRACT

Stenographers Said to Be Comely and Soon After Arrival One Is Seen Talking to Two Poilus.

BY LINCOLN EYRE.

Copyright by the New York World. Published by the New York World. ST. GERMAIN, May 15.—(Special cable.)—The reception which has been accorded us has been delightfully courteous. I hope that we shall go away from St. Germain with hearts as joyful as we bring with us.

With this somewhat remarkable sentiment expressed in guttural German, Premier Renner, chief of the Austrian delegation, replied to the formal greeting extended to the peace envoys of the former Hapsburg empire on their arrival here last evening.

In marked contrast to the Germans when they came to Versailles, the Austrians were smiling and apparently in the "joyful" state of mind referred to by their spokesman. Whether they will remain so cheerful depends largely upon the big four.

No Hostility Is Shown.

When the special train, which had borne the delegation from Vienna, steamed into the Grand Central station here only a small crowd was gathered about the station to view the arrival. It was noteworthy that there was a complete absence of any of the "big four" with which the spectators greeted Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and his followers on their first appearance at the Chateau of the Seine at Oise again officiated as the French government's reception committee.

In the second sentence of his speech he voiced France's desire to receive the new comers with "traditional French courtesy" and he introduced Major Bourgeois, who heads the allied military mission attached to the Austrian party.

Without further ceremony the 53 men and six women comprising the delegation, descended to the platform and debouched into the open space behind the station where automobiles and omnibuses were waiting to convey them to their lodgings.

Premier Renner is housed in the magnificent villa of Joseph Reinach, one of the editors of the Figaro in the Rue des Medias. Professor Lannasch, his wife and daughter, are in an adjoining house owned by the Reinach family. Both places have a superb view over Paris, a fact for which St. Germain is famous.

Austrians' Means Simple.

The allied mission and certain officers are installed in the pavilion of Henri Quatre. The Austrian rank and file is quartered in the pavilion of Francis Premier, an erstwhile restaurant, and in other nearby villas.

The arrangements for the reception of the visitors had not been completed before their arrival, and beds and mattresses and other furniture were being carried hastily indoors. Apparently the voyagers from Vienna are not to be so sumptuously fed as their ex-allies. The dinner served them last night consisted of soup, mutton, a salad, dessert, the sparagus and strawberries with which the Germans were regaled being conspicuously lacking. The French found the women stenographers accompanying the plenipotentiaries far more attractive than the feminine element at Versailles.

Within five minutes after their arrival one of the fair Viennese was seen chatting cheerily with two poilus on the sidewalk outside the Francois premier.

The tract, which is a beautiful minute motor trip of Medford, reached by the Pacific highway and the lodge plans to erect an attractive clubhouse with accommodations for members, wives and children.

While trout fishing will be the main diversion, there will be provision for all sorts of outdoor sports and games including boating, swimming, baseball and tennis. This is the third large outing club established by Medford people on the banks of the Rogue.

BEAVERTON HEROES HOME

Plans Under Way to Welcome Boys Serving in France.

BEAVERTON, Or., May 15.—(Special.)—Telegrams received here yesterday announce the arrival at Camp Dix of Vincent Fitzpatrick, Leon Davis and James O. Emmons, members of the old Oregon and the first of Beere boys to get into the "thick of the fighting in France."

They are expected to arrive here the last of the month. Plans are under way to give them a rousing reception. The Honor Guard girls are planning a banquet and lodges, schools and other organizations will join in the welcome to the returned heroes.

FISH PRICES UNDER PROBE

Rapid Decline May Cause Vessels to Quit Operations.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 15.—(Special.)—Alleging that declines in the price paid by wholesalers for fish on the Seattle harbor exchange have become so rapid during the last few days as to demand attention, members of the Fishing Vessel Owners' association said today that they would be compelled to tie up their vessels if there is not an immediate improvement in the market.

They complain that the prices as paid for fish are being cut and mixed cod are ridiculous, considering the cost of the fish on the city markets peddled by the public.

The cause of the decline of prices and to devise ways and means for getting a more equal share of the value of their product, the Fishing Vessel Owners' association will hold a special meeting tomorrow.

Taylor after they had pleaded guilty to charges of vagrancy, brought by Mrs. S. H. Upton of Portland, of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective society.

According to evidence introduced, both men paid the railroad fare of an 18-year-old girl living in Albany, the former from Klamath Falls to Weed, Cal., and the latter from Weed to Medford. Mrs. Upton was on the train and noticed the trio. The arrests were made in a local hotel early this morning. Davidson and the young girl, whose name is withheld by the authorities, unable to furnish bonds, were taken to the county jail at Jackson-ville. Whitejob is out on bail.

This case had hardly been disposed of when a Miss Gherkin of Ashland and George Bearsley, a local rancher, were arrested on the same charge. Upon their promise to get married at once they were fined $25 and costs and released.
