

MARRIAGE FORGED BY FEAR, SAYS MRS. COLE

Threat Made to Kill Her and Fiance, Is Testimony.

EVIDENCE IS CONTRADICTED

Aunt Testifies, in Alienation Case at St. Helens, Auto Party Feared Killing by Cole.

ST. HELENS, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—The first day of the Cole alienation trial closed today with Mrs. Alice Gillette, one of the defendants, on the stand. Estes Williamson, a brother of Mrs. Cole, testified that he had an appointment with Mrs. Cole the day before the marriage, and had failed to keep the appointment made him suspicious, so he went to Johnson, Mrs. Cole's fiance, for advice. Williamson became badly mixed on dates and facts and he could only remember, that he came to St. Helens to get his sister and that she was taken back to Portland.

Mrs. Cole was recalled to the stand and testified that she married Cole because he had threatened to kill her and her fiance, Johnson, if she did not marry him and that he carried two big revolvers with him. She insisted that she did not love Cole and never did and, although engaged to Johnson, wrote Cole the endearing letters "simply as a kid." She admitted that she has written Cole asking him to come to Portland and had met him at the designated place, but reiterated her statement that she feared him, therefore married him. She asserted that she left Cole of her own free will and "would rather die than go back to live with him."

Her evidence, also as to dates and happenings, was contradicted and she became confused. Mrs. Gillette, on the stand when court adjourned, was eager to give testimony and was admonished by the court to keep calm. She came to St. Helens, she said, to rescue her niece from Cole and admitted that Johnson, the former lover of Mrs. Cole, came with her. She told of the wild ride and how the automobile broke down and that Mrs. Cole was in constant fear that Cole would overtake them and kill all of them.

Mrs. Gillette admitted that she had talked the matter over with Johnson before coming to St. Helens on the day that Mrs. Cole left her husband. She also admitted that Mrs. Cole was 27 years of age and a sensible girl, but thought Cole had damaged her niece and thus had the marriage performed. Testimony was introduced to show that the couple visited Astoria, Oregon, City and Vancouver before coming to St. Helens and that members of the kidnapping party were here for several hours before they located Mrs. Cole and spirited her away.

The case is attracting much attention and a large crowd is in attendance. It is indicated that the trial will occupy the remainder of the week.

LEAGUE APPROVAL IS DUE

Senator Hitchcock Confident Senate Will Ratify Covenant

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska predicted in a statement today that the senate would approve the covenant of the league of nations and that the necessary majority vote to amend it or separate it from the peace treaty would not be obtained. Senator Hitchcock has been the chief spokesman for the administration throughout the long senate controversy over the league of nations and his statement generally was regarded as a reply to that issued last night by Senator Lodge, republican leader, who said the league covenant was not acceptable to a majority of the senate. "The supporters of the peace treaty in the senate are confronted by divided forces," said Senator Hitchcock. "First, there are those who would like to eliminate that article of the treaty which establishes the league of nations. Second, there are those who profess to support the league of nations, but insist on amending some of the provisions to meet their own particular views."

"Either of these plans to succeed must receive the support of a majority of the senate. In other words, the opponents of ratification can beat the treaty by securing one-third of the votes of the senate to reject the treaty, but in order to amend it they must secure a majority of the votes of the senate."

"It would require a majority of votes, of course, to strike out the league of nations article, just as it would require a majority to change any part of the league of nations. It must be evident to everybody that while the senate can amend the treaty, such amended treaty could not possibly go into effect until all of the nations party to the treaty accepted the amendment. If one refused to accept it, that would produce a deadlock and make peace impossible. For all to accept any senate amendments, even if it were possible, would require a long period of time that would greatly delay the advent of peace. I cannot conceive a majority of senators will be able to unite on a proposal to change in any way the terms of these enormous evils."

JONES WOULD OUST EVADERS

Washington Senator Urges Deportation of Alien Shirkers.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Bills for the expulsion from the country of aliens who escaped military service by withdrawing their applications for citizenship and defying sedition, were introduced today by Senator Jones, republican of Washington. A bill to put in bills to create a federal industrial relations commission. A bill to change the name of the Panama canal to the "Roosevelt canal," was offered by Senator Calder, republican of New York. He also proposed measures to repeal the luxury taxes.

FAIR STOWAWAY ARRIVES

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN "HAD TO SEE HUSBAND."

Trip Declared Impossible Is Made From Honolulu—Old-Time Practice Becoming Popular.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—Mrs. A. B. Joy arrived today from Honolulu on the steamer Larline, a stowaway. "I just had to see my husband, so I stowed away," she explained to the pursuer, who found her under a state-room bed on the vessel six hours after it left Honolulu. There were also two men stowaways aboard, but they were not, however, the stowaways of Robert Louis Stevenson's days, for all paid their passage money and became passengers, instead of being compelled to work for their passage.

This bids to become a popular sport, due to congestion of traffic. The Matson company announced today that unusual demands having taken vessels for transport of returning troops has left facilities for bringing only 200 people monthly from Honolulu, while 2000 monthly seek passage.

The stowaways slipped on board after being informed that they could not purchase a passage for six months.

At Carver a building has been built representing the Marcus Whitman mission at Walla Walla. Besides the banks of the turbulent Clackamas the motion picture people have found a scene that closely resembles the original site of the Whitman mission.

DIOCESE MISSIONS IN BEST OF SHAPE

Episcopal Women of Oregon District Hear Reports.

DEAN HICKS IS SPEAKER

Wealth Not Main Point to Be Desired in Church Growth, He Says in His Address.

Episcopal missions in the Oregon diocese are growing and in a prosperous condition, according to reports made yesterday at the annual meeting of the women's auxiliary of the diocese of Oregon held at Grace Memorial church. One hundred and forty delegates were in attendance. Election of officers took place at the afternoon session and resulted in the following choice:

Mrs. James Muckie, St. David auxiliary, president; Mrs. Wilson Johnston, Trinity auxiliary, first vice-president; Mrs. E. Strupiere, St. Paul's auxiliary at Salem, second vice-president; Mrs. Walter E. Bliss, Grace Memorial auxiliary, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. J. Dennis, Grace Memorial auxiliary, recording secretary; Mrs. W. H. Hallam, St. David's auxiliary, treasurer; Mrs. W. J. Burns, Trinity auxiliary, treasurer of united offerings; Miss Perkins, St. Mark's auxiliary, educational secretary.

Many Cities Represented.

The following women were elected as delegates to the triennial auxiliary convention to be held in October in Detroit: Mrs. James Muckie, Mrs. Wilson Johnston, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. Julia Whitford and Mrs. T. W. Kirby. Among the cities and towns of the diocese having delegates were Astoria, Eugene, Corvallis, Vancouver, Oregon City, Hillsboro and Salem.

All delegates were guests of the Grace Memorial auxiliary at a luncheon served cafeteria style in the parish rooms. Mrs. H. P. Dutton, president of the Grace Memorial auxiliary, appointed the following women in charge of luncheon arrangements: Mrs. G. B. McLeod, Mrs. John L. Etheridge, Mrs. Charles, Mrs. S. J. Henry and Mrs. Panton.

Services Open Session.

Holy communion with Rev. O. T. Taylor, rector of Grace Memorial church, opened the morning session. The Very Rev. T. T. Hicks, dean of St. Stephens parish, gave a sermon prior to the opening of the business meeting and Bishop W. T. Sumner gave an address during the afternoon session. In his talk Bishop Sumner told of the prosperous condition of the diocese missions, and laid stress on the duty of more extensive mission work in the Coos Bay country. He appealed for funds to promote missions of the diocese.

"We can't be neutral in our religion," said Dean Hicks. "A divided allegiance manifests itself in carelessness and indifference works against God. The slightest submission to evil is treason against him. Reliance on money alone for the work of the kingdom is fatal. You will hear someone say that we must get a certain person into the church because he has means and will help us out. We must get the idea out of our heads. How long will people think to have teas, sales, card parties and dance to advance the kingdom of God?"

LEVY FEELS LIKE DIFFERENT MAN

Had Suffered Ten Years—Tanlac Restored Him to Perfect Health.

"It just looks like I can't get enough to eat since I commenced taking this Tanlac, and it is the only medicine I have taken in 10 years that has given me any relief from my suffering," said Joe Levy who lives at 697 Kerney street, North, Portland, the other day. "I have had very poor health for the past 10 years," continued Mr. Levy, "but my condition has grown very much worse during the past year. My appetite got so poor that I had gotten to the point where I hardly ever wanted to eat anything, and my stomach was in such a condition that what little I did manage to eat would cause me to suffer like blazes afterwards. My food always soured after meals and I would be kept bloated up with gas for two or three hours at a time. Sometimes I would be badly nauseated and would have dizzy spells soon after eating anything. My kidneys were in bad order all the time, too, and I just simply can't describe the awful pains I would have in the small of my back and this trouble finally got so bad that I seldom ever got a good night's sleep. I also suffered a lot from constipation, and had to be taking laxative of some kind every day. With all these troubles pulling me down all the time I finally got so weak and run-down that I was unable to do a day's work. I just seemed to lose all my energy, and felt tired and worn out from morning till night.

"Well, I just kept on taking medicine, and instead of getting rid of my troubles, I gradually got worse all the time until I commenced taking Tanlac. When I had finished my first bottle of Tanlac I was convinced that I had struck the right medicine at last, and when I had finished my second bottle I felt like a different man in every way. I have taken five bottles so far, and I can truthfully say that I was never in better health in my life, and I just feel good all the time. I have a ravenous appetite and am not satisfied with three big, hearty meals a day, but I have to eat something between meals. The best part of it is, I can eat anything I want, and my stomach is in such fine condition that I never have the slightest sign of indigestion, and I am never bothered with gas forming after meals and bloating me up. I don't have those dizzy spells any more, and have gotten completely rid of constipation, and in fact, Tanlac has simply overcome all my troubles and I am as well and hearty as I ever was. To my mind, Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug company—Adv.
