MIDDLE WEST PROSPEROUS

MINNEAPOLIS VISITOR EXPECTS ACTIVE BUILDING ERA.

H. V. Jones of the Journal, impressed by Business Conditions in Seattle and Portland. "Very prosperous conditions prevail in the middle west," said H. V. Jones of the Minneapolis Journal, who was a visitor in Portland yesterday and registered at the Benson. "The high price of grain has brought millions of dollars into that section of the middle west. In Minneapolis there has been very little building during the past two years owing to restrictions on buildings which prevailed throughout the country during the war, but once building is resumed a great deal of it will be carried on. There has been no start yet toward launching a building programme, owing to the fact that the carpenters have been on a strike."

The tendency in Minneapolis, which is a home town, has been toward apartment houses of recent years and a considerable part of such housing as has been carried on has been along this line. The apartment house, observed Mr. Jones, does not meet with the unreserved approval of those people who have an apartment house fail to radiate a home atmosphere, such as is found in the individual dwellings. The reason came to the coast for the purpose of looking over Seattle and Portland and studying the local conditions and resources of each. He said that he is well satisfied with what he has noted and the two cities have made a favorable impression on him.

CITY APPEALS PARK CONDEMNATION SUITS

Council Orders Five Cases Carried to High Court.

JURY VALUE HELD HIGH Mayor Baker Takes Stand Against Paying Exorbitant Prices for Land Needed by Public.

The city of Portland, during the present city administration, will do everything within its power to prevent payment of exorbitant prices for property needed by the city and obtained through condemnation proceedings. With this view the city council yesterday instructed the city attorney to prepare immediately to appeal from the decision of the circuit court in five cases filed by the city against property owners in the Marquam gulch. In each case which will be appealed to the supreme court, members of the city council are of the opinion that the verdict returned by the jury is excessive and far above the actual value of the property. Even when taking into consideration the fact that the owners of the property were forced from their homes.

Property being sought in Marquam gulch is necessary in order to complete the building of the Dunway park. The property owners who are affected by the cases which have been appealed and the amount of the verdict returned in each case is as follows: Gustaf Scheel and Rosina Medie, $5000; Luigi E. Ernaldi, Russell and Sabatino and Marie Petrecca, $4100; C. P. Smith, Tony Donatella, Rose Donatella and V. A. Avery, $6250.

People who are interested in obtaining playgrounds for their particular sections, said Commissioner Bigelow, should be also willing to cooperate with the city in securing the lowest possible prices for the property needed for the parks.

Mayor Baker said that although it would cost considerably to go into the courts with the case, that it would be far better to spend the money than to pay excessive prices for property needed by the city.

City Commissioner Harbur suggested that as a future policy for the city council whenever possible the members of the city council should secure options on property desired and purchase them at option price. This plan was not approved by Mayor Baker or Commissioner Bigelow, both of whom stated that such a plan would be a dangerous policy and that condemnation was the only safe method for the city to follow in acquiring property.

"Securing options is a plan full of dynamite," said Mayor Baker. "I would not like to be mixed up with deals where property was secured in that manner. The courts and the jury are the juries return a verdict which is deemed excessive we have the privilege of appealing from the decision."

KNIFE HOLDS CARTRIDGES

CAMOUFLAGED PISTOL CARRIED BY PRISONER.

Messenger Boy, Jailed for Abusing Officer, Will Be Tried on Two Charges Today.

In the lingo of the police, they are henceforth "off of the head" at a precaution arising from the arrest yesterday afternoon of Roy Freeman, messenger boy, 19 years old, on a charge of interfering with an officer.

Taken into custody by Sergeant Irvin and Patrolman Kelly, Freeman was submitting to search in the city jail. Bailor Gustafson had fished a peewee long-bladed pocket knife from the prisoner's hip pocket and was scrutinizing it. There was a blade and there was also a small lever which intrigued the taton's curiosity. The knife was pointed toward Freeman as the jailer tugged at the lever.

COMMON LABOR WAGE $5

North Bend Contracting Firm Will Pay High Price for Steel Work.

NORTH BEND, Or., May 21.—(Special)—Wages for common labor here soon to reach a new high mark here is indicated by information obtained from the Scandia Shipbuilding company, a local contracting firm, of its intention to increase the minimum wage for common labor on street work to $5 for eight hours' work. This scale is approximately the same as that being paid on road and street work in other parts of the county, and is $1.50 day more than $3.50 at the mills and woodworking plants are paying at the present time.

The Scandia Shipbuilding company was incorporated about six months ago with a capital of $100,000 for the purpose of engaging in general contracting business. The stockholders of the company, numbering more than 100, are principally former employees of the shipyards here and are ardent advocates of high wages for their company. Recently secured contracts for street improvements in this city amounting to nearly $60,000.

At the Theaters. Strand. SOUTHERNERS who love their south lands will experience a visit back home if they see the Strand picture, "What Am I Bid?" this week. The locality of the action is in the Tennessee mountains and the beautiful sea and hills have been faithfully photographed. The story is reminiscent of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," with pretty little May Murray playing the role of Yarnell's brat, a girl of the forests, brought up in ignorance of the outside world, in a backwoods settlement. The stranger arrives in the person of a chap from the outside world, she dreams of, and he teaches her and helps her. On one occasion he saves her from the advances of one of her father's friends, the village saloon-keeper, who has bargained for her with the girl's drunken father.

In return the stranger saves the stranger later when events are against him. The climax in the story, when the stranger is summed up a special to his world, is a splendid gripping study in psychology. Barnes and Lorraine top the vaudeville bill with a delightful comedy skit, entitled "Romance in Handcuffs," introducing keen character studies and plenty of fun.

The "Temptation" duo is offered by a clever novelty dancing team, whose footwork is exceptionally good. Instrumentalists in variety who add harmony of voice to their act are a smart pair, White and Knight. Theater of the day presents diverting current happenings.

AD MEN DONATE BERRIES

CRATE AND $150 PRESENTED TO LOCAL CHARITY.

Visiting Nurse Association Gets the Benefit of Auction Profits at Rousing Meeting.

Through action of the Portland Ad club, the Visiting Nurse association has a fund of $150 and a crate of choice Hood River strawberries as the foundation for a special fund for the strawberries to the sick and needy who come under care of its members. The crate of selected ripe strawberries was sent to the Portland Ad club by people of Hood River, in appreciation of the courtesy of the organization in arranging the celebration of apple blossom festival. It was promptly decided at the club luncheon yesterday to sell the berries at auction for the benefit of charity.

It was a rousing meeting of the ad men, combining talks on reconstruction by Jay H. Lipton and P. J. Gallagher with the presentation of the Victory Rose Festival by Ira L. Riggs. The directors of the festival association were guests of honor. In tribute to the memory of W. R. Hobbs, the money stood for one minute, as a mark of respect to their late associate.

SEALER AND ACCUSED CLASH

HENRY WESTERMAN FINED ON SHORT MEASURE CHARGE.

E. H. Jones Plants Two Rights to Jaw of Convicted Man Following Court Hearing.

Convicted of delivering two "loads" of elabwood, 100 cubic feet short of the two "loads" contracted for, Henry Westerman, proprietor of the Marion Fuel company, 315 Fourth street, was fined $25 by Presiding Judge Stapleton yesterday affirming a fine in the municipal court.

In the elevator in the courthouse after the case had been heard, Westerman became involved in an argument with E. D. Jones, city sealer of weights and measures, who had filed the charges against him. The result of the altercation was a fistie encounter in which Jones is said to have planted two rights to the jaw before restrained. Crossely 21, an assessor threatened did not materialize, as words continued to be exchanged for some time after the meeting.

Westerman sold what was supposed to be two cords of four-foot length slabwood to P. J. Heidel, 471 Chapman street. It proved 100 cubic feet short. The defense contended that "loads" instead of "cords" had been sold, but Judge Stapleton was convinced of high weights and measures and recently secured contracts for street improvements in this city amounting to nearly $60,000.
