EX-SAILOR IS ARRESTED

Bad checks, alleged to have been circulated by Robert J. Alden, who wears the uniform of a United States sailor, and who says he was recently discharged, brought about his arrest yesterday by Detectives Tichenor and Malley on a charge of forgery, preferred by Sidney Schuback, of the New Grand Amusement company. Alden is alleged to have passed a small check, bearing the signature of "C. W. Jorgenson," which Schuback cashed, and is said to have passed another check at Oak Street. A first attempt was made at Meier & Frank's store, it is alleged, the check bearing the signature of Alder P. Kelsey. Alden carried the discharged papers to Private Anthony J. Nowaczyk, of the spruce division, which he says were given to him for safe keeping.

THOUGH A LARGE PERCENTAGE OF THE DAY POLICE SHIFT, HEADED BY CAPTAIN MOORE, THROUGHT THE CONTRIVED TRICK

Judge Dayton yesterday, they could not save a brother officer, Police Sergeant W. E. Robson, from a fine of $5 for slapping the face of Lee Foo, Chinese. Yet the fine was assessed by a reluctant judge. He denied that he was the least bit intimidated by the display in force of Portland's finest, but declared from the bench that Sergeant Robson was but technically guilty.

SERGEANT ROBSON, WHO HAS BEEN ON THE PORTLAND FORCE FOR MORE THAN 17 YEARS, WAS CHARGED BY LEE FOO WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY at Fourth and Everett streets, May 14. According to the officer's own story, he came upon the Chinese stater in front of his store in the capacity, he said, of a "look-out" for a lottery game going on within.

HE WAS VERY PROVOKING TO SEE HIM STANDING THERE AS A 'LOOK-OUT,' AND EVERY TIME HE THOUGHT THE ROAD WAS CLEAR LETTING A MAN INTO HIS PLACE

he wanted him to get out of the way, and he told him he would be a look-out, and he said there as long as he pleased, and that if I didn't like it he would see the mayor about me. Let him over to the police box on his refusal to go inside his establishment, he pulled away from me and cursed in vile language. I told him not to repeat what he was saying, but he did several times. I slapped him twice in the face, as any man with spunk would do. Let the record say there was testimony of a feud of long standing between Lee Foo and Sergeant Robson, Lee Foo having committed the crime of slapping in the past, and succeeded in having Sergeant Robson removed from the beat in Chinatown.
