Portland followers of the various styles of billiards have had the oppor-tunity to witness a number of exhi-bitions, match games, champions and challengers in action the past season. I manager of the Riaito billiard parlors, and J. J. Parker, president of the Ri-nito corporation, do not go amiss and if the word of Frank Taberski, pocket bil-llard champion of the world, is good the Portland fans may see a real honest to goodness world's championship match next fall.
