

WINNIPEG IS QUIET; RADICALISM FEARED

3000 Soldier-Constables Are on Guard About City.

STRIKERS CALL FOR HELP

Belief Is Expressed That Invitation to Trouble-Makers Has Been Sent Out by Leaders.

WINNIPEG, June 6.—Comparative calm again spread through Winnipeg this afternoon after three of the most vivid days in the city's history.

The proclamation of Mayor Charles F. Gray forbidding public parades received the indorsement of nearly every faction involved in the general strike.

Mass meetings were held by strikers and their sympathizers at Victoria park and by returned soldiers at the auditorium.

Brigadier-General H. D. B. Ketchen, addressing the returned soldiers' mass meeting, declared that the Winnipeg strike can no longer be considered a union labor protest, but that it is an attempt to overthrow the government.

"Rest assured the dominion government and the military are not idle," he said, and intimated the government is taking steps to deal with bolshevism and revolution.

"When the government does act in connection with the Winnipeg upheaval I am sure you will all agree that when I intimated today that action was impending to deal with revolution and bolshevism I did not tell you all," he said.

Mayor Charles F. Gray spoke again today. He asked for more constables, and he got them. Gray said the city will have 3000 returned soldiers on its emergency police force before present mobilization plans are completed.

The meeting at Victoria park was purely a strike gathering. William F. Ivens, one of the "big five," told the strikers to stand firm and declared "the sympathetic strike would not be called off."

A procession of strikers and marchers for the city hall. When the strikers got within a block of the city hall they were stopped by the police.

City officials have construed the local strike leaders' announcement they sent out as an invitation for all classes of radicals to come to Winnipeg.

A printed declaration in the strike bulletin that "gunmen imported from the United States were on their way to Winnipeg to oppose the striking forces and precipitate a 'pardon' was found as false at the city hall. It was said that the purpose of the article probably was "intended to incite union men."

Without committing themselves on the question of calling off the sympathetic strike executives of the central strike committee announced to local authorities tonight that the Metal Trades council has accepted the collective bargaining plan outlined by officials of the railway brotherhoods who have been attempting to bring about strike settlement by conciliation.

It is understood the industrial employers, while inclined to indorse the railroad brotherhoods' collective bargaining plan, are determined the leading issue of the strike—the sympathetic walkout—must be disposed of first.

"We will not call off the sympathetic strike," declared William F. Ivens, one of the five strike leaders, in an address today at Victoria park.

VANCOUVER TO FIGHT STRIKES

Officials and Citizens Organize to Carry on Needed Activities.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 6.—Law and order must be maintained and public utilities must be operated in Vancouver during the general strike, Mayor R. H. Gale declared in a statement made public today.

The mayor's statement reviews chiefly the cause of the present trouble and pointed out that civic authorities are unable to remedy labor grievances.

Although telephone operators last night voted in favor of the strike, the service has not yet been interrupted.

Vancouver citizens who are not in sympathy with the strike are organizing a committee to co-operate with the authorities in carrying on the city's normal life. It was announced here today. Leaders of the movement hope to enroll 10,000.

GIRL SLAYER TESTIFIES

Time in Okanogan, when she submitted to Storr.

"I was in love with him, and I thought he loved me," the girl told the jury.

She testified that she had come to Okanogan to consult with him about a trip she and a girl friend were planning to make to Alaska.

the question, and was sustained by the judge.

Storr's face never moved a muscle during Miss Garrison's recital. His eyes never left the girl's face and he followed every word of her testimony with intense interest.

During her testimony the girl slayer presented a far different attitude than that which characterized her pose on the witness stand in Seattle, when she calmly rehearsed her every move in the sensational story of her poisoning of Storr's wife in the tea room of a department store on the afternoon of March 18.

Slayer Testifies Hesitatingly.

It was evident today that Miss Garrison was torn between affection for the man on trial and her promise to her attorney to give the jury the exact facts of her relation with Storr, as she partially related them at the murder trial in Seattle.

She seemed reluctant to brand the defendant as the man responsible for her downfall.

It was rumored last night that Miss Garrison, on gaining her first sight of Storr since last March 17, would throw to the winds her promise to testify for the prosecution, and it was this rumor that set a commotion buzzing in speculation and drew a record-breaking crowd to the courtroom today.

Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi, cast the negative vote.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The house committee appointed to investigate war department expenditures will hold its first meeting tomorrow.

First steps toward drafting tariff legislation will be begun Tuesday by the house ways and means committee, Chairman Fordney announcing today that the committee will begin work on the tariff bill.

The Klamath Indians of Oregon will be permitted to sue in court of claims to recover approximately 100,000 acres of land which, they say, was omitted in fixing the boundaries of the Klamath reservation by the terms of a bill introduced in the house by Representative Sinnott today.

The hospital at Camp Lewis, Wash., is reduced by an order of the war department today from a base hospital to a camp hospital, which means a curtailment of the bed capacity and a reduction in the hospital personnel.

A newspaper advertising campaign for recruits for the army to be carried on in all the English language newspapers of the 55 cities in which there are recruiting offices is to start on June 18. The advertising will run to the end of June and $18,000 will be paid for newspaper space.

The 14th field artillery, recruited at Walla Walla and other points in eastern Washington and Idaho, sailed on the transport Fearless from St. Nazaire on June 3 and will reach New York June 14.

Prosecuting Attorney Brown announced a prominent Seattle physician, whose name has been withheld, may be involved, and he will call in Charles W. Hensgen, captain of detectives, to solve the mystery surrounding the disappearance of 864 quarts of liquor Wednesday night.

Bitter feeling has developed, with Sheriff Stringer angrily insisting he delivered all of the 3204 quarts of confiscated liquor to Judge Allen, and Judge Allen declaring not more than 2304 bottles reached his courtroom.

Prosecuting Attorney Brown asserted Friday responsibility rested between Judge Allen and Sheriff Stringer.

The whiskey was seized when August Hensgen was arrested at a barn near the Meadow a month ago. The liquor was locked in the old county courthouse vault under the sheriff's supervision. When Hensgen was brought to court Wednesday his attorney, Thomas V. MacMahon, insisted on bringing all of the whiskey into court, and Judge Allen was forced to issue the order.

Hensgen was fined $200 and two steel cases, holding 25 quarts each, were held for the federal authorities, who, it was reported, also wanted to prosecute Hensgen. Judge Allen directed the destruction of the remainder, reserving four cases for the Providence hospital, four for the military hospital and two for the Columbus sanitarium at the request of a prominent Seattle physician.

'FREE LOVE' CAUSES GRIEF

Testimony at Tacoma Trial Indicates "Home Colony" in Turmoil.

TACOMA, Wash., June 6.—Echoes of battles between the "nudes" and the "prudes" over the moral conditions of the Mutual Home association, better known as "free-love colony," on Puget sound were heard in the superior court today during the suit to dissolve the association. The falling out between the two factions is the cause of the suit.

L. F. Hicklin, a member of the association, told of the fight which his own desire for "prudence" had waged against the "nude" faction to better moral conditions, after arrests had been made when some members of the association participated in nude bathing episodes.

"Many families of the association were shattered over the free-love question," he testified.

More than 600 short lines are represented in the association.

PROBE OF SHIPPING BOARD WELCOMED

Inquiry Promised Pleases Coast Interests.

DISCLOSURES HELD LIKELY

Cancellation of Western Contracts While Eastern Work Goes On May Be Explained.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 6.—Senators and representatives from the Pacific coast generally were pleased with the resolution adopted this afternoon providing for an investigation of the shipping board by the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries.

This committee is given the power to go to the bottom of everything in connection with the shipping affairs of the government, and since it will investigate the entire building policy of the shipping board, comparison will be possible in the cost of shipbuilding on the Pacific coast and at Hog Island. It is expected to reveal rank discrimination practiced by the board in cancelling contracts wholesale on the Pacific coast and continuing to build at much higher costs in the east indefinitely.

Senators Chamberlain and McNary will have much to say hereafter about presidential appointments in the department of commerce, the shipping board and the customs service. Both are members of the Irish committee of the senate committee on commerce, which must scrutinize these nominations. Senator Chamberlain will examine and report on all appointments from Montana, Nevada, North Carolina and South Carolina, and Senator McNary will handle appointments for Oregon, Washington, California, Hawaii and Alaska.

Colonel Thomas J. Lewis, retired, is relieved of service in the inspector-general's department at Portland, Or., by today's army orders, and from all further active duty.

PACIFIC FLIGHT FEASIBLE

EX-ARMY AVIATORS READY TO MAKE ATTEMPT.

Ince, Motion Picture Producer, Who Offers $50,000 Prize, Announces Encouraging Message.

VENICE, Cal., June 6.—Announcement was made today by Thomas H. Ince, motion picture producer, that he had received a telephone message from Lieutenant A. J. Hanson of the military aviation station at North Island, near San Diego, expressing the belief that the proposed trans-Pacific flight, for which Ince offered $50,000 in prize money, was entirely feasible.

According to Ince, Lieutenant Hanson said there were several aviators recently discharged from the army who probably would be willing to attempt the flight.

Dr. Frederick Whitney, a wealthy aviator, who has made a number of successful flights in southern California, has announced definitely that he will enter the contest if it is pointed out by aviators that it is quite possible for an airplane to go from here to the Hawaiian islands, as the distance is only 2989 miles.

Ince said that in the event an aviator failed to reach Australia, the goal, but reached the Hawaiian islands, the flyer would receive $10,000. The start must be made from here within six months.
