PARKING RULE HARDSHIP BUSINESS MEN ARGUE FOR MORE LIBERAL REGULATIONS.

Spokesman for Merchants Is William F. Woodward, Who Tells How Business Is Seriously Injured.

Contention that the present traffic ordinance, in its restrictions of the parking privilege in the business district, creates a constant condition of annoyance and hardship to merchants and their patrons, as well as to professional men who tenant the various office buildings in the proscribed zone, is made by various business men.

Spokesman of the argument for a more liberal ruling with regard to parking in the business zone is William F. Woodward of Woodward, Clarke & Co., who maintains that the trade of his store has been permanently damaged by the summary arrest of customers who left their cars for a few moments, returning to find that they were under orders to report to police headquarters.

"By the terms of the present traffic ordinance," said Mr. Woodward yesterday, "parking of automobiles in the business zone during business hours is prohibited on Park, West Park, Washington and Alder streets. As a result of this inhibition, we have had scores of customers turned away from our doors."

"A patron who parked his car on this street long enough to have a prescription filled for his sick child, on coming out to his car ten minutes later, ordered to report to the police station, and his day's work is ruined," said Chief Johnson, who stated there would be no further arrests made of these violators—but the harm has already been done as a store is concerned.

"Physicians in the various office buildings have been greatly hindered and their patients have been distressed by application of this ordinance."

"The ordinance has been successful in inflicting a heavy loss to merchants along the streets where parking is prohibited and sending the traffic to the large stores outside the inhibited area, and with a greatly extended parking area."

"Los Angeles and other cities that car owners, citizens and strangers are more considerate of the pedestrian visitor or taxpayer is not placed under arrest for attempting to transact business in the business district."

"The present ordinance should be amended by permitting an individual to park the car which he may own, occupy or drive for a period not exceeding 30 minutes at any place of business in the city, at any time, in order to transact necessary business. If 30 minutes is not sufficient, then a garage can well be sought."

"Our city is too large and its business interests too heavily burdened to bear with any unjust and unduly restrictive regulations upon traffic. Our business houses, large and small, our streets, wide and narrow, should all be treated alike."

ORPHEUM TO OFFER GIRLS

THIRTEEN SIRENS TO APPEAR WITH FRANK DOBSON.

Special Wednesday Night Show Arranged for Rose Festival Visitors' Amusement.

For the first time in 16 weeks the Orpheum will have an extra show at the Helix next Wednesday night. Special arrangements were made with the Helix management for the presentation of an extra vaudeville performance for the accommodation of the visitors attracted by the Rose Festival and the Ad club convention.

The new Orpheum show to open at the Helix tomorrow afternoon is a girly show, teeming with vivacious comedy, as if it were especially booked for Portland's festival period. In headline place are Frank Dobson and his 13 sirens, one of the biggest girl acts of the season, and an act that is said by reviewers to be second to none of its type, not even to "The Bride Shop," its predecessor in big-time vaudeville.

Frank Dobson is a lively comedian, the stage setting is magnificent, the costumes are gorgeous, and the girls were selected for their beauty.

ACTRESS TO MAKE CHANGE

Ruth St. Denis Says She Intends to Quit Vaudeville Soon.

Ruth St. Denis, who has been a headliner on the biggest vaudeville circuits of this country and Europe for the last 12 years, will forsake the variety stage. This announcement was made yesterday by Miss St. Denis, who is playing this week in Tacoma.

Her husband, Ted Shawn, who was her dancing partner, enlisted in the army last year and Miss St. Denis went out again in vaudeville.

"Now that the war is over and my husband is out of his uniform," said Miss St. Denis over the long-distance telephone yesterday, "we can devote our time and thought to big artistic productions."

Miss St. Denis will leave vaudeville when she reaches Los Angeles, the first week in July.

Miss St. Denis will say farewell to her Portland vaudeville admirers when she appears here for an engagement next week.

NEWSBOY AIDS FESTIVAL

JOE HARTY LAUNCHES DRIVE FOR $15,000 FUND.

President Riggs Appeals for Immediate Contributions to Make Rose Show Great Celebration.

"If I can afford to give a dollar, there are 14,999 other public-spirited men and women in Portland who can do the same."

"With this declaration Joe Harty, legless newsboy at Broadway and Washington street, launched the drive for $15,000 to complete the programme of the Victory Rose Festival, a response to the appeal of President Ira L. Riggs."

Every public-spirited person in Portland who not only wanted to see the Rose Festival perpetuated, but who wants to see that the returning service men receive the gigantic celebration promised them, is urged, to follow Joe Harty's advice by sending a dollar to the festival headquarters, 101 West Park street, or to the business office of The Oregonian.

"The festival's fate hangs in the balance and only loyal Portland people can save the day," said Mr. Riggs last night. "Joe Harty, a legless newsboy, gave the first dollar. His face brightened as he gave it, for he was giving for the good of his city."

"For those who have the city's welfare and reputation at heart, let them respond today. Every hour is vital as the festival opens next Wednesday."

Twenty-five thousand dollars already has been raised by hard work, but this has been spent in laying the ground plans for the festival.

Two thousand five hundred shipyard workers have been discharged during the last two days, according to City Superintendent Conway, of the United States employment bureau. Approximately 800 men have been employed.

The Northwest Steel shipyard has laid off 1000 men, including most of its night shifts, said Mr. Conway. The Columbia River Shipbuilding corporation has released 1500 during the same time, while the Standifer yard has increased its force from 3200 to 4000.

Charles E. Dobson of La Grande, Or., and Mrs. Emma Smith and Fred E. and Benjamin E. Dobson of Portland. "The body will be sent to Crabtree, where interment will be made in the North Providence cemetery, where Mr. Dobson's wife, who died five years ago, was buried."
