Rundred Singers in Early Morning Tour City and Salute Service Flags With Song.

God bless the good folk of this house. But most of all the lad whom the deep blue star doth show."

Clear and sweet this refrain rang out on the morning air. A truck loaded with carolers had stopped in front of a home on Washington street between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets Half awakened apartment-house and hotel dwellers rubbed their eyes and listened.

The refrain, "But most of all the lad for whom the deep blue star doth show," growing in volume and belllike clarity riochetted on sound waves appeared in an upstairs window. The service flag carol was sung again; then "Keep the Home Fires Burning" followed by the official Rose Festival song, "Victory Crowned, Rose Renowned, Portland." Then with an evident desire to jest with the sleepy-gyed audience the carolrs swung into: "Oh, how I hate to get up in the morn-ing, ch, how Id hove to remain in bed," and as the bic truck turned the corner Ing, ch, how I'd love to remain in bed, and as the big truck turned the corner ilc centrist party, but the majority so-cialists.
