

WORLD SAFER WITH GERMANY IN LEAGUE

Powers Would Prevent Rival
Group Formation.

REDS OF RUSSIA MENACE

Tentons, If They Sign Treaty and Give Guarantees, Are Practically Assured Admission.

(By the Associated Press.)
Germany, if she signs the peace treaty and gives satisfactory guarantees that she will establish a stable government and loyally carry out the provisions of the treaty, doubtless will be permitted to become a member of the league of nations.
The council of four at present has this momentous subject under consideration and from unofficial reports there seemingly is no strong objection to Germany being admitted, if by contrast she proves her worthiness to membership.
By permitting membership to Germany the feeling prevails that there will be no likelihood of a coalition between that country and Russia, which in the future might be a source of trouble, and that with Germany inside the league she could be kept more tractable than outside it.

Final Word Soon Expected.
The council also is going over the reports of the commissions which have been examining the German counter-proposals. While all the commissions have not yet reported, it is felt that late in the week the entire situation will have been so whipped into shape that it will be possible to hand the Germans the final word of the allied and associated powers, constituting an irreducible minimum of concessions.

It is said that five days after the presentation of the reply the Germans must give notice as to whether they propose to sign the treaty.
Considerable fighting continues between the factions in Russia. Hostilities also are in progress between the Hungarians and Czechoslovaks, but they are likely soon to end under a threat by Premier Clemenceau to use allied troops against the Hungarians if they do not cease their activities.

Germans Evolve New Court.
A court has been formed in Germany to bring to the bar of justice persons accused of having fomented the war, lengthened its period, and of being the cause of Germany's defeat.

Unofficial advice from Russia is that Jewish pogroms have occurred in 50 different places in that country. Many thousands of Jews are said to have been slaughtered.

PARIS, June 9.—The movement to admit Germany to the league of nations is due mainly to the desire to avoid the possibility of the formation of another group composed of rival powers, which would embrace Germany, Russia and the old Teutonic group.

Hostile Influences Active.
Evidence has reached the conference leaders of late that influences are at work in Germany and Russia to establish relations with a basis for a combination of powers not in the league. While not regarded as imminent, it was felt that the danger of such a combination would be always present while Germany was outside the league, and the admission of Germany therefore was regarded as a means of subjecting her to the same obligations as the allies under the league of nations.

This sentiment was chiefly instrumental in the unanimous decision of the British, French, American and Italian members of the league committee concerning the conditions on which Germany may be admitted. One of the chief authorities said today:
"Guarantees are required.
"We can deal with Germany better when inside than outside the league. Outside she would be able to go her own way; inside she must conform to the same obligations. The recommendations now submitted to the council of four define these effective guarantees, namely, the signing of a peace treaty and loyally executing the terms of the treaty.
"The league covenant also made it conditional of Germany's entrance that she accept the league restrictions of military and naval armaments. It was proposed to define this by specific abolition of compulsory military service.
"M. Clemenceau objected, however, on the ground that such a specification might bring up the whole question of compulsory service. It was omitted from the recommendation presented to the council of four."

Reply to Be Ready Soon.
The council spent the day in examining the German counter-proposals.

Carnation for the Children

Carnation is a pure, healthful drink for children because it is only fresh, sweet cows' milk with part of the water in the milk evaporated. It is sealed in the containers and sterilized—no impurities can possibly reach it. To prepare Carnation for drinking, it should be diluted with water making a consistency of ordinary milk. Equal parts of Carnation and water make a rich, wholesome drink. If you prefer it not so rich, use two parts Carnation to three parts water.
All children should have a quart of milk a day.

Ining this and other committee reports. Indications were that the reply to the Germans would be ready before the end of the week, probably Friday, when five days will be given for Germany's final answer with respect to signing.

PARIS, June 9.—Guerrilla warfare of a character "which usually precedes a major conflict is going on in Ireland," declared Frank E. Walsh and Edward E. Byrne, in a supplementary report which they have forwarded to President Wilson regarding conditions in Ireland.
Messrs. Walsh and Byrne, delegates of Irish societies in the United States, affine in this addition to their report submitted to President Wilson last week that clashes between Irish volunteers and the army forces in Ireland, in which men on both sides are killed, are of daily occurrence.

STATE AIDS LEGION WORK

EX-SERVICE MEN'S ORGANIZATION GIVEN $5000 FUND.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Commission
Would Assist in Plans of Post Formation.

"We feel confident the state could not make a better investment," commented State Senator F. W. Mulkey as a drawing account of $5000 was proffered the state organization of the American Legion yesterday afternoon by the soldiers' and sailors' commission, of which he is chairman, to assist in the work of welding the ex-service men of Oregon into a patriotic unit. The offer was made by the commission following a meeting at the Liberty temple with E. J. Elvers, Dow V. Walker, Barge E. Leonard and W. B. Elliott of the state committee of the legion.

As spokesman for the ex-service men's organization, Mr. Walker explained that the work of the legion throughout the state was progressing splendidly, that 15 cities had applied for charters outside of Portland, but that organization being hampered by lack of funds at the command of the state forces. He said several eastern states had paid the initiation fee of $2 for every ex-service man from public funds, and of the manner in which other committees, believing in the aims and future of the legion, had supported the work begun in Paris, continued in St. Louis and to be given impetus at the November national convention at Minneapolis.

"We will continue to give aid to certain employment offices in the state which are helping ex-service men to find work," announced Mr. Mulkey, until it is demonstrated they are not doing the work properly. In those cases we shall turn the employment work over to the local post of the legion, and expect to carry on the work with our assistance."

MUNITIONS' TAX IS UPHELD

Manufacturers of Shell Parts to Pay
Share of Profits, Ruling.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—The government's war time tax on the profits of munition manufacturers, contested by producers of parts of shells, who claimed that the impost was intended to apply only to completed articles, was upheld by the circuit court of appeals here today.

In a group of three decisions holding that any participant in the abnormal profits of munition making must submit himself to taxation laid upon this class of income, the court sustained a government policy involving many millions of dollars in revenue already collected or in course of collection. Opposite action by the court would have necessitated legislation to make up the consequent deficit in general receipts.

SMUGGLED TREATY IN SENATE'S HANDS

Publication Is Ordered Over
President's Protest.

BREAK WITH WILSON WIDER

Bitter Struggle Made to Suppress Fact, But Borah Ends Fight by Starting to Read Document.

this message concluded, Senator Borah immediately presented his copy of the treaty, which was ordered printed by a vote of 107 to 2.

Later, however, there was a motion to reconsider and a parliamentary tangle developed which endangered publication of the treaty. To circumvent such a possibility the Idaho senator in the late afternoon began reading the 100,000-word document and continued for an hour, despite many protests from the president's supporters.

Then the effort to prevent publication collapsed, the motion to reconsider was voted down and the fight which had developed many bitter charges of broken faith and in some respects had written a new chapter in senate history, was over.

The first of the day's series of surprises came when the foreign relations committee, whose meetings in years past have been surrounded by the closest secrecy, threw open its doors to the public.
Senator Borah was called upon first to amplify his statements in the senate about treaty copies in New York. He said early in March he became convinced the international bankers of New York were particularly interested in creation of the league of nations and that he quietly began an investigation. "I ascertained," he told the committee, "that practically all the international bankers were deeply interested in the league and were assisting in promoting its adoption by this country. I became convinced, too, that these gentlemen were interested in promotion of the league for private reasons."

Under questioning the Idaho senator added he had secured this information, together with the knowledge that a copy of the treaty was in New York from sources which he could not reveal. He then suggested the calling of Messrs. Morgan, Davison, Lamont, Warburg and Schiff, asking he connected them with the existence of treaty copies in New York "by a combination of circumstances only."

Mr. Polk Asked to Appear.
The name of Mr. Vanderbilt was added to the list on suggestion of Senator Williams, democrat of Mississippi, and the subpoena were ordered unanimously on the motion of Senator Hiram Bland of Nebraska, senior democrat of the committee. The committee also invited Mr. Polk to appear.

Acting Secretary Polk hastening to the capitol as soon as he heard of the committee's invitation, told the committee he had received at various times about 39 copies of the treaty—the first one about May 19 by special courier, then ten more in the same manner, and then a package of additional copies sent by the state department's confidential mail.

New Yorkers Refuse to Comment in Regard to Senate Action.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Messrs. J. P. Morgan, H. P. Davison and Jacob H. Schiff refused to comment today on the dispatches from Washington saying they had been subpoenaed on the senate inquiry into the private circulation of the peace treaty in this city. They added they had not yet received subpoenas.
Thomas W. Lamont, also wanted by the senate, declined to comment. Other financiers mentioned were not in the city today.
