TROUT BREAKFAST LIKED

300 DELEGATES TO AD MEN'S MEET ENJOY PICNIC.

Outdoor Meal With Strawberries, Served at Eagle Creek, Voted One Grand Success.

The trout breakfast for delegates to the Pacific coast advertising men's convention, staged at Eagle creek yesterday morning by Ed Strong of the Oregon Life Insurance company, left 300 trout-filled enthusiasts smacking their lips and blessing the man who thought it up. At that, the trout were only a part of the feast. There were vast and luscious quantities of Hood River strawberries, sent down from that fruit-growing center, and eaten with real cream, as a first course; coffee and doughnuts and bacon fried with the trout to give 'em snap. The guests didn't know it, but all the cooking was done by R. E. Clanton, master fish warden, and G. Evert Baker. These gentlemen displayed a fine knack in wrapping a trout in a coat of cornmeal and frying him to the exact point where a graven image would have yelled for a helping. Among the guests were Governor Olcott and Lieutenant-Colonel Watson of the flying circus. The delegates quickly found them and made them and Samuel C. Lancaster, engineer of the Columbia river highway, give brief talks. The Portland Spectator was host for the breakfast, with Mr. Strong in charge. He was assisted on the committee of arrangements by Tod Hansen, E. H. McCarty, H. W. Kent and W. H. Matten. Members of the Seattle police band were specially invited guests. Chopped banana stalks, used as soon as the fruit has been harvested, have been used in Queensland for feeding horses.

Auto Load of Captured Whisky Disappears

Marshal Word Relieved of Prize While Eating Breakfast.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Members of the sheriff's office here and at The Dalles declare today that "he who laughs last laughs best." Since possession of the two offices arrested Deputy United States Marshal Frank B. Tichenor, escorting an alleged bootlegger and his car from Burns to Portland last week, the two sheriffs have been subjected to unmerciful bantering by their friends. But it is another tale—that or today. Hastening to Portland from central Oregon with 2 1/2 quarts of captured liquor aboard a big touring car, ex-Sheriff Tom Word of Multnomah county, now a deputy United States marshal, stopped about 4 o'clock at a restaurant at The Dalles for breakfast.

Returning to the street to start the 90-mile drive to Portland, Mr. Word rubbed his eyes. The machine was gone. He lost no time in rousing Levi Christman, high sheriff of Wasco county, from his sleep. The latter, grinning, so they say, like a Cheshire cat, put in a long-distance call for Sheriff Johnson of this county. And at day-break the self-same men who last Friday awaited and arrested Officer Tichenor were guarding the highway passes, hoping to capture the liquor-laden automobile taken from Mr. Word. It is presumed that confederates of the central Oregon bootlegger were following Mr. Word and made away with the car the instant he entered the restaurant.

POKER LEADS TO SHOOTING

Looser Holds Up Winner, Then Indulges in Gunplay, Is Report. ABERDEEN, Wash., June 12.—(Special.)—Postolus George is at Aberdeen general hospital suffering from gunshot wounds, inflicted when a fellow employe at the Climax logging camp fired twice at him with a shotgun. George does not know the name of his assailant, other than that his first name is Jean and that he is foreman of a skid road gang. Sheriff Bartell and Deputies Ham and Eddy went to Bay City this afternoon to arrest George's assailant. George's condition was declared at the hospital not to be serious. The shooting, George explains, followed a poker game in which he was winner of about $100. He claims Jean held him up after the game and took the money from him. This, George says, caused him to offer to fight Jean this morning. Jean, instead of accepting the challenge, went into the bunk house and brought out a shotgun which he emptied at George.

given out. The increase for the year was 263. The total now stands at 4050.

Hedda Nova, the temperamental Russian star, who is being featured by Universal in "The Spittre of Seville," declares her director, George Seligman, and his assistant, Jimmy O'Shea, waste more time talking over "trench scandal" since they returned from France than they spend "shooting." Each finds a willing auditor in the other and there is joy in the Seligman producing family.
