ATROCITIES CHARGE SUPPRESSED IN ERIN

DELEGATES' PLAN IGNORED

British Representatives at Dublin Alleged Puppet in Hands of Local Prison Officers.

BY JAMES M. TUOHY.

DUBLIN, June 18.—(Special Cable.)—

Two facts are notable in connection with Secretary MacPherson's reply to the statement of the Irish-American delegation respecting the system and methods of systemment for which he is purposes the castle represents.

The obvious conclusion drawn in Ireland from the attitude of the chief secretary is that he is afraid of an insecretary is that he is afraid of an in-quiry. Possibly some of the allega-tions in the arraignment might be dis-proved or mitigated by investigation, but enough would remain intact to es-tablish the accusation that gross po-litical oppression is now practiced, un-der his authority, in Dublin Castle, al-though opinion here is that the in-itiative for the course against which protest is made rests with the mili-tary and permanent castle officials, Secretary MacPherson being a mere puppet in their hands.

WILSON GIVEN NEW EVIDENCE

President Asked to Secure Fair Investigation of Charges.

PARIS, Tuesday, June 17.—Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, American representatives of the Irish cocieties in the United States, have laid before President Wilson further evidence alleged to have been received as to atrocities in Ireland. Some of the witnesses were American citizens, it is said, and they say they have "examined cells in which Irish revolutionists have been confined and have found fresh blood on the walls."

Mr. Walsh and Mr. Dunne request President Wilson immediately to lay the additional facts before the peace conference and urge a prompt hearing by an impartial tribunal. The Irish delegates have received notice from the secretary of the conference that the resolution on the Irish question passed by the United States senate has been presented to the conference. They have also been informed that their previous report on atrocities has been forwarded to the state department in Washington for transmission to con-

His reply may be good enough for British consumption, but the record of Dublin castle in such matters is such that no one in Ireland will place the silightest reliance upon it, apart from the surposes the castle represents.

Allenby in Proclamation Grants Nationalists' Requests.

LONDON ACTION REVERSED

Officer Tramples Under Foot Own Instinctive Pride of Race to Fulfill Honest Traditions.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS. (Copyright by the New York Herald Company, Published by Arrangsment).

CAIRO.—The conquerer of Jerusalem, General Edmund H. H. Allenby, G. C. B., G. C. M. G., special high commissioner to Egypt, came to nis greatest greatiness by a deed that made the soldiers and civilians under him gnash their teeth with rage. Holy Writ says that he who rules his spirit is greater than he will be swerved by the clamor of criticism that has risen against him amid his commantal his cross-roads of earth will be within a few weeks' bazaar talk in India and Persia and Mesopotamia and Syria and Turkey and in the African colonies he understands full well.

London will lay upon his shoulders the responsibility for all that is or may be in the future wrong with Britain's relations in Egypt. That his people wers not great enough to play up to their chief is what made the second state of things worse than the first.

Emancipation Is Historic. Some day the world will regard as historic the soldierly document that came out in Cairo over General Allenby's signature, on April 7, 1918. Never was greater decision expressed in fewer words. The terse proclamation makes one wish that General Allenby had been early assigned to write the peace. early assigned to write the peace treaty. I quote his proclamation in full:

"Now that order has been in great neasure restored, I declare, in gree-nent with His Highness the Sultan, that there are no restrictions on trave that there are no restrictions on travel and that Egyptians who wish to leave the country will be free to do so.
"Further, I have decided that:
Saad Pasha Zaglu
Ismail Pasha Sidky
Mohammed Pasha Mahmoud
Hamad Pasha El Basel
shall be released from interpment and

Hamad Pasha El Basel shall be released from internment and given similar freedom of movement."
In those few words, one man caused the British government to execute a swift "about face." Goed authority says that it was entirely upon his own responsibility, and without consultation with London, that General Allenby took this radical setting almost without ore. this radical action, almost without pre-cedent in British history. There was no diplomatic quibbling about it, no subterfuge or explanation, Bluntly, di-rectly, completely, the action of the government was absolutely reversed.

Great General Accepts Defeat. Egypt had broken out into really na insurrection because would not permit an Egyptian deputa-tion to go to Paris; and because four Nationalist leaders had been deported to Malta. As a protest, the nation's communication and transportation sys-

The human likableness of this mar and his unaffected simplicity and domesticity take on a tragic interest when it is recalled that his only son perished in action in France. The young soldier refused a staff position with his father, preferring the chances of a warrior on the battlefield. His death was glorious; but there remains an unfillable vacancy in the home and hearts of General and Lady Allenby.

"I have not come with a gallows and an axe," was his way of expressing his attitude toward the disorders in Egypt. He mentioned his interviews with Egyptian notables and the efforts to promote counsels of moderation. with Egyptian notables and the efforts to promote counsels of moderation. "We cannot slaughter a whole nation." He was working for the amelioration of the bitterness of feeling and he had held in abeyance the orders to burn villages adjacent to the scene of any new outbreaks. Although he did not speak of it to me, I know he was investigating the destruction of a number of towns and villages which had already been wiped out by the troops.

Divers May Raise Wreck.

JUNEAU. Alaska, June 18.—Three divers who returned here today from the scene of the wreck of the Canadian passenger steamer Princess Sophia reported they believed they could raise the vessel this summer. The Sophia went down last fall in Lyan Canal, north of here, with all aboard, 342 persons. The divers brought back 16 bodies recently found on the boat. One of the bodies was that of R. H. In this spirit he promptly granted my request that I should be given the official figures as to the British officials in Egypt by years to show whether their number is increasing or decreasing, and their salaries as compared with those of the Egyptians to whom they are "advisers"! He also authorized his office to supply me with figures concerning the prices paid the Egyptians for animals when they were requisitioned for war purposes and the prices at which they were sold back again—a sore point with the fellaheen. Unfortunately, the residency later informed me that the pressure upon the clerical force was too great to enable it to comply with this promise of the high commissioner.

General Allenby embodies the spirit of the growing group of idealiats in government service who believe in sunlight diplomacy, in the welfare and possibilities of the weaker peoples, in the sacredness of the British mission as a serving nation and in the paramountcy of her real honor. I doubt if anybody has ever heard him induige in sneers at the Wilson principles of liberty, safety and self-determination for
