

LUMBER TARIFF CASE
HIGHEST DROVE BY A WAY

Hearing With U. S. Officials
Brings Partial Agreement.

SHIPPERS ARE NOT UNIT

Dakota Rates Cause Much Argument,
While New England Charges
Are Protested.

With expressions of satisfaction from some of the lumbermen that progress had been made in smoothing out the differences between shippers and traffic officials of the railroad administration in the proposed new lumber tariff for transcontinental shipments of lumber, and with some points of contention raised between shipping interests, there was keen disappointment that the conference could not be concluded yesterday. Adjournment of the hearing in San Francisco was finally taken, where the conference will be resumed Wednesday of next week, June 25.

Two brief sessions were taken during the afternoon, one for the traffic officials to consider changes proposed by the lumbermen, and one for the lumbermen to endeavor to reconcile their differences and submit a final report which it was hoped would enable the committee to reach a decision. It became apparent that with such diversified interests the lumbermen had found it unable to reach an agreement satisfactory to all. The Western Pine Manufacturers' association held that in the adjustments made, inland empire producers lost much and gained nothing, while California producers benefited by receiving concessions.

When the lumbermen presented their recommendations to the traffic committee at the opening of the afternoon session, more than half of the rates proposed under the amended tariffs submitted by the committee Thursday were accepted. Changes were asked in a number of instances.

Dakota Rates Cause Dispute
The West Coast Lumbermen's association asked that the rate to North Dakota be reduced from 47 to 45 cents and that the rate from California to the northern counties of North Dakota be 5 1/2 cents and to the southern part 5 cents. To South Dakota a rate of 55 cents was desired for the southern half of the state, excepting a triangle in the southeast corner, which should take a 55-cent rate, and asked for a 47-cent tariff for the northern half of that state. The tariff rate to the Dakotas became the subject of considerable discussion, as the lumbermen strenuously objected to the proposed rate, which the traffic men contended could not be consistently reduced and harmonize with the Omaha rate. There were a number of other reductions desired in the amended tariff, one of which was a request for grouping Indiana, western Ohio and southern Michigan and making a 68-cent rate in lieu of the 70-cent shown on the schedule.

Counter Proposals Rejected.
Speaking for the committee after their consideration of the counter proposals of the lumbermen, Chairman Robinson told the conference that the committee could not accept the various propositions, explaining the reasons in each case, but said that the committee would not be adverse to reconsidering a 60-cent rate for points in the state of Indiana. Some adjustments were made to apply the principle that where a tariff rate has been fixed in cities adjacent across the boundary would take the same rate. This was done with special reference to cities on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, and to points within 15 miles of Philadelphia.

The opinion of lumbermen that there was an increase in rates to Central freight association territory, which embraces states east of Chicago and north of the Ohio river, was discussed and existing tariffs checked to show that such was not the case. President Cooper, for the western pine men, protested vigorously against the increase from 50 to 52 cents to the New England territory, including Maine. "The tariff penalizes the inland empire," he said, "and asks that we accept an increased charge into practically all territory in which we had our market. New England is one of our best markets, and one which we seek, and this increase of 50 cents per thousand feet seems to us unjustly increased. It is a penalty on the empire shippers, and while we recognize that California is entitled to certain adjustments we do not think that it should be at our expense."

Lumbermen Not Generous.
J. B. Baird, author of the tariff and traffic manager of the Northern Pacific, expressed discouragement that the lumbermen had not shown the spirit of generosity which he had hoped for when the committee made concessions in the amended tariff that had been submitted. He said the lumbermen accepted every concession granted and then asked for more.

J. N. Teal, attorney for the West Coast Lumbermen's and Redwood associations, remained optimistic as to the classification and placed in class D items, but the matter of classifications does not appear to be one of contention beyond some slight adjustments.

The principal rates to the points in zones fixed by the amended schedule of tariff No. 22 A from north coast and California points in cents, per 100 pounds, are as follows: North Dakota, western part N. C. 45; remainder of state, 47; South Dakota, southwest portion, N. C. 45; rest-northern portion, 50; northern portion 47; southern portion 55. (As drafted there were no California rates fixed to North and South Dakota, but were provided for by recommendation of the lumbermen.)

Nebraska, west of Burlington line, hearing with U. S. officials brings partial agreement. Shippers are not unit. Dakota rates cause much argument, while New England charges are protested.

Bushman; and Morrison Electric company, 111 West Park street, $18.

Miss Manning Is Unsophisticated.
Miss Manning is a young, apparently unsophisticated girl, 19 years of age, and says that her mother, Mrs. Agnes Manning, resides at Vebien, S. D., where her home is located. The authorities at present are trying to get in touch with her relatives. She was well dressed when arrested and was clad in dresses thought to have been paid for with the worthless paper. A man who signed his name "Daddy" in a love letter from Bellingham, Wash., is believed by the authorities to be responsible for the girl's downfall, and an attempt is being made to locate him.

When arrested the girl had two telegrams in her possession, from "Daddy" sent from Bellingham on June 11 and June 12, which read as follows: "Mama, please wire $40 at once. Will leave tomorrow. Other data cancelled." "Mama, inquire for letter of hotel clerk addressed to Mrs. Bushnell. Send money."

According to the inspectors the girl confessed to sending money to her friend in Bellingham, and said her primary purpose was to celebrate the fact that she could send money to her sweetheart.

Rotarians for Fair Play
Conciliation Plan Held Best for All Interests.
Estes Snedecor of Portland Named Second Vice-President at Salt Lake Sessions.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 20.—Resolution No. 19, on the relationship between employer and employee, which brought forth bitter debate at yesterday's session of the convention of the International Association of Rotary clubs, was adopted late today at the closing session of the convention, but that part of the resolution which would have pledged Rotary to compulsory arbitration of economic questions was eliminated.

Action on the resolution was postponed from Thursday until today to await the action of Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington, to whom had been assigned the subject of employer and employee. Dr. Suzzallo strongly recommended conciliation in the settlement of economic disputes in his address before the convention.

As adopted the resolution pledges Rotary to try conciliation and in the adjustment of all economic disputes the interest of the majority (the public) be given due consideration. Albert S. Adams of Atlanta, Ga., was formally elected president of the organization, his election being assured yesterday when rival candidates withdrew from the race.

John D. Dyer, Vincennes, Ind., was elected first vice-president; Estes Snedecor, Portland, Or., second vice-president; James F. Finley, Chattanooga, third vice-president; Raymond M. Haven, Kansas City, sergeant-at-arms; and Rufus F. Chapin, Chicago, district treasurer.

District governors elected today for the 24 Rotary districts included C. C. McCullough, Fort William, Ont.; J. T. Young, Pocatello, Idaho; and Clayton Williams, Everett, Wash.

Helen Manning alias Mrs. George Scott, Irene Bushman, Vera Morris and numerous other aliases, arrested Thursday by inspectors Goltz and Howell is one of the cleverest bad check artists ever taken into custody by the local police, according to further speculations unshared yesterday, allege the officers.

At present Miss Manning is lodged in the county jail charged with forgery and her alleged peculations and the sum total of worthless checks turned over to the police run over several hundred dollars.

Sunset—Rex Beach's "The Brand." Columbia—Edd Bennett, "The Haunted Bedroom." Elmo Lincoln, "Elmo, the Great." Star—Bryant Washburn, "Putting It Over." Globe—Dorothy Gish, "Boots." Circle—Elsie Ferguson, "Under the Greenwood Tree."

Star.
"Putting It Over," his new Paramount picture, which will open at the Star theater today, Bryant Washburn again dons the rube checked suit and plays the part of Buddy, a country boy, who was clever despite the fact that he was born and reared outside of a big city. This particular young chap's bobby was amusing himself at the expense of his townspeople by playing practical jokes on them and getting them into all kinds of peculiar situations, much to their embarrassment.

Screen Gossip.
Helen Ferguson, who has just finished an important part in "The Lost Battalion," a picture of the 7th division, has been engaged as leading lady opposite Harry Morey in a picture titled "The Gamblers."

Nearly one-third of the photoplays produced within the last year are based on standard or current literature, magazine stories, operas or stage plays. This is determined from an examination of the new "Garden of American Motion Pictures" issued by the national board of review, 70 Fifth avenue, New York, which gives the sources, so far as known, of the photoplays seen by the board during the 12 months ending April 1, 1919, which are judged "suitable for the family programme, young people and special entertainments."

World Pictures, which is distributing "Little Orphan Annie," a five-reel feature from the famous poem of the same name by James Whitcomb Riley, is in the market for a large number of letters from Riley clubs throughout the country asking for information as to when this picture will be seen in their home towns and at what theaters. The fact that the Riley clubs are composed of adults dispels the impression that some exhibitors have that this is a picture whose greatest appeal is among children.

Ruth Roland is doing Broadway for a few days and dividing her time between the Fifth avenue shops and the Pathe offices. Miss Roland has just finished "The Tiger's Trail" and is getting ready for her next serial, which will be from the scenario worked out by the star herself. She leaves for Los Angeles this week to start work on the new serial.

Washington to Pave Roads
Bids for Million Dollars of Pacific Highway Work Asked.
OLYMPIA, Wash., June 20.—(Special.)—Bids on 24 miles of paving involving a bid of about $1,000,000 will be opened by the state highway commission June 23, 24 and 25. On July 17 about $750,000 worth of grading and gravel work bids will be let.

Most of the paving work to be let is for the Pacific highway in compliance with a recent decision to pave that highway from the British Columbia line to Cowitz county this biennium and to at least grade the rest of the highway to Vancouver.

Police brought to have check-passer. Young woman of numerous aliases arrested. Much bad paper located. Motive thought to have been to supply Bellingham sweetheart with funds.

PARIS, June 20.—(Special cable.)—The Irish-American delegates have filed a fresh appeal to the American peace commission in the shape of a suggestion that the commissioners "officially or individually" aid in securing the release of Countess Markievicz, minister of labor in the "republican cabinet," who was jailed recently in Ireland.

Enclosed in the delegates' letter to the commission is a copy of a lengthy communication to Premier Lloyd George protesting against the arrest of the countess. Both letters are signed by Frank P. Walsh and E. F. Dunne, the American peace-makers are assured that their intervention on behalf of the countess would be "an act of humanity for which you will receive the kindly gratitude of many millions of people."
