ALCOHOL RULING DRASTIC
All Prescriptions Next Made In Duplicate

WASHINGTON, June 28—Drastic action was occasioned by the service of a refusal of a 20 proof distillation permit by the Washington State Liquor Control Board yesterday. The refusal was issued to the Pacific Mills Company, a subsidiary of the Buffalo Mills in Seattle, to permit making the state-furnished products of alcohol.

The Board cited the company for violation of the Washington State Liquor Control Act, which prohibits the sale of any spirituous liquor for human consumption, except for medicinal purposes. The refusal was based on a finding that the company had failed to comply with the provisions of the act.

The company has been granted a 20 day appeal by the Board, after which it may appeal to the courts.

ROSEBURG, June 28—The Roseburg Distilling and Bottling Company, a subsidiary of the Buffalo Mills in Seattle, was granted a 20 day appeal by the Washington State Liquor Control Board. The appeal was based on a finding that the company had failed to comply with the provisions of the act.

The company is currently engaged in the manufacture of alcohol for medicinal purposes and has been granted a temporary permit to continue operations during the appeal period.

SOLDIERS ASK DISCHARGE
For Men of Kid Field Artillery Demand Release

WASHINGTON, June 28—The National Guard Bulletin reported today that the National Guard of Washington had received a demand for the discharge of all men of the Kid Field Artillery, a unit of the National Guard, because of the recent incident in which several members of the unit were reported to have been killed in an explosion at a ammunition depot.

The demand was made by the commanding officer of the unit, who stated that the incident had occurred under circumstances which made it impossible for the unit to continue in service.

The National Guard Bulletin further reported that the commanding officer had recommended the discharge of all men of the unit, pending an investigation of the incident.

ROSEBURG, June 30—The Roseburg Distilling and Bottling Company, a subsidiary of the Buffalo Mills in Seattle, was granted a 20 day appeal by the Washington State Liquor Control Board. The appeal was based on a finding that the company had failed to comply with the provisions of the act.

The company is currently engaged in the manufacture of alcohol for medicinal purposes and has been granted a temporary permit to continue operations during the appeal period.
