

SUFFRAGISTS HONOR PIONEER OF CAUSE

Mrs. George Bass Entertained by Portland Women.

LUNCHEON IS JUBILATION

Event Celebrates Winning of Vote as Well as Being Tribute to Distinguished Leader.

Club women of Portland gathered at luncheon in the Hotel Portland yesterday to meet Mrs. George Bass, Chicago club woman, prominent in liberty loan and suffrage work, and to celebrate the extension of the right of suffrage to the women of the United States.

Mrs. Bass, who was the principal speaker, told of her early suffrage days and of hearing in her girlhood Susan R. Anthony speak in the little Wisconsin town in which Mrs. Bass lived.

"Miss Anthony was referred to in laudatory terms in the newspapers," she said. "There was a feeling among men and women alike that she really urged individual advocating something which would destroy the glamour surrounding woman. I saw her later in more pleasant surroundings when she could be made much of and not have to apologize for any of her opinions."

Mrs. Bass explained that only recently women have been able to realize the need of the vote, not for themselves, but to assist men in effecting wiser government.

Chicago Fight Recalled.

"In Chicago 15 years ago," said Mrs. Bass, "we began to realize that the city needed us as part of its governing body, because the men of Chicago had not the time to attend to its governing. They had left the business of government to professional politicians, who had made of it their private spoil."

The speaker explained the social reform bills which the women had been instrumental in getting passed and of the juvenile court reforms effected through women's action.

"The women of this country want to do something for their government and not have something done for them. They will have a part in the government and will bring to their work a spirit of dedication to their task."

Mrs. H. B. Torrey Speaks.

Mrs. H. B. Torrey responded to the toast "Where the West Begins." Mrs. Torrey said that she had a great deal of confusion between what is east and what is west and that she determined that the west is not a place at all, but a state of mind.

She said in distinguishing easternness and westernness of mind that when a speaker started by saying that never had he seen a fairer city of more beautiful women, this man was bound to make a plea against suffrage and was an eastern man.

Mrs. Curry Reads Poem. Mrs. Charles Curry, chairman of Multnomah county in the last liberty loan drive, read an original poem on "Where East Meets West," stating that there is really no dividing line between the two, for they are one.

Mrs. Helen Ekin Starrett reviewed the suffrage fight, speaking on the "Journey We Have Just Passed Over," she told intimate experiences of her conversion to suffrage at the time when she was the wife of a home missionary in Kansas.

Accident Victim From Dorena. COTTAGE GROVE, Or., July 1.—(Special.)—A little girl, Marie De Marco, was killed in an automobile accident at Portland Sunday.

WOMEN! DRY CLEAN THINGS AT HOME Try it! For a few cents you can dry clean everything.

Save five to ten dollars quickly by dry cleaning everything in the home with gasoline that would be ruined by soap and water—suits, coats, waists, skirts, lace, gloves, shoes, furs, draperies, rugs—everything!

Place a gallon or more of gasoline in a dishpan or washbowl, then put in the things to be dry cleaned, then wash them with Solvite soap. Shortly everything comes out looking like new.

Nothing fades, nothing shrinks. A long list of field and street sports and boxing contests has been planned. In the afternoon there will be a baseball game between Chehalis and Camp Lewis at Millert field.

CHEHALIS SET FOR 'FESTO' July 4 Celebration to Wake Up Southwestern Washington.

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 1.—(Special.)—All preparations are complete for the annual "Festo" at Chehalis July Fourth. Judging from the activity of the committees in charge the 1919 celebration will eclipse anything of the kind ever held in southwestern Washington.

MORNING PICTURE NEWS

Dorothy Dalton, in dramatic cinema featuring action, "The Lady From Red Butte," which will open at the Columbia theater today.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES.

Majestic—Alice Brady, "The Indestructible Wife"; feature pictures of Jack Dempsey in training. Columbia—Dorothy Dalton, "The Lady of Red Butte." Star—Jess Willard, "The Challenge of Chance." Liberty—Norma Talmadge, "The New Moon." Peoples—Elsie Ferguson, "The Turn of the Wheel." Globe—Nazimova, "An Eye for an Eye." Circle—Vivian Martin, "Mirandy Smiles."

"The Lady From Red Butte" which was reviewed last night by Manager Raleigh preparatory to showing this picture at the Columbia theater for a three-day run commencing at 11 o'clock this morning, centers about the story of a "respectable lady gambler."

Dorothy Dalton takes the lead of the western girl who upon inheriting her father's gambling house continues to run it and at the same time conducts a place respected by all the inhabitants of that section of the country. A religious fanatic disturbs the even tenor of the little community and holds the gambling proprietress responsible for the sins of Red Butte. A relentless fire which consumes the entire village with the exception of the gambling house brings a surprising contrast to this drama of western life.

Screen Gossip. Suffering from a nervous breakdown and under the constant care of a special nurse in a diet sanitarium, Elliott Dexter is now reported to be considerably improved, but still far from a return to work.

All is in readiness for Monroe Salisbury to start production under Rolin Sturgeon's direction on "Sundown Trail," a story of "the west that was," written by J. G. Hawks, author of many of William S. Hart's successful plays.

Mary MacLaren returned from San Francisco last week, where the night scene was made for Fannie Hurst's "The Petal on the Current," which Tod Browning is making into a six-reel production.

SEATTLE OFFICER IS DUE

COLONEL INGLIS RETURNS TOMORROW AFTER WAR WORK.

Led 4th Infantry to Rhine, After Varied Career in Charge of Other Regiments.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.—Colonel William M. Inglis, leader of the 161st infantry until it was broken up in France for replacements, and later commander of three other regiments in the line, will return to Seattle Wednesday, according to a telegram received today by his brother, C. H. Inglis. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Colonel Inglis, for years before the entry of the United States into the war, commanded the second Washington infantry, which was called into federal service and sent to Camp Murray, American Lake, in the summer of 1917. The unit was sent to France and designated the 161st infantry, but never had an opportunity to make a battle record as a Washington organization because of its being chosen as a replacement regiment.

The 19th infantry was the next regiment to which Colonel Inglis was assigned as leader, the 113th and 4th following during the American offensive in the closing months of the war. He commanded the fourth on the march into Germany and relinquished the command only after he had established it at Coblenz and had been ordered home on sick leave.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 1.—(Special.)—The outstanding feature of the Call-being interrupted, have just been staged out in Hollywood. One was a scene from "The Love Burglar," a picture starring Wallace Reid, and the other—the interrupted ceremony, an episode in a new Brant Washburn picture titled "Love Insurance."

William S. Hart, "Arctur" star, has been made a member of the Tipi Order of America. "This is to certify that William S. Hart (Brave Wolf) is a member of Tipi Order of America in good standing—a worthy adopted member of our race—accepted to take his degree of our order when called. May 15, 1919. Attest, Red Fox Skuhshahu, Most High Chief," reads his card of membership.

Harry Raff, general manager of the Schenck studio, takes issue with certain well-known authors, who recently have said that film producers cannot expect the support of big authors when their works are hacked beyond recognition in their adaptation to the screen. "Nearly every piece of fiction written has to be considerably altered when adapted to the screen," says Mr. Raff. "The simple reason that it is fiction and not real. What we want for the screen are situations, not words. When the big authors can give us these they will find that their stories are not being 'hacked to pieces.'"

Mr. DeMille has been assigned the mountains from Hollywood to Santa Monica, the Verdugo mountains and the northern and eastern ranges of the San Fernando valley. Cecil B. DeMille has added one more duty to his list of activities. To him goes the honor of being the first civilian aerial forest fire observer. The duties of his new position are as many as the title of the work is long.

Dustin Farnum has been compelled to withhold his name from the telephone directory out in Los Angeles. His calls have been averaging 40 to 45 daily and each call has to be made to Mr. Farnum personally on "important business." These callers usually were strangers who wanted to see him, or to act in the movies, or to read him their stories, or even to borrow money.

Under the working title of "The Eternal Mother" the fourth of the Florence Reed series of feature photoplays has been commenced. Lionel Atwill, recently leading man for Frances Starr in David Belasco's production of "Tiger, Tiger," and formerly prominent in support of Nootka in her Ibsen season at the Plymouth theater, has been engaged for the leading male support.

California apple market, according to C. W. Hooker, sales manager of the Apple growers' association's Los Angeles branch office, has been the decreasingly short period, each year of the past three, during which the southern California orange harvest slows up apple consumption. "Formerly," said Mr. Hooker, who is here to make his annual report, "we expected our market to go to pieces for six weeks or two months until the people got their fill of oranges. Last year the fall in apple sales was hardly perceptible."

Mr. Hooker declares the world war has been a boon to apple growers in that it has demonstrated to jobbers that the fruit can be handled by them after reaching a high price.

To enable an injured person to be laid on a bed with a minimum of discomfort a stretcher has been invented that is made in two sections, held together by a thin steel rod that is withdrawn to separate them.

PRIEST QUILTS HIS PLACE

RESIGNATION OF OTTO NOOY STIRS THE DALLES FOLK.

Parish Leader Is Presented With Automobile as Token of Esteem in Which He Is Held.

THE DALLES, Or., July 1.—(Special.)—All precedents of the Catholic church have been broken here by the resignation of the Rev. Father Otto Nooy, for the past six months priest of St. Peter's church, who has given up the priesthood to enter the contracting business with John D. Frank. The firm is to be known as Frank & Nooy, contractors.

The remarkable incident ends a bitter factional fight in the diocese which was brought about when Father Nooy was ordered to give up the church here to go to Ontario, Canada. A delegation of prominent members of the church and supporters of Father Nooy made a special trip to Baker to intercede with the bishop. Their appeal for the retaining of Father Nooy was not successful.

Deciding that they would show their friendliness for Father Nooy his supporters then purchased for him a large automobile in appreciation of his valuable services to the church. The machine was purchased by popular subscription.

Another priest was named to take over the church here, and opponents of Father Nooy then maintained that the automobile should go to the new leader, it was declared. Father Nooy then notified his congregation through an advertisement in a local paper that all persons making contributions toward the automobile with the understanding that it was to go to the new priest could receive the money subscribed by applying to him.

More trouble is said to have followed, resulting in the resignation of Father Nooy from the church. He has disclaimed all right to priesthood, and is now busily engaged with his partner in erection of a new modern garage on Second street.

CENTRALIA DOCTOR HOME

Captain David Livingstone Serves in Army of Occupation.

CENTRALIA, Wash., July 1.—(Special.)—After 18 months' service in France, Captain David Livingstone, Centralia physician, returned yesterday. Captain Livingstone went to France as commander of company M, 161st infantry, composed largely of Centralia boys. After the signing of the armistice he was sent into Germany with the army of occupation.

G. P. Gladson returned home Sunday after more than six months' service in France with a hospital unit. During the 30 days before the cessation of hostilities the soldier was under almost constant shell-fire. The operating room of the evacuation hospital was destroyed by fire, but all of the patients, 16 of them under the influence of ether at the time, were safely removed.

Try to Raise Bread Without Yeast. You Can't Do It! And you can't build and maintain a strong body unless you put all the required material into it. You must have something besides mere flesh-forming food. That's why Grape-Nuts is an ideal food, for besides ordinary nourishment, it contains the mineral elements of the grains—material absolutely required for building and maintaining the right kind of nerves and bone and blood and brain and brawn. Some foods lack these elements. Grape-Nuts provides them. No raise in price to consumers during or since the war.
