President of National Association 71 Years of Age.

FIGHT MADE ON RIDICULE

Services as Preacher Discontinued to Take Up Temperance, Suffrage and Social Purity Work.

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, died at her home in Moylan, Pa., near here, at 10 o'clock this evening. She was 71 years old.

Dr. Shaw was also chairman of the woman's committee on the coast of the national defense, and recently was awarded the distinguished service medal for her work during the war.

Dr. Shaw came from England to this country, an unknown pioneer, girl of 4 years, and through her marriage eventually became the president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association.

From her Michigan home Dr. Shaw went to live with one of her married sisters in a northern town. After studying at Albion college from 1872 to 1875 she was graduated from the Boston School of Theology in 1878, paying her way through school and college by preaching and lecturing.

After seven years' service as preacher to a small flock at East Dennis, Mass., Dr. Shaw resigned from the pulpit to take up the fight for temperance, suffrage and for social purity.

Dr. Shaw first became a lecturer for the Massachusetts Women's Suffrage Association, and from 1886 to 1892 was national superintendent of franchise work.

On the resignation of Dr. Shaw's most intimate friend, Miss Susan B. Anthony in 1890, the presidency of the National Woman's Suffrage Association rested between Dr. Shaw and Carrie B. Chapman, whom Miss Anthony finally chose as the more experienced, while Dr. Shaw was made vice-president.

Dr. Shaw was made vice-president at large. However, in 1894 Mrs. Chapman was compelled to resign on account of ill-health, and Dr. Shaw succeeded her as president of the national association from 1894 to 1915.

Her administration was marked with unprecedented progress. The year 1912 was the banner year for Dr. Shaw and the cause, when Arizona, Kansas and Oregon received full suffrage.

Many times during her earlier career, and determined nature. On one occasion the free religious group of which she was pastor, wished to give a dance on the night of the annual church fair.

The proof of which is this: In the middle of probably the hottest afternoon that has occurred during the Christian era, some two thousand men and women made their perspiration way to his training quarters, lured thither by the prospect of seeing the last bit of public training he was scheduled to undertake before entering the ring.

Huns hinder U. S. relief. American Officers Detained While in Baltic Provinces.

Paris, July 2.—Because German officers have interfered so persistently in American relief work in Baltic provinces, a German officer has been appointed to liaison duty with Colonel Grooms, the American commander in that region, under a guarantee that he will be protected.

NAVAL WARFARE DISCUSSED

Battleships Not Built for Purpose of Attacking Land Fortresses, Says Sir Cyprian Bridge.

LONDON, July 2.—(Special Cable.)—The interview with Admiral Reinhardt von Scheer in his retirement near Weimar is given marked prominence in the British press. The New York correspondents of the Times, Daily Telegraph and some other newspapers called copious extracts from the remarks and criticisms made by the former commander of the German high seas fleet.

They laid stress on Admiral von Scheer's expression of opinion that German warships at Scapa Flow had been sunk by their officers and crews and upon the admiral's statement that, had Admiral Jellicoe displayed the "spirit of Nelson" and attacked with the British grand fleet, he would have won the war in its early stages.

Interview Widely Read. The interview has been widely read by naval men here and most of them have a tendency to believe that Admiral von Scheer was talking for home consumption.

Ships Built for Sea Fighting. "That is all wrong. Nelson never pitted his ships against land fortresses. Nor were our ships built to attack such fortresses in this war. They were built to be pitted against an enemy's vessels. Nelson always tried to lure enemy vessels from their harbors. It was not our policy needlessly to risk our ships early in the war by attacking enemy bases, but we were ready for them should they have come out. They remained in port."

Some people seem to think that the battle of Jutland should have been like a decisive football game, said the British expert, but Jutland was one of the greatest battles in history, but there were many battles afterward before the war ended.

SUMMER SCHOOLS POPULAR

Between 800 and 900 Idaho Teachers Take Special Training.

LEWISTON, Idaho, July 2.—(Special.)—Enoch A. Bryan, commissioner of education, visited the state normal school yesterday on business connected with the new administration building, which is soon to be erected. He addressed the students and faculty, calling attention to the fact that of the 3800 teachers employed in Idaho between 800 and 900 were doing work in summer schools of the state. Commissioner Bryan said: "There are more than 300 enrolled in the German fleet at Scapa Flow Sir Cyprian observed simply: "It is just a breach of parole. The Germans sought an armistice and then violated this part of its terms."

Lewiston normal summer session, 225 in Albion 175 in Boise and 100 in Pocatello. This large increase in summer normal attendance over previous years is indicative of the growing demand for more thorough training on the part of teachers. About one-third of those attending summer normal schools in the state are entering the profession this year."
