

ARMY LIMITATION PLAN IS APPROVED

Rules for Rhineland to Be Discussed With Allies.

AUSTRIAN TERMS DELAYED

French Displeased at Proposal to Try ex-Kaiser in London, Fearing Old Blood Ties.

PARIS, July 7.—(Special by wireless.)—Premier Lloyd George's revelation of a hitherto unheard of pact between himself, President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau which limits the annual cost of the armies of occupation to 200,000,000 marks (about $40,000,000) after Germany begins the disarmament process, has caused astonished interest among the members of the American peace mission. Secretary Lansing let it be known that he is entirely unimpressed as to the existence of such an understanding, and as far as could be learned today nobody else is any wiser than the American secretary of state. American opinion generally tends to approve such an arrangement, which implies the reduction of allied armed forces on German soil at the earliest possible moment, thereby affording Germany a surer opportunity to rehabilitate herself.

Tentative to Give Views.
By consent of the council of five the German delegates at Versailles will have a chance to air their views on the system of occupation planned for the administration of the Rhineland, when, for the first time, they meet the recently appointed economic commission, of which the French ambassador is the American member. The question of the execution of the clauses of the treaty that deal with reparations is also likely to be broached, although the Germans are less eager to discuss this phase of their troubles.

London Trial Disliked.
The French are not wholly content with the announcement that the ex-kaiser will be tried in London. They are fearful that English dramatic influences, so closely attached to ties of blood to the Hohenzollern family, may prove overmastered to the imperial criminal. Moreover, there is a natural disappointment that France, William of Hohenzollern's second principal victim, should play a secondary role at his trial.

GERMAN FLEET IS DISCUSSED
Majority of Nations Appear to Favor Destroying Ships.
PARIS, July 7.—The commission of admirals appointed by the allied mission to consider disposition of the remaining German warships, reported today that no recommendations on the question are possible until certain matters of policy have been decided by the powers.

CLEMENCEAU VISITING RUINS
French Premier Tells Folk That Reconstruction Now Leads.
PARIS, Sunday, July 6.—Premier Clemenceau today began a visit to the devastated regions, entering the zone of restricted warfare at Quentilly. The premier encouraged the people to question him and bring forward any complaints which they had to make, and they were not slow in doing so.

MINORITY RAPS DRY LAW
This article by appropriate legislation, and the bill presented is wholly upon the theory that the action of congress is supreme, and totally ignores the concurrent power of the several states. The minority report further says: "That the bill goes beyond the prohibitions of the constitutional amendment, particularly in defining intoxicating liquors" so as to include beverages that are not in fact intoxicating.

New York Case Cited.
In the recent case in New York, where this statute was construed, it was held that only intoxicating beverages were included, and that beer containing 2.75 per cent of alcohol by weight was within the statute only if intoxicating, which was to be determined as to other questions of fact. Whether or not the original act of November 21, 1918, can be sustained as valid under the war act, it seems to us at this date, under the peace conditions that now exist, congress is wholly without power to extend the provisions of that act so as to include all beverages which contain in excess of one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, and call them intoxicating.

War Time Held Fast.
"War activities have ceased, the treaty with Germany has been signed, orders for the demobilization of the army will have been carried out in a few weeks, contracts for supplies for the army have been cancelled, control of the wires by the government has been ordered terminated and restrictions upon trade have practically been all removed. As to all other subjects of legislation congress is proceeding upon the theory that the war is over.

SECRET RULE IS ALLEGED
The minutes in the report read into the record was a letter by Judge Gary advising the committee it was disregarding the laws "supposed to regulate business."

Press Censorship Suggested.
Chairman Graham frequently was interrupted by members of the committee. The minutes showed that Philip Patchin, chief of the state department's division of foreign intelligence, first suggested a press censorship. He was described by Chairman Graham as "a free lance news correspondent."

Defiance Is Told Of.
Minutes of the council were read to the committee by Mr. Graham, together with a report in which he asserted the council assumed such broad powers that Major-General Goethals, former chief of the purchase, storage and traffic division of the war department, defied it; cabinet members protested against the activities and Judge Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, accused it of operating in "flagrant violation of law."

Plans Laid Long Ago.
"Behind closed doors, weeks and even months before war was declared," he said, these seven men designed practically every war measure which congress subsequently enacted. They devised the entire system of purchasing war supplies, planned a press censorship, designed a system of food control and selected Herbert Hoover as its director, and even determined on the daylight-saving scheme.

Goethals' Actions Related.
"Our soldiers were actually dying of pneumonia in the camps because of lack of proper clothing and blankets," Mr. Graham said, "and General Goethals assumed the duties of quartermaster-general only on condition he should be free to scope in the performance of his duties, unimpeded by the council of national defense."

Policy Is Discussed.
"Afterward," Mr. Graham declared, "when there was evidently a discussion in congress as to the illegality of members of the committees on the council buying from themselves, the council discussed this general policy and it was suggested that this embarrassment might be removed by the plan of the committee reorganization now under consideration."

War Time Held Fast.
"War activities have ceased, the treaty with Germany has been signed, orders for the demobilization of the army will have been carried out in a few weeks, contracts for supplies for the army have been cancelled, control of the wires by the government has been or-

HOLLAND TO GIVE UP EX-KAISER IF ASKED

Prince Consort Is Reluctant to Discuss Situation.

GERMANY'S WORD AWAITED

"If Berlin Makes Demands for ex-Emperor, We Must Yield," Says Visitor at Berne.

(Copyright by London Daily News. Published by arrangement.)
LONDON, July 7.—(Special cable.)—"Hearing that the prince consort of Holland was in Switzerland, I succeeded in tracing him to Berne and he accorded me an interview this evening," a special correspondent of the Daily News at Berne telegraphed. "I laid before him a report of Premier Lloyd George's announcement, concerning the trial of the former Kaiser in London. The prince consort, naturally, was reluctant to discuss the question. Shrugging his shoulders and pursing his lips, he shook his head in the negative and said: "I cannot talk of these things. We are in the same position as Switzerland. We have given hospitality and we cannot meddle."
"But," I suggested, "supposing 23 or 24 powers sign a note demanding the extradition of the former Kaiser, what will Holland do?"
"Looking again at the reporter, the prince of Holland said: "I do not know what is in Premier Lloyd George's mind. Germany has signed an undertaking to deliver the former emperor for judgment and if Germany demands him we shall be obliged to yield to her demands."
"I asked the prince if he had seen the ex-kaiser or crown prince in Holland."
"No," he replied.

FOCH ASKED TO INTERVENE
Hindenburg Makes Appeal to Save ex-Kaiser From Trial.
COPENHAGEN, July 7.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, former chief of the German staff, has written Marshal Foch appealing for his support in efforts to prevent the extradition of the former German emperor. Von Hindenburg offered also to place his own person "fully and absolutely at the disposal of the allied powers."

New Peruvian Ministry Sworn In.
LIMA, Peru, Friday, July 7.—As a sequence to the overthrow of the Pardo government, with Augusto B. Leguia assuming the office of provisional president, a new ministry has been sworn in, headed by ex-Premier Meliton P. Porras, as prime minister and minister of foreign affairs. Provisional President Leguia is expected to issue a decree calling for general elections for senators and deputies throughout the republic, entirely reconstituting the present congress.
