Star Attraction Is Jasper MacFall's Chautauqua Chorus Which Is Doing Excellent Work.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME. Morning. 8-10—Physical culture, Professor H. T. Smith. 9-10—Home demonstration class. 9-11—Children's Chautauqua. 9-10—Chautauqua chorus, Jasper D. MacFall. 10—Sunday school teachers' training class, intermediate department; Bible hour, Oregon university. Afternoon. 1-30—Prelude, Fillion Concert company; lecture, "Worlds in Making," Dr. A. D. Carpenter. 4—Baseball. 4-5—Symposium, "The Women's Building," Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, regent state university. "The Crippled Children's Law," Mrs. John Van Zandt. "Motion Picture Censorship," Mrs. E. B. Colwell. Evening. 7-30—Prelude, Fillion Concert company; lecture, "And Now—What?" Edward F. Treitz.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—Monday is always a light day in point of attendance at the Chautauqua grounds, and today proved no exception to the rule. Jasper Dean MacFall's Chautauqua chorus proved the star attraction for the morning hour, and the constant practice is telling in the excellent work the chorus is doing. Mrs. M. T. L. Hadden and Mrs. Mabel Barton of the W. C. T. U. were the speakers at the forum hour at 11 o'clock.

McDonough-Eagleston were billed for one of their musical fun-making programmes at 1:30 o'clock, but their place on the programme was taken by Paul Petr, soloist, and R. W. Davis on the golden chimes. M. C. Reed, platform manager, was on the programme for the afternoon lecture and spoke on the "Value of a Vision," his lecture being based on one of the prophecies of Count Tolstoy. Mrs. Eva Emery Dye's symposium was presided over by Mrs. A. B. Manley, president of the Portland settlement center board. The speakers were Mrs. O. G. Davis, superintendent of the Portland settlement center, who spoke on the great need of the leaving influence of Christianity in the congested centers; Mrs. J. I. Millin, assistant superintendent, who discussed what was being done along the line of Bible study in our settlement centers; Mrs. H. Peterson, member of the board of managers of the settlement workers, who had as her topics "The Fun of Knowing Folks as They Are" and "Friendships When You Haven't Got a Cent." The children's orchestra, trained and led by F. F. Theroux, is a pleasant feature each day at the symposium hour.

RECORD CROWD GREET'S BRYAN Gladstone Auditorium Fails to Hold Interested Spectators. OREGON CITY, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—All records for attendance at the Gladstone Chautauqua were broken yesterday when more than 1,000 people passed through the gates. At 4 o'clock every seat in the auditorium was filled and the overflow was estimated at fully 400. Someone started "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and the audience broke into song, following with the old favorites, until the arrival of Mr. Bryan was announced at 8 o'clock. Mr. Bryan was a happy humorist and had his audience with him from the start. "As far as I can see this is the best Chautauqua audience I have ever addressed here. There is no better audience than a Chautauqua audience if you have a message to deliver," Mr. Bryan states. Once he thought of abandoning the Chautauqua platform for a period of four years, but his offer was not accepted. Mr. Bryan spoke on reconstruction and its problems. "One learns by experience, and my experience has taught me patience and I have learned how to keep reform come," he said. "The great prophets have had their day of discouragement. Reform moves slowly, but let me call your attention to two reforms that have been accomplished since I became interested in politics. One the election of United States senators by popular vote. The second the income tax, which only came in time for us in the nation's wealth, the burden of carrying on the great world war. Previously wealth had been above the man." Mr. Bryan said he had only one word for a 2 per cent tax, and he had lived to see a 10 per cent tax and in special cases 60 per cent. "I predict that within one year 36 states will have ignored woman's suffrage and woman will take her place in sharing the responsibilities of government. If this government had followed woman's advice instead of business men's advice the nation would have been blotted out years ago. Another reform which gives me joy is the abolition of the liquor traffic. My party for 60 years had been known as the liquor party, but when the white flag of prohibition was raised over the nation's capital it was done by a senate and house with democratic majorities. We asked for seven years to ratify the prohibition amendment and we needed only a little over one. We needed only 36 states to ratify and we have 45.

"We are going out now to convert the world for prohibition. I am 59 years of age, yet I expect to live to see the day when the whole world abolishes the traffic. "The soldier problem confronts us. It is the duty of every citizen to see that every soldier has the right to go back to the place where he enlisted and have a fair start in taking up the work of civil life. By public works we can absorb all the surplus labor. I believe in good roads. Mr. Bryan paid a glowing tribute to the Columbia highway when he said that he came over the highway this morning and he could truthfully say that no finer road could be found in the entire world. Mr. Bryan strongly indorses the league of nations and urges its adoption as a means of preventing future world wars. He also believes in government ownership of railroads and telegraph and long-distance telephones, with each community owning and controlling its local telephone lines.

School Head Resigns. VANCOUVER, Wash., July 14.—(Special.)—W. M. Kilpatrick, for the past two years superintendent of the State

School for the Deaf at Vancouver, has tendered his resignation and it is reported that it has been accepted by Governor Hart of Washington. Mr. Kilpatrick succeeded Thomas P. Clark, who left here for Arkansas. It is rumored that Mr. Clark may be re-appointed.

MAN CRUSHED IN ELEVATOR

W. C. Schuette, Meter-Reader, Is Killed in Ainsworth Building. William C. Schuette, 34 years old, a meter reader for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, was killed instantly yesterday by being crushed in the elevator in the Ainsworth building. He is said to have tried to climb into the car as it started from the basement to the first floor of the building. Mrs. Lillian McGinnis, 330 Russell street, operator of the elevator, fainted after the accident and was revived at the emergency hospital. Mrs. McGinnis, who had taken Mr. Schuette into the basement, told police she had started up when he made a dash for the cage. His foot slipped and he fell on the floor of the car. Before the operator could check the cage Mr. Schuette had been crushed between the basement ceiling and the floor of the car. Mr. Schuette was unmarried and lived in Hilop hall. His parents live near Newberg, Or.

STARS AND STRIPES HERE

Copies of Final Edition of Overseas Paper Arrive. The Stars and Stripes, the newspaper of the American expeditionary forces, has gone out of business. Copies of the final issue of the paper found their way to Portland yesterday. The main feature of the final issue is a pictorial supplement, showing a photographic history of the American expeditionary forces from the first camp to St. Nazaire to a Siberian snow scene and the American "Watch on the Rhine." Among the men whose work helped to make the Stars and Stripes a success, are nine Oregon men, five of them well-known Portland newspaper men. They are Seth T. Bailey, Frank W. Barton, Claude M. Bristol, Linton L. Davies, Harry A. Ketterman, Charles J. Kraebel and Rex H. Lampman, all of Portland, and Elbert H. Charman of Oregon City and Lloyd J. Ruble of Astoria.

LEGION FORMED AT VALE

Dr. Frank J. Brown Is President of Malheur Organization. VALE, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—Organization of the Malheur County Great War Veterans association of the American Legion has been completed and the first regular meeting will be held at Vale the first Sunday in August. The county post will be known as the Julian Lowe post in honor of Corporal Julian Lowe of Ayrwick who made the supreme sacrifice. The Malheur county veterans are the first of eastern Oregon to organize. Officers: Dr. Frank J. Brown, Vale, president; Glenn N. Brown, Ontario, first vice-president; Charles Anthony Ironside, second vice-president; Charles Cochran Ontario, treasurer; R. R. McCabe, Vale, secretary, and Rolla Roberts, Vale, personnel secretary.

HOUSE RAIDED FOR LIQUOR

Two Women, Two Men Arrested and Whisky Reported Found. VANCOUVER, Wash., July 14.—(Special.)—A raid on a house located at the corner of Fourteenth and F streets, made last night by W. W. Laws, deputy sheriff, and police officers, resulted in the arrest of Clara Lillie, alias Evelyn Ross, May Ross, alias May Hunt, charged with having intoxicating liquor in their possession, and William T. Lindley and Roy S. Buckley on charge of disorderly conduct. It is reported that four quart bottles of whisky were found besides a quantity of homemade and brewery beer. The door had to be broken in by the officers in order to gain an entrance.

POLICE TO CLEAN UP LOTS

Property Owners Have Until Wednesday to Avoid Costs. Property owners whose property is filled with weeds and high grass, have but a few days in which to clean up. Police officials have been issuing warnings for the clean up, in compliance with an order issued by Mayor Baker, and Wednesday a force of men from the department of public works will begin to clean up any lots still in bad order. The charge for cleaning will be assessed against the lot. Seeds from weeds on neglected lots, it is said, spoil well-kept lawns nearby.

WELL IS DRILLED 175 FEET

Operations Delayed Owing to Encountering Surface Water. ABERDEEN, Wash., July 14.—(Special.)—The Standard Oil company well near McElips, drilling of which started Saturday, reached a depth of 175 feet this morning after less than 30 hours drilling. Surface water was hit at that level and operation was suspended until this can be shut off by putting down 15, one-quarter-inch casing. Operations are expected to be resumed Saturday. The drillers expect to be going through hard rock next week, which will slow up drilling progress. The first 1000 feet however, may be drilled in 30 days.

25 GET WOUND BUTTONS

Three Portlanders Among Applicants at Recruiting Station. Among the first 25 wounded soldiers to apply at the army recruiting offices in this city yesterday for their silver victory buttons were three Portland men—Charles G. Block of 328 Morrison street, Benjamin F. Davis of 322 Salmon street and Carl W. Knapp of the Hotel Oregon. Ex-Sergeant Block stated that he was riding on a railroad engine which was blown off the track behind the Soissons front and turned over twice by the explosion of a German air bomb. Benjamin Davis, formerly a private in battery A, 14th field artillery, was wounded by shrapnel during the Meuse-Argonne offensive. Carl Knapp was one of the last men wounded in the war. He sustained a wound from a German machine gun just 15 minutes before the armistice went into effect on November 11. A supply of the silver victory buttons was received at the recruiting office yesterday. They will be distributed to men wounded in action. One thousand of the bronze buttons already have been distributed, and 29,000 more are to be awarded as fast as they can be received from the manufacturer.
