

THOUSANDS SAID TO BE IN SEDITION PLOT

New York Committee Told of Radical Activities.

I. W. W. LEADERS BLAMED

Garment Workers, With Membership of 70,000, Alleged to Favor Soviet Form of Government.

NEW YORK, July 17.—James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, testifying today before the joint legislative committee investigating radical and seditious activities in this state, declared that the I. W. W. had organized many thousands of workers throughout the country on a platform which included in its plank one calling for the destruction of the American government.

As an evidence of the wide sweeping plans of the I. W. W., leaders were read into the testimony, in which I. W. W. leaders urged European and South American workers to join in a scheme for an "international revolutionary industrial union." One of the most ambitious projects was the organization of the marine workers of the two Americas and the mariners, European countries into one big union.

The most fruitful field found by the radicals in this country, according to Mr. Holland, is in the garment industry, the second greatest industry in the United States.

Asked what were the principles of the organization formed by the I. W. W., among the garment workers, Mr. Holland replied: "They don't believe in government. They preached that behind closed doors and now some of them preach it out of doors."

The witness was then asked if it ever had been brought to his attention that the Almagamat Garment Workers favored a soviet form of government.

"It has not only been brought to my attention, but has been rammed down my throat," replied Mr. Holland. "But the majority of the workmen and women are American. First and foremost, a soviet, a soviet would be us ourselves."

LYNCHING IS SUGGESTED

MEDFORD AUTHORITIES GUARD PRISONER, FEARING MOB.

Former Portland Doctor Is Facing Serious Charge Preferred by Applegate School Teacher.

MEDFORD, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—Dr. Edward de Reymonte, who claims to be a former Russian officer and veteran of the Japanese-Russian war, was in jail here today, charged with an offense against Miss Jean Doe, an Applegate schoolteacher, 20 years old, whose correct name the authorities refuse to divulge.

Dr. Emmens at once called the police and Reymonte was arrested. According to the police Reymonte denied the charge and said the young woman, who was brought to his office at noon Wednesday, was in a highly nervous state and insisted upon remaining there under treatment until early in the morning.

Reymonte came to Medford a few months ago from Portland, where he said his wife and children now reside. Because of the young woman's prominence and excellent reputation local feeling was high and talk of a lynching party led to special precautions being taken to guard the prisoner. The hearing was set for tomorrow afternoon.

VANCOUVER WORK IS TOPIC

WAR CAMP COMMUNITY SERVICE SEEKS GIRLS' AID.

Movement Is Begun to Transfer Miss Grace Hall From Tacoma to New Field.

Organization of Vancouver girls to assist with the War Camp Community Service of that city was the subject of a conference of welfare workers who gathered in Portland yesterday.

Mrs. Norman Christie, girls' worker for the Portland War Camp Community Service, was in charge of the meeting. Among those in attendance were Miss Grace Hall, girls' worker from Tacoma War Camp Community Service; E. Shadler, in charge of the Vancouver War Camp Community Service and Soldiers' and Sailors' club; Tam Deering, War Camp Community Service organizer from the Aberdeen (Wash.) section; E. Tucker of the Portland office.

Efforts are being made to bring Miss Hill from the Tacoma office to be in charge of the girls' work in Vancouver. Mrs. Jane Burns Albert has been appointed leader of a victory chorus, such as she organized during the victory Rose Festival for the Portland War Camp Community Service.

The Aberdeen section has decided to maintain its War Camp Community Service organization permanently, turning it Community Service, according to announcement made yesterday by Mr. Deering.

FRENCH BRIDE DESERTED

INTERPRETER EXPLAINS TO JURY AND EX-SOLDIER JAILED.

Husband Begs Forgiveness but Young Wife Wants Means of Her Support Assured.

Barney, under the name of Clyde O'Neill, married the girl in France last January. Eight months before he was due to be discharged from the service, he obtained his release by pleading the illness of his young wife.

Barney pretended to read to his wife a supposed letter he had written his parents telling them of the match, but the letter was never written and his father and mother did not know of his marriage.

To bring his young bride to America, Barney borrowed the money from his parents. Two weeks after arriving in Portland with her, Barney left her. That was three weeks ago.

An information of felony was filed by Miss Lida O'Brien, deputy district attorney, Wednesday, when the matter was brought to her attention by C. Henri Labbe, French consul, and members of the Red Cross to whom the young French women had gone for aid.

In jail, Barney asked his wife if she would not come back to him and live in Cascade Locks where he could get a job, working for his father, R. C. Barney, a contractor. She replied that she would not, unless she received some sort of assurance that he would not desert her again.

"Haven't you any confidence in me?" he pleaded.

"No," she replied, the negative in French being easily understood.

H. A. BRUBAKER ARRESTED

Indictment Returned for Non-Support of Wife.

Harry A. Brubaker, who is well known in the younger set as a fraternity man at Washington high school, was arrested yesterday.

Brubaker followed her husband to Portland from Boston to insist that he provide for her. She met Brubaker at a warehouse on West Third in Pensacola. Six weeks after their marriage she returned to her home in Boston, where he later followed her. She asserts he borrowed $150 from her brother, and after being mustered out of service in February returned to Portland without making provision for his bride.

Brubaker lives at 575 East Fifth street North. He is said to contend that he is financially unable to support his marriage before he was able financially to care for a wife, but that he had intended to provide for her.

POSTAL PROBE HERE ASKED

Chamber of Commerce Delays Faction Sought in East.

Investigation of postoffices in 50 of the larger cities of the United States is to be undertaken by the United States chamber of commerce, according to word received at the Portland chamber Wednesday.

The national organization is carrying on the inquiry in an effort to determine if the alleged muddle in the postoffice department is due to trouble at Washington or is merely the result of various local disorders.

The Portland chamber, in considering the matter, decided to send further inquiries to the national chamber at Washington, as it was agreed that no serious difficulties were evident in the Portland office. Selection of a committee to carry on the local investigation has been deferred.

SALEM, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—Boston bonding attorneys who in a telegram received here yesterday by the state board of control questioned the validity of the transcript of the sale of $300,000 worth of highway bonds sold Tuesday to Henry Teal of Portland, today approved the transfer of the securities, according to a message received at the capital.

In yesterday's telegram it was stated that the $10,000,000 bond bill, had nullified the Bean-Barrett federal-aid act.

IRELAND IS AT WAR, DECLARES DE VALERA

President of "Republic" Says Peace Treaty Not Binding.

ADDRESS IS DELIVERED

Hibernians in Convention Will Hear Appeal From Erin for Freedom From England.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 17.—A state of war exists between Ireland and England, Eamonn de Valera, provisional president of the "Irish republic," asserted upon his arrival here this afternoon on route to San Francisco to address the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of the United States and Canada.

"David Lloyd George, the British premier, had no authority to represent Ireland at the Paris peace conference," declared De Valera. "Ireland was then and is now, by right, an independent nation. Ireland was not represented at the peace conference and is not bound by its acts. The Irish people, united as never before, will never quit fighting until they have thrown off the British yoke."

In an address delivered later he said: "In putting the case of Ireland squarely before the American people, it is a question as between England and Ireland, between right and might, and I have no doubt of their verdict. The Irish question is not one of a racial fight among Irishmen, no matter how much English politicians may strive to make it appear just that. The Irish people by an overwhelming majority have voted for complete independence.

"Nor is it a religious question, despite efforts of our enemies to make it appear in that light. When the republic was proclaimed religious freedom was made a principle of the government, and if that government is allowed to operate, every man will be allowed to worship God as he pleases."

AMERICA HELD WORLD LEADER

Irish President Says Others Look for Direction of Moral Thought.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Eamonn De Valera, provisional president of the "Irish Republic," speeding today on a special train to San Francisco, where he will be the central figure during the remaining sessions of the national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, telegraphed to the San Francisco Bulletin a message in which he characterized the United States as moral leader of the world.

"The cause which American public opinion aligns itself behind today as being just, the whole world will accept and support tomorrow," he said. "The clear evidence of the sincerity with which the Americans support the cause of democratic government in Ireland is to me the greatest surety that government by the consent of the governed will obtain in Ireland and that our people will no longer be compelled by military force to live under a sovereignty which they do not desire and never have desired."

MR. RILEY LURES PASTOR

NEW YORK LECTURE SENDS DR. McELVEEN WEST.

Minister, Occupying First Congregational Church Pulpit, Finds Oregon Is Delightful.

"I walked right away from Frank Branch Riley's lecture and over to the telegraph office, where I sent a telegram to say that I was coming to Portland," said Dr. William T. McElveen, pastor of the Manhattan Congregational church of New York, who has been occupying the pulpit of the First Congregational church of this city for the past three weeks.

Mr. Riley's eloquence and the photographs which he showed of the Oregon country were directly responsible for overcoming a prejudice Dr. McElveen had for making a long trip during the summer to occupy the Portland pulpit.

It is no secret that the trustees of the church here had been doing their best for some time to persuade the New York minister to pay Portland a visit. They had all but given up hope, however, when a telegram came in which Dr. McElveen promised to make the summer trip. How the telegram came to be sent is a story casting an interesting sidelight upon Mr. Riley's eastern lectures on Oregon.

"I was endeavoring to entertain a friend one evening and as we were leaving the hotel wondering where we would go we noticed an placard advertising Mr. Riley's lecture on the Oregon country," said Dr. McElveen. "I suggested to my companion that we attend the lecture, taking a back seat so that we could make our getaway when the talk became tiresome.

"But it was far from tiresome, and when the address was over I went up to Mr. Riley and told him I was going to Portland. I threatened that I would not even in with my companion, but everything as he had pictured. I sent a telegram to the Portland people immediately afterwards."

It is understood that Dr. McElveen is considering an informal call to the Portland church, although no announcement has been made. Yesterday he declined to comment upon the possibility of his remaining here, although he pronounced himself as wonderfully impressed with the Oregon country.

"I find the reality every bit as beautiful and delightful as the photographs," he said, "and I feel indebted to Mr. Riley for introducing me to the west."

MURDER SUSPECT IS HELD

SECOND ARREST IS MADE BY HOQUIAM AUTHORITIES.

Willard Jarvis Is Accused of Complicity in Death and Robbery of John Alberta.

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 17.—(Special.)—In the arrest late yesterday of Willard Jarvis, age 20, of Aberdeen, the fifty and eighth authorities believe they have added to their evidence in clearing the mystery of the murder of John Alberta, whose bullet-riddled body was found in the Humptulips river on July 2, and, in connection with other crimes, C. F. Ashburner, 18 years old, is being held in the county jail.

It is believed to have been the victim of two men, with whom he had gone out in an automobile. Ashburner was arrested when his motor car was found at a garage covered with blood. The authorities' suspicions were aroused by Jarvis' actions, following the crime, when he hurriedly left the city.

Alberta was murdered and robbed. The man was known to be carrying considerable money, as he had drawn several hundred dollars from the bank in a mill a few days previous. To body was identified by Alberta's brother.
