Road Work Inspected

SALEM, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, has returned here after a tour of inspection of the road work in progress in Coos, Curry and other coast counties. Mr. Nunn says operations are entirely satisfactory and that hundreds of miles of highway will be improved during the present year.

Storm Visits Linn County

LEBANON, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—Eastern Linn county was visited yesterday by a heavy electric storm which was very severe in the vicinity of Cascadia and the Hurricane's Deck country, on the middle fork of the South Santiam river. As a result there are not less than 11 separate forest fires in the latter section, and men are being rushed into the mountains to put them out before they get under way. Most of the fires so far are

GEOLOGISTS TESTING LAND

SURVEY OF DESCHUTES RESERVOIR SITES COMPLETED.

Attempt Made to Ascertain Whether Water Stored in Basin Will Escape.

BEND, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—Detailed examination of the land in the Benham falls storage reservoir site was started today by government geologists headed by Professor W. O. Crosby of Boston.
Large ship augers are used in the work, and borings 20 feet in depth are being made over the entire tract to ascertain whether the soil is of a character which will permit water stored in the basin to escape. Wells in the Deschutes valley, nine to 20 miles from Bend, where the investigations are being carried on, show a constant supply of water, but it is intended to make the findings on this point absolutely definite.
If conditions are found favorable, recommendation to the United States reclamation service for the construction of a dam to impound water sufficient for the irrigation of 100,000 acres in central Oregon will be made.
A general survey of the reservoir sites of this section of the state was completed yesterday afternoon by the geologists. At Twin lakes a typical glacial formation, similar to that in northern Minnesota, was found.

SHEEP HERDER IS JAILED

Passing of Worthless Checks at Eugene Charged.

EUGENE, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—George Martin, a sheep herder of Shaniko, is in the Lane county jail accused of passing a number of worthless checks. He was arrested at noon yesterday at the Hotel Speed in an alleged intoxicated condition.
Martin passed a check on a Shaniko bank for $25 at Vick Brothers' garage. E. C. Simmons, manager of the garage, telephoned to Shaniko and learned that Martin had no money on deposit there. Later Martin is alleged to have passed a $20 check at the United States National bank, signed the name "A. J. Conly" and stating that he was a sheep owner with a big herd at McKennie Bridge. He registered at the Hotel Osburn under the name of Conly and passed a $5 check there. Investigation by the bank and the officers revealed the fact that Martin is a sheep herder.

SPARKS START BIG FIRE

DRIVER OF HEADER NEAR MILTON RESUSCITATED.

Eighty Acres of Wheat Consumed, Two Men and Six Mules Suffer Burns.

MILTON, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—The big fire Wednesday afternoon on the Vonderhaar brothers' wheat ranch, northeast of this city, was started by a spark carried by the wind from the threshing machine engine to some loose straw. This in turn set fire to a large field of wheat on which the men were working with two headers and accompanying header wagons.
The threshing machine, one header and all of the header wagons got out of the way of the flames. The second header was caught in a circle of fire. The header was completely consumed by the flames and six mules were badly burned. The driver who was completely prostrated, was resuscitated when the men applied wet sacks and water. Two other men suffered burns on the feet.
Work was resumed Thursday. Eighty acres of wheat was consumed

LINN THRESHING IS BEGUN

County's Record Yield Is Valued Near $2,000,000 Mark.

LEBANON, Or., July 25.—(Special.)—Winter wheat in Linn county is largely in the shock, and the largest yield of wheat raised in Linn county for many years is practically safe. Threshers in this part of the county started today. If the weather stays dry most of the machines of the county soon will be in full operation. There are about 30 machines in Linn county, which will turn out about 2,000 bushels daily. The value of the grain harvest of the county this year will be around $2,000,000.
