

BELA KUN REACHES VIENNA AS PRISONER

Deposed Head of Hungarian Soviets to Be Interned.

EX-DICTATOR IS FIREARM

Fall Follows Threat to Fight to Death—New Government Aids Recognition by Allies.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 3.—Bela Kun, deposed Hungarian soviet leader, has arrived in Vienna, where he will be put in an internment camp, according to a dispatch from Vienna received today.

VIENNA, Aug. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bela Kun, who resigned his virtual dictatorship of Hungary, is reported to have arrived here as a fireman on a freight train. The report is that he is now at the Hungarian legation with the acquiescence of the German and Austrian governments. No information concerning the report could be obtained as the legation was closed until Monday.

Fighting in Streets Threatened. According to the newspapers Bela Kun, in refusing Thursday the proposal of General Bissini, his minister of war, to hand over the government to the socialists, declared Hungary would remain a Hungary of soviets and that the proletariat would defend the system of councils to the last drop of blood, even to the extent of fighting in the streets of Budapest.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new Hungarian government, through the Italian mission at Budapest, has sent a message to the peace conference asking for the establishment of relations with the conference. The conference in reply said it expected the new government to comply with the terms of the armistice, and hoped the establishment of an orderly government in Hungary would make possible the resumption of economic relations.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The supreme inter-allied council sent a message yesterday to the Roumanian army, along the Tisza river, to cease its advance upon Budapest immediately. The council earnestly awaited further communication from the new Hungarian government at Budapest today.

No Threat Against Hungary.

The note, which the supreme council communicated to the new Hungarian government through the Italian mission in Budapest, was temperate in tone, showing that the disposition on the part of the peace conference to assist the Hungarian people in an effort to create a stable government need not in any sense be considered a threat of violence against the new government. It laid stress, however, on the necessity for Hungary to comply with the terms of the armistice and disarm completely. Roumanian and Czechoslovak, in addition to the other Balkan states, have urged the complete disarmament of the Hungarians immediately, and the peace conference apparently is disposed to take every possible step to prevent further military action on the part of the Hungarians.

In conference circles confidence is expressed that the Roumanians will not take the Hungarian capital against the will of the supreme council.

PARIS, Aug. 2.—(Havas.)—The Roumanian and Czechoslovak delegations sent to the peace conference today communications that urged the necessity of immediately disarming the Hungarian forces, the Temps says today.

FLIER PLAYS SAMARITAN MAN, "BROKE," GETS LIFT FROM SACRAMENTO.

Lieutenant Franzen Reaches McMinville With First Commercial Plane Over Siskiyou.

MEMINVILLE, Or., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Lieutenant Leonard E. Franzen, who piloted the airplane of the Beaver flying squadron, which arrived here today, bears the distinction of being the good Samaritan of the air. George Padden, a young fellow broke and out of a job, begged a ride of Lieutenant Franzen and got the lift from Sacramento to Medford.

Lieutenant Franzen's machine was the first commercial plane to fly across the Siskiyou mountains to the Willamette valley, making the trip without mishap at an elevation of 5000 feet. In the deep canyon of the Oregon canyon the aviator maintained an altitude of 7000 feet. He says he noted numerous landing places, however, that might have been negotiated in an emergency.

The distance from Sacramento to Medford was 1000 miles and took 10 minutes, with two stops en route. This plane is of the regulation army type, specially equipped for performing aerial stunts, which renders it safe for the commercial use of the corporation consisting of Lieutenant Franzen, Floyd D. Brown and Ralph Wortman, a local banker.

BUYERS TO GATHER TODAY

(Continued From First Page.) Merchants' association, which will open a three-day's session in the green room of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. A feature of the programme of the session this year, at which several hundred Oregon merchants will be present, will be an open forum Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, at which members will voice suggestions and complaints, as well as offer business innovations for discussion.

Paul V. Morris, of the Oregon Agricultural college and the United States department of agriculture, on Tuesday will lead a discussion on "Community Development."

Convention to Open Tomorrow. The convention of the Oregon retailers will open at P. M. tomorrow, although registration will start at 9 o'clock that morning. The address of welcome will be given by Nathan Siskins, chairman of the general committee for visitors buyers' week, and the convention will be opened by G. Clifford Barlow of Warrenton, president of the Oregon Retail Merchants' association. State Secretary L. B. Merriek of Portland will address the organization and discussion of community development will follow.

On Wednesday two meetings will be held for discussion of interests vital to the merchants. Among the topics to be taken up are the following: Business hours, burglary and burglary insurance, linking local newspapers with county merchants, knowledge of finance in business, the cash and carry plan, federal luxury tax, government control as affecting retailers, problem of local charities and subscriptions, benefits of local co-operation and extending credit with maximum safety.

Officers' Election Is Thursday. Thursday morning's session will be spent in further discussion of retailers' problems, and during the afternoon the annual business session will be held. Officers elected and the next convention city selected.

The officers of the Oregon Retail Merchants' association are: C. Clifford Barlow of Warrenton, president; A. J. Marsters of Roseburg, first vice president; W. A. Barrett of Albany, second vice president; J. G. Spodgrass of La Grande, third vice president; L. E. Merriek of Portland, secretary; Thomas C. Watts of Roubers, treasurer.

Two other conventions are announced for the week, also closely allied with buyers' week. They are the Oregon Pharmaceutical convention and the meeting of the Northwest Furniture Dealers' association. The three conventions, augmenting buyers' week itself, will make the coming six days unusually busy ones for the Portland jobbers and manufacturers.

Other events of unusual interest scheduled for the week will swell the total attendance of outsiders here to several thousand. On Thursday, August 7, the party of officers and directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce will arrive and pass the day, as will also a party of 150 New York people touring the west under the auspices of the Brooklyn Eagle. On August 8, 9 and 10 members of the National Editorial association, 210 strong, will be in Portland and vicinity for a session and entertainment at the hands of Portland and Oregon people.

BELLA KUN'S FALL TOLD

which have resulted in removing this officer from Hungary. It is only the truth to say that American initiative and energy were principal reasons for their being driven through to a successful conclusion. One of the entente representatives was so indifferent and so skeptical of results that he telegraphed to his government that nothing would come of the negotiations. He has been left to his own thoughts since and will probably learn of the events in Budapest when the public does.

I am in a position to give the history of the negotiations which were begun with Agoston, a representative of the Bela Kun government, who came here for the purpose, and General Bohm, a former commander in Bela Kun's army who is now bolshevist ambassador at Vienna. Others took part, but these were the principal ones. For the entente there were Colonel Sir Thomas Cunningham of the English mission; Prince Borghese, for Italy; M. Alliso, for France, who participated part of the time, and Captain Gregory of the American relief administration.

Terms Submitted to Bolsheviki. The basis of the negotiations drawn up and presented to the bolshevist leaders was as follows:

First—The assumption of the existing dictatorship, in which complete control of government ought to be invested.

Second—The dismissal of the communist Bela Kun government, the repudiation of bolshevism and the complete cessation of bolshevist propaganda.

Third—A dictatorship to bridge over the period until the constitution of government representative of all classes.

Fourth—The immediate cessation of all acts of terrorism and of confiscation and seizure.

Fifth—The immediate calling on an entente advisory body.

Sixth—The raising of the blockade and the immediate undertaking by the entente to supply food, coal and assistance in opening the Danube.

Seventh—No political persecutions.

Eighth—Ultimate determination respecting the socialization to be left to the permanent government.

Bolsheviks Accept Terms. These points were agreed to by the bolshevist negotiators subject to the approval of Bela Kun. The entente representatives sent the eight points to Paris for consideration. The result was the statement issued by the supreme council Paris on Sunday, August 27, in which it was said that the entente was anxious to arrange peace with the Hungarian people and bring to an end conditions which made impossible the economic revival of central Europe.

The statement added that if the entente was to do anything for Hungary it must deal with a government which represented the people and not with one based on terrorism, translated into Hungarian and German and was given the widest publicity in Hungary. It was distributed in every way possible and undoubtedly did much to further favorable negotiations. This counter propaganda, coupled with the Russian advance and the preparation of the threat of an advance from Slovakia, furnished the necessary power to force the Bela Kun government to terms. So sure were some of the entente representatives that the thing would go through that they sent for Garant to come from Switzerland several days ago. The American relief administration has also made preparations for the shipment of food when the moment comes.

KUN WEEPS STEPPING DOWN. Red Leader Admits Flight Hopeless and Is Forced Out.

VIENNA, Aug. 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The downfall of Bela Kun, virtual dictator of the old Hungarian soviet government, and the flight he made almost alone to maintain the peace that had lasted the three to four months for months, is described in dispatches received today and by refugees from Budapest.

Final action in upsetting the communist government took place Friday at the meeting of the central council of revolutionary workers and soldiers at Budapest. Zoltan Ronay, former minister of justice, announced the government's resignation. He explained that the dictatorship of Bela Kun, effective March 2, was based on three assumptions, namely:

World revolution, military aid from MEXICO CONDEMNS LAND AMERICAN PROPERTY ADJACENT TO TOWNSITES DESIRED.

4500 Acres of Timber and Farms Ordered Taken Over by Government of Chihuahua.

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 3.—Forty-five hundred acres of farming and timber lands, valued at $112,000 (gold), belonging to American and Canadian companies have been ordered condemned and taken over by the state government of Chihuahua under article 27 of the Mexican constitution. John C. Hayes, general manager of the Babcocks Cattle company, was notified yesterday of this action, as were the Madera company officials.

The lands include 2500 acres belonging to the Babcocks company, owned by the estate of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, and approximately 2000 acres belonging to the Madera lumber company, a Canadian corporation.

Much of the Madera company's property consists of timber land, but includes the water works constructed near the American lumber town of Madera.

The land was ordered condemned by the state agrarian commission under the law which permits municipalities to condemn lands adjoining townsites for the use of the people residing within the towns. These lands are to be paid for in state bonds and the price is fixed arbitrarily by the state agrarian commission, Mexican attorneys here say.
