Labor Council Officers Agree Not to Permit Any Addresses by George, Who Is Worth $17,000, to

Be in Town With Circus.

Mrs. Rena Mooney will be permitted to speak in Portland municipal audito-rium Saturday night. Such was Mayor Baker's decision on the request of Harry Anderson, presi-dent of the Central Labor council, for permission to use the building. The mayor, however, requires that officials of the labor council guarantee that in-dustrial Workers be prevented from spreading their propaganda at the meeting and that no persons save Mrs. Mooney and labor officials introducing her be allowed to speak. These condi-tions have met with the approval of labor officials, and arrangements for the mass meeting now are in progress. Mayor Baker leaves no doubt as to his opinion of L. W. W. members who might take advantage of the opportu-nity to spread revolutionary propa-ganda. George, said to be the largest hippopotamus in captivity, is coming to Portland.
