

F. C. OXMAN ASSAILED BY ORGANIZED LABOR

Mass Meeting Condemns Letting of Highway Contract.

MRS. MOONEY IS SPEAKER

Resolution Protests Against Allowing Bomb Case Witness to Handle Public Improvement Work.

Award by the Oregon state highway commission of a contract for construction of a portion of the Haines-Baker road to Frank C. Oxman, one of the prosecution's witnesses in the trial of Thomas J. Mooney, who was convicted of murder in San Francisco on charges growing out of the preparedness day bomb explosion, has met with a vigorous protest from organized labor in Oregon.

Without a dissenting vote, the several thousand persons who attended the mass meeting Saturday night in the public auditorium to handle Mrs. Mooney's address adopted resolutions presented by Otto Hartwig, president of the state federation of labor, branding Mr. Oxman as an undesirable citizen and unworthy of the trust and consideration of decent people. The motion for adoption of the resolutions was made by Harry Anderson, president of the central labor council, went on record as protesting against the action of the state highway commission in permitting Mr. Oxman to handle money of the citizens, and calling upon Oregon citizens to refuse to work under his direction.

Resolution Goes to Governor. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to Governor O'Leary, the state highway commission, the Mooney defense committee, and the press. Mrs. Mooney's address was the occasion for one of the largest labor gatherings seen in Portland in months. She reviewed in detail the trial and conviction of her husband and co-defendants upon testimony she insisted was perjured, and compared the witnesses of the defense with those of the prosecution, practically all of whom, she said, had been discredited either by themselves or by others.

The photographs taken by the Y. M. C. A. boy on the roof of the building where Mrs. Mooney and her husband claim to have viewed the preparedness day parade, showing Mr. and Mrs. Mooney on the building, was exhibited. Mrs. Mooney donned the blue jacket, trimmed with white buttons, which she wore on the day of the explosion, and which was shown in the photograph.

Fickert Is Attacked. At one point in her address she referred to the presence of District Attorney Fickert, now in a sanitarium. "I hope he dies," came a voice from the audience.

In reply to this, Mrs. Mooney said his death would not remedy the causes that brought about "persecution of innocent people at the hands of a powerful corporation." She asked the support of labor in carrying on the defense and in preparing for new trials.

Mrs. Mooney will speak at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the shipwrights' picnic to be given on Rock Island for the benefit of the state chamber.

In compliance with Mayor Baker's request that only labor officials and Mrs. Mooney appear at the general union meeting, President Hartwig of the state federation acted as chairman, and introduced the principal speaker. The collection for the fund amounted to $200, which will go into the Mooney defense fund.

NATIONAL CHAMBER'S NEW HOME ASSURED

UNIONS' DEMANDS DEcriED

Railroad Labor Plans for Ownership of Roads Held Impossible—Atlantic City Gets 1920 Meet.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 10.—Announcement that a $2,500,000 home for the Chamber of Commerce of the United States would be erected in Washington, D. C.; issuance of a statement opposing the railroad labor unions' plan for ownership of the railroads, and selection of Atlantic City as the 1920 meeting place, marked Saturday's executive session of the national chamber directors here.

The directors today also selected the railroad labor unions' plan for ownership of the railroads, and selection of Atlantic City as the 1920 meeting place, marked Saturday's executive session of the national chamber directors here.

Next year's meeting will be held prior to September 24.

Plans for erection of the chamber's home, it was decided, would be raised by geographical apportionment.

The directors today selected a man to be national vice-president for the Pacific northwest district, but did not announce his name pending his acceptance.

Demands Held Impossible. Demands of the railroad labor unions, said the statement issued, "constitute a definite programme for government ownership," and "the overwhelming trend of sentiment through the United States is opposed to government ownership of such enterprises. It was pointed out, would increase the public debt $20,000,000, severely strain the credit of the nation and depress the value of the liberty and victory bonds held by millions of people."

Government ownership, characterized as disastrous wherever tried, would retard development of the railroads and throw the lines into politics, the statement added.

The national chamber now holds an option of a site for its proposed home across Lafayette square from the White House. The building, to be five stories, of white marble or granite, will also be in the nature of a memorial to the part played by American business men in winning the war.

Mayor Ole Hanson Speaks

Selective admission and scientific distribution of newcomers was advocated as a solution of the immigration problem by Mayor Ole Hanson, Seattle, in a luncheon talk before the visiting directors today.

The mayor suggested that all Europeans intending to come to America to live be required to sign a questionnaire giving all facts about themselves, their needs and qualifications. The United States government then could select the best of the applicants and could assign them to various parts of the nation where their services might be utilized. By this scheme, the mayor said, farmers of Europe need not be working in the west would not be needing men while New York would be facing a labor surplus.

Berkeley Booms "Nuts"

ROUNDUP OF IVORY-HEADED SPECIES IS STARTED.

Shooting Affray Conducted by Discharged Assistant Impels Taking of Mental Census.

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Following the shooting affray last Monday on the University of California campus, when Roger Sprague, a discharged assistant, ran amuck with a revolver, shot professors Edmund O'Neil and J. H. Hilsenrath, and tried to murder Mrs. May Cheney, a quiet clean-up of "nuts" on the campus has been started. All those who are "queer," who smile about their condition, or who are morose when there is apparently no provocation, are being carefully listed and catalogued for elimination. At least one who holds a full professorship has already been listed.

A dozen or more lesser lights have been "spotted" and any number of students and assistants will be informed that their presence on the campus is no longer desired.

The clean-up will be conducted entirely along academic standards. Strict secrecy will be maintained as to the identity of the undesirable. There will be no sensational raids to mar the harmony of academic Berkeley. But the "nuts" must go.

Just how the university authorities will proceed is a subject of conjecture. It is an easy matter to dismiss those not wanted, but to bar them from the campus is another matter. It is pointed out that Sprague had been discharged for six weeks before he attempted his wholesale killing. The Berkeley police have been called into consultation and ways and means are being devised to make the campus safe.

Tanlac Is a Perfectly Wonderful Medicine," Mrs. Josephine Freeman Says.

Mrs. Josephine Freeman of 647 Towne avenue, Los Angeles, Cal., a graduate nurse who had practiced her profession for seventeen years, recently made the remarkable statement that she has not only been relieved of a case of stomach trouble of ten years' standing by the use of Tanlac, but that she had also gained twenty-two pounds in weight.

When asked if she would be willing for her experience with Tanlac to be published, Mrs. Freeman said: "Yes, indeed, I feel that I would be doing anyone suffering from stomach trouble and a rundown condition a good turn by getting them to take Tanlac. For ten years I have been having trouble with my stomach. I could not eat anything without suffering intense pain afterwards, and at times I would bloat up so with gas and such pains and pressure around my heart that I would almost faint. I became so nervous that I could hardly get any sleep or rest and got so run down and weak that I could scarcely keep my work as a nurse. I, of course, used all kinds of medicines and did everything possible but could never get more than just a little temporary relief.

"Finally a friend of my husband, who had been relieved of the same trouble by taking Tanlac, advised him to have me try it, and right from the first bottle I began to feel better. My appetite came back, my blood circulation improved wonderfully, and my nerves began to quiet down. I can eat just anything I want now and never have the least pain or trouble afterwards. I sleep soundly every night and I feel rested and refreshed on getting up in the mornings. When I began taking Tanlac I was weighing only one hundred and thirty pounds, and now I still losing. But now I tip the scales at one hundred and fifty-two, making an actual gain of twenty-two pounds in weight. I feel stronger and more active than I have for years. I am glad to give credit where it belongs."

Mr. Mulligan said the Knights of Columbus war work was being rapidly diminished and only 500 secretaries now remained overseas.

The port of La Havre, France, where soldiers by the tens of thousands first set foot on European soil in the battlefields, and later embarked for their homes, is virtually deserted by the American army, according to information brought here today. Officers returning on the La Savoie report that only one captain, 30 soldiers and a chauffeur remain there.

MEXICAN IS TRANSFERRED

CONSUL-GENERAL DE NEGRI IS SENT TO NEW YORK CITY.

Powerful Movement for Intervention Feared by Carranza—Tab to Be Kept on It.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—President Carranza of Mexico has caused a decided sensation in local as well as eastern diplomatic circles by transferring to the New York consul-general, Ramon De Negri, his duties, Consul-General Ramon De Negri of this city. De Negri became persona non grata to Secretary of State Lansing several years ago while living in Washington, D. C., as the acting-ambassador of Mexico. This led to De Negri's being transferred elsewhere, much to the regret of both Carranza and General Obregon.

Both of the latter look upon De Negri as one of Mexico's most promising diplomats, and they have always wanted him stationed in the national capital, or near there. His transfer to New York is looked upon as a partial realization of their hope ultimately to have him return to Washington as ambassador.

De Negri had been held in this city awaiting a good opportunity to station him in the east. The New York appointment was the first favorable change to promote him again.

De Negri is credited with first having informed Mexico City that Senator A. D. Fall of New Mexico was in some way corresponding with Villa.

Both before and after coming to this city the diplomat also reported to Carranza how influential fuel oil and other interests in the United States sought to stir up trouble in Mexico in the hope of compelling American intervention.

Week before last Senator Fall was forced to explain in the senate how his name happened to be mentioned in connection with a proposed personal meeting with Villa.

Powerful New York people are believed by De Negri to be working for American intervention and, it is said, he has been ordered to New York city to watch such developments, and also to keep tab on Senator Fall, who was yesterday appointed chairman of a committee by the senate to investigate attacks on Americans and their properties in the southern republic.

De Negri, like Obregon, hails from the states of Sonora and Sinaloa, and
