

ALL KLAMATH FALLS FOLK WELCOME ELKS

Southern Oregon City Keeps
Open House for Guests.

OVER 4000 ARE EXPECTED

Advance Guard Arrives, With Big
Body to Come on Portland's
Special Train During Day.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—"Bill" is king in Klamath Falls and will reign supreme during the three-day session of the Elks' convention that will be officially opened Thursday morning. Close to 1900 Elks were in town late Wednesday night having come from Medford, Ashland, Eugene, Bend and towns throughout the state.

Three thousand more are expected to be registered by noon on Thursday, with the arrival early tomorrow morning of the big Portland special that will no doubt bring 1000 or more Elks from the Rose City and valley lodges.

All is in readiness for the full carrying out of the big convention program. Tomorrow morning will be given over to the registration of the delegates. An auto sightseeing tour is planned in the afternoon, as well as a ritualistic contest between Medford and Portland lodges for possession of the Kennedy cup.

Portland Mayor Arrives.
Mayor George L. Baker of Portland arrived Tuesday night from Medford after viewing Crater lake in company with the National Editorial association. He will be the principal speaker at the grand assembly Thursday evening.

Plans for the big barbecue Friday afternoon at Harrison Lodge are progressing rapidly. Three thousand Elks and their families will be fed in the great outdoor amphitheater that has been constructed. Stunts by the various lodges will follow the barbecue.

Salem is coming with the sole purpose of securing the 1920 state convention. Indications are that she will be pressed all the way by Marshfield and Pendleton lodges, who will also be in competition for the gathering next year.

Vote to Be Saturday.
The decision will be made Saturday morning, as will the election of state officers for next year. Saturday afternoon the victory parade, with 2900 Elks in line, will be held.

The entire town will be turned over following the parade for the merry-making, and the 1919 Elks will pass in the greatest display of hilarity that Klamath Falls has ever witnessed. It is expected.

SALEM ELKS TRAVEL SOUTH

Delegation of Over Hundred Departs for State Meet.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—More than 100 Salem Elks left here today for Klamath Falls to attend the annual convention of the state lodge, which opens there tomorrow.

The local delegation has distinctive caps and badges, and anticipate little difficulty in bringing the 1920 convention to this city. A programme of stunts will be put on by the Salem Elks during the meeting.

Two trains carrying Elks from many northern cities of the state passed through here shortly after noon and are scheduled to arrive at Klamath Falls early tomorrow. Two Pullman cars were required to accommodate the Salem delegation.

CIGERO HINES IS DEAD

PIONEER OF 1848 PASSES AT GALES CREEK HOME.

Veteran Carried Across Plains as Lad of Two Years on Horseback
While Father Drove Oxen.

FOREST GROVE, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Cigero Hines, one of the early well-known pioneers of Oregon, died at his home at Gales Creek on Monday.

He was born in DeKalb county, Missouri, February 4, 1848. He was the son of Thomas M. and Mary Buckham Hines, who crossed the plains in 1848 when he was 2 years of age, his mother riding horseback, carrying him on her lap and driving the loose cattle while the father drove the ox team.

They arrived in Yamhill county September 25, 1848, where they resided a short time, then moving to a donation claim in Patton valley, Washington county, where they lived until 1858, when they moved to Forest Grove.

On December 2, 1864, Mr. Hines enlisted in the United States army as a member of company B, first Oregon volunteer infantry. The regiment was sent to Fort Boise and Fort Hall, Idaho. They took part in minor engagements with the Indians and were returned to Vancouver, Wash., and discharged in 1865.

He was married in 1871 to Miss Ada Bell, a native of Oregon, who survives him. They have five children, George M., Thomas P., of Gales Creek; T. E., of Newport; Mrs. Nellie Proctor of Tillamook and Mrs. Clara Smith of Patton valley.

The funeral services were conducted by J. B. Matthews past, G. A. R.

OREGON'S SKIPPER PICKED

CAPTAIN WETTINGILL TO BE ON BRIDGE AT REVIEW.

Men Drafted From Other Ships of Fleet Will Be Crew of Historic Craft at San Francisco.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Aug. 12.—Captain Ivan C. Wettingill, commander of the cruiser Montana, will command the famous old battleship Oregon when President Wilson, aboard that historic craft, reviews the new Pacific fleet at San Francisco, according to an announcement made here today by Lieutenant-Commander E. A. Lucas, flag secretary.

It had previously been suggested that Captain Charles C. S. Newell, who was in command of the Oregon on its memorable voyage around the Horn during the Spanish-American war, should be on the bridge again for the San Francisco review. This, however, was found impracticable.

The Montana is on the way to Bremerton, Wash., where it will be placed in "reduced commission," having barely enough crew to man it. It is taking north men enough from the fleet to put the Oregon into commission. The dreadnought New York, with Secretary of the Navy Daniels aboard, left early today for Honolulu. It was conveyed by the destroyers Chauncey, Dent, Waters and Philip.

Other groups are preparing for visits of a day or two at Long Beach, Santa Monica, Redondo Beach, Venice and Newport. The rendezvous before sailing for Santa Barbara August 18 will be off Santa Monica. The period between August 19 and 24 will be devoted to visiting ports between San Pedro and San Luis bay, including Ventura and Santa Barbara.

Some night this week, probably Friday, a dance will be given on board the New Mexico. Admiral Rodman's flagship. An event of this kind was held aboard the Wyoming last night, about 1000 guests were present.

Pedro visiting the dreadnought to dance with the officers and men. To their disappointment they found so many had been given shore leave that there were too few aboard to provide partners for all.

WOMAN AGAINST SESSION

MRS. L. T. HIDDEN SAYS EXTRA EXPENSE UNNECESSARY.

Governor Is Advised That Large Element Does Not Care for Ratification Immediately.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—"As one of the real suffragists of our state I want to voice my approval of your action in regard to calling a special session of the legislature to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment," Mrs. Maria L. T. Hidden of 183 Laurelhurst avenue, wrote in a letter received at the executive offices here today.

Mrs. Hidden continued: "I do not want to be understood as being opposed to suffrage, but as an American citizen, as well as a suffragist, I feel that there are other things to be considered and guarded against. It would be a reflection on the business sense of the legislature to have the legislature convened and given the opportunity to ratify the amendment as they no doubt would do if they lived up to their usual previous records."

Anyway, there will be time enough to create the expense attendant to a special session of the legislature. The ratification of our state is needed for the ratification. It is amusing and disgusting to those of us who know what obstructionists those militant woman's party members have been and to read of their gobbling efforts in Salem.

Finally, dear governor, let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Be of good courage. The element of your constituency which believes you have done wisely will do all in its power to prevent the calamity of an indefinite session of the legislature, especially as the expenditures and anxiety of this reconstruction period.

Ivan C. Martin, representative from Marion county, emphasizes the need of enfranchising the women of the United States, and says he will attend a special session of the legislature without cost to the state.

'BARMAIDS' INVADE SOUTH

SAN FRANCISCO SOFT-DRINK
EMPORIUMS SEE CHANGE.

Rosy-Cheeked Girls Replace Fat
Men of Old, and Plan for Union in Near Future.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Barmaids—the kind who used to dispense the foaming ale to Falstaff and his rollicking crowd of rollickers—have invaded the cool emporiums of San Francisco. Today, the old John Barleycorn and the advent of "two-and-three-quarters," the gentler sex have taken possession of the cool emporiums of San Francisco. Today, the old John Barleycorn and the advent of "two-and-three-quarters," the gentler sex have taken possession of the cool emporiums of San Francisco.

What's yours? asked pretty Nell Noonan, who is head "soft-drink dispenser" at Matt's place in Mission street.

"Why, sure we like it," she continued. "I used to work in a theater, but this is more fun. We are going to form a union of 'soft drink dispensers.' Yes, we have quite a few women customers, but of course most of them are regular old customers."

Miss Jessie Johnson and Miss Dickie Morgan were waitresses before they adopted the new trade. They may many of the old-time saloons have opened the swinging doors to "barmaids" and that there are more than 100 girls so engaged here today.

FUNERAL PLANS ARRANGED

Delay Due to Doubt About Carnegie's
Religious Leanings.

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 12.—Plans for the funeral of Andrew Carnegie tomorrow were completed today except for some details relating to the ritual to be used. The arrangements are in the hands of Archibald C. Barrow, Mrs. Carnegie's secretary, but were withheld at her request.

Doubt as to the particular denominational faith Andrew Carnegie is believed to be one of the reasons for the delay in deciding upon the funeral services.

Reports connecting Mr. Carnegie with this or that church have no foundation, so far as is known here. While he contributed liberally to various denominations, he apparently was not a member of any church society.

BARN AND GRANARY BURN

Spark From Threshing Engine Believed to Have Started Blaze.

OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the large barn and granary and contents on the farm of Mrs. Emily Matthews, one mile south of Canby, Tuesday evening. The livestock in the barn was saved. A large amount of grain, just threshed, and owned by John Hinz, a neighbor, was also destroyed. It was the intention of Mr. Hinz to have the grain hauled to his farm Wednesday.

A spark from the engine of a threshing outfit is believed to have caused the fire.

Bend Chases Gypsies Out.

BEND, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Thieves of gasoline from automobiles caused the exodus today of a band of 30 gypsies who arrived here Monday from Burns. After numerous complaints had been received by city authorities, the vandals were ordered to leave in two hours by Mayor J. A. Eastes. They obeyed promptly.

Airplane Visits Mount Angel.

MT. ANGEL, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The first airplane to land near Mt. Angel arrived yesterday from Gervais, landing on the Charles E. Felt place. The machine was piloted by an army aviator, who has been operating it in neighboring cities the past few days. A number of local air fans took trips into the clouds.

THREE SERIOUS FIRES RAGING NEAR EUGENE

Blazes Started by Lightning in Recent Storm.

FEW FIGHTERS AVAILABLE

Flames at One Point Are Driven Into Heavy Timber; Millmen and Logging Crews Active.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 12.—Three serious fires are burning in this vicinity, two in the McKenzie river district and one at the logging camp of Lane Lumber company, about 20 miles from Eugene. One of the fires in the McKenzie district is partially under control, but the other already has spread over 70 acres and there are no men available at present to fight it.

The blazes are within four miles of each other and were caused by lightning in a storm which swept this section Sunday night. Twenty-nine others in the same and adjoining districts are burning slowly, but are causing no serious damage or worry to residents of that section or to the forestry officials.

The local office of the Cascade national forestry service has sent about a dozen men in the past few days to aid in fighting the fire and R. S. Wallace, superintendent, said today that they needed at least 35 more.

The fire on the Fischer Lumber company's land has been spreading slowly until noon today, when a wind came up and drove the flames into the heavier timber. The mill and logging crews at the camp were fighting the fire. Another small fire was reported in the slashings at one of the Booth, Kelly Lumber company's camps near Wendling, but so far has caused no alarm.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 12.—Fire which started in slashings on the shore of Coeur d'Alene lake near Harrison, Idaho, last night spread so rapidly that the forest service today sent 70 men from Spokane to combat the blaze.

While the timber is outside the reserve, it is feared that the flames may cross the forest boundaries. The fire is only a few miles from Harrison, but the town is not considered in immediate danger.

Ivan C. Martin, representative from Marion county, emphasizes the need of enfranchising the women of the United States, and says he will attend a special session of the legislature without cost to the state.

PRESCOTT, Wash., Aug. 12.—Fire late today destroyed 500 sacks of grain near here and only the hardest of work by 30 men prevented the loss of 5000 sacks more on nearby farms.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Lightning and heavy winds have again raised havoc with forest fires in the Payette and Idaho forest reserves and all the available men the forest service could muster are now combating the flames.

The West mountain fire on the Payette reserve, which started Monday, has already covered 500 acres.

Eighty men are at work there but the high wind of yesterday afternoon on three different occasions carried the flames beyond the dead tree line.

A second fire on Lightning creek, near the middle fork of the Snake, has assumed large proportions but is being steadily battled by 55 men.

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 13.—The fire situation in district No. 1 of the forest service, alleviated last week by rains, again has become exceedingly critical as the result of the dry, hot weather, with intermittent thunder storms, which have caused many new blazes to spring up in inaccessible spots. A new fire was reported above Bonners, a few miles east of Missoula. A troublesome blaze on Elizabeth creek, in the Chamberlain country of the Clearwater forest, also was reported.

FOREST FIRE COST IS $85,000

Lightning Causes 29 Blazes in Cascade Reserve.

Actual fighting of forest fires has cost the Oregon and Washington districts from July 1 to August 10 alone approximately one-half of the entire outlay for this year. The district forester's office has prepared figures for this period showing the expenditure of $85,000, an amount far above the average. The difference is largely due to the large number of fires in eastern Oregon, where serious configurations were few in the past two seasons.

Lightning Monday night caused 29 blazes in the Cascade reserve. Two were still burning yesterday.

Forty men yesterday were watching a big fire in the Wenaha forest reported Tuesday. Another has got under way on Looking Glass creek in mill property just south of the Wenaha. It was threatening national forest lands. Eastern Oregon also has another big fire in the Mire in the Minam forest.

A new blaze has been added to those still burning in the Colville forest of northern Washington. The others are all under control.

A letter yesterday from the supervisor of the Siskiyou forest in southern Oregon told of 18 fires set by lightning Sunday night. Because of the rain many of these were not discovered until the following day. Fire fighters have been sent to the areas in the Galice and Page creek districts.

SALEM BOARD TAKES LEAD

Capital City Is First to Provide for Part-Time Schools.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The Salem school board has taken on record as the first in the state to comply with the law passed by the last legislature, providing for part-time schools. Decision to this effect was reached at the regular meeting of the board held here today.

Van Meter for this work and she will devote half of her time to the teachers' training department and half to the work of the part-time schools. Preliminary to the regular school room work she will make a survey of the salaries and shops of Salem, in which boys and girls under 18 years of age are employed. ## PATROL HELD IN DANGER

OLCOTT PLEADS FOR CONTINU-ANCE OF AIR SERVICE.

Governor Hart of Washington Is Asked to Aid in Persuading
Government to Keep Busy.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Reports reaching Salem that the air service on the Pacific coast may be demobilized in the near future have caused Governor O'Leary to send letters to Governor Hart of Washington and Senators McNary and Chamberlain of Oregon, asking that they intercede and prevail upon the government to continue the department because of the excellent work being done by the airplane forest fire patrol.

The governor also has written to Colonel H. H. Arnold, department air service officer at San Francisco, informing him of his efforts to have the patrol service continued.

Governor Hart has been urged to take up the subject with Washington's delegation in congress and Senators Chamberlain and McNary are asked to confer with representatives of the far western states and use their efforts to prevent tampering with this service.
