Yesterday's Results.

"Lefty" Schroeder looked like a cool million yesterday after working in the box for the Beavers and hurling Portland to its second straight victory over Los Angeles, 2 to 1, the timely hitting of Lou Blue putting the game in Waiter McCredie's promising looking young twirler, who never looked re so than yesterday, was touched up for nine hits by the slugging Angels, but they were fairly well scat-tered. Nick Aldridge was on the mound for Los Angeles and was nicked for seven hits, three of them in the first frame, when Portland put across two runs. Nick was right, but did not get the breaks. The Beavers believe in putting the runs away in the early innings or waiting until the very last. Yesterday was one of those early inning affairs. Billy Speas, sweet as a leadaffairs. Billy Speas, sweet as a leadoff man, hit out a beautiful single to left field, right off the bat in the first liming. Tex Wisterail drove out a nifty hit to right. Biff Schaller walked, filling the bases. George Malsel flew out to Kenworthy. Lou Blue, the hero of many a hard-fought diamond batlie, slammed a single over second base, scoring Speas and Wisterail, Siglin flew out to Bates and Baker forced Blue at second, ending the liming.

Angels Brenk the Ice.

Scoreless ball resulted up to the fifth scoreism oan resulted up to the fifth inning, when Los Angeles put over its lone tally of the day. Waiter Boles stepped up to the rubber first in the fifth frame and popped out to Schroeder. "Rube" Ellis doubled to right field. Aldridge fiew out to Spean. "Red" Killefer singled to center. Ellis reaching hoppe. A few min.

right field. Aldridge flew out to Speas. "Red" Killefer singled to center. Ellis reaching home. A few minutes later Killefer tried to steal second and was nabbed by Del Baker, who had the hall down to Wes Kingdon in time to get the Angel manager with room to spare.

Schroeder had a bad liming in the minth, when three hits were garnered off of his delivery, and for a while it looked as though Los Angeles would edge over a ninth-inning victory. Sam Crawford went out on a fly to left field. Hay Bates came through with a hit over second base and "Kopecks" Kenworthy singled between third and short. Walter Boles hit into a double play, relieving the agony of some 1560 fans gathered for the afternoon's entertainment.

Tex and Blue Hitting Demons. Tex Wisterzil and Lou Biue had a healthy day with the bludgeon. Wisterzil registered three hits in four trips to the plate while Blue was good for two hits in three times up.

Yesterday's game was featured by semational catches on the part of play-ers of both clubs. Kenworthy made a leap in the air in the fifth inning to pull down Kingdon's hot one that earned him a big hand. "Red" Killefer broke into the applause column on the way hatter Hilly Speas when he made a shoestring catch in center field of Bill's tong drive.

Biff Schaller upheld Portland in the feature limelight by pulling Fournier's sure-looking hit off the right field fence in the sixth inning. Today's double-header will start at 1:30 o'clock The summary follows:

The national high diving for men is being held at Rye beach, N. Y., to-day. Clyde Swendson, of the Los Angeles Athletic club, is the only coast entrant. It was expected that Louis Balbach, Multnomah club's diver, would be entered, but he could not get away. Swendson will have as his main opponent Fred Spongberg, metropolitan champion, who is rated as the best diver in the east. Fans look to Swendson to bring the title back to the coast. Balbach held the title in 1215-16.

Swimmers of the country are moving and diving marvels, of Columbus, O., have moved to New York and are now swimming under the colors of the New York Women's Swimming association. Their reason for going to New York is given as more opportunity to make a name for themselves than in Columbus. The Amateur Athletic union recently established a new association, taking from the central association the state of Indiana. This caused Thelma Darby to move to Chicago, where she will live and competes hereafter. Miss Darby could not stand to be limited to meeting the swimmers of the new association and as the central offers more of a chance, made the change.
