

ROOSEVELT VOTED IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

Wilson Reads From Magazine Written in 1914.

50,000 IN GREAT AUDIENCE

President Speaks at San Diego From Glass-Enclosed Platform; Welcome Is Nolsy.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 19.—An extract from a magazine article written in 1914 by Theodore Roosevelt, was read by President Wilson in an address here today as an argument in favor of the league of nations.

The president quoted ex-President Roosevelt as having written in an article published in October, 1914: "The only permanent move for obtaining peace which has yet been suggested with any reasonable chance of attaining its object is by an agreement among the great powers in which each should pledge itself not only to abide by the decision of a common tribunal, but to back with force the decision of that common tribunal. The great civilized nations of the world which do not possess force actually or immediately potentially should combine by solemn agreement in a great world league for peace and righteousness."

"A very worthy utterance," by Theodore Roosevelt continued the president. "I am glad to align myself with such utterances as that. I subscribe to every word of it, and here in concrete form is the fulfillment of the plan which they advocate. We cannot in reason, we cannot as lovers of liberty, we cannot as supporters of right, turn away from it. And those who advise us to turn away from it—what are they afraid of? In the first place, they are afraid that it impairs in some way that long traditional policy of the United States which was embodied in the Monroe doctrine. But how they can fear that I cannot conceive, for the document expressly says in words which I am now quoting that it affects the validity of the Monroe doctrine."

Speaking to a cheering crowd which filled the great San Diego stadium, the president also quoted from Senator Lodge, one of the most bitter opponents of the treaty in its present form, and declared that in framing the league covenant, the Versailles conference had followed the advice of these and other republican statesmen.

"I am glad to align myself with such utterances," said Mr. Wilson, while the crowd cheered. "Here in concrete form is the fulfillment of the plan they advocated."

Applause is frequent. The address was interrupted many times by applause from the crowd which local officials estimated at more than 50,000. The great amphitheater with its seating capacity of 40,000 was packed, with thousands standing in the aisles and on the terraces above.

Speaking from a glass-enclosed platform, the president's words were carried out to the distant rim of the stadium by means of an electrical device. Only part of those present could hear him, however, and before he finished there were many empty seats.

San Diego gave the president a noisy welcome, factory whistles shrieking while the party passed up the street through cheering crowds. The first to a hotel, where he was formally welcomed by the city's officials. Later he was driven through the San Diego exposition grounds, where he entered the stadium the great crowds stood up and cheered, each waving a small American flag. In the center of the big horseshoe of seats, several hundred girls, dressed in white, were so seated as to spell "Welcome."

Representation is discussed. The president also discussed at length the objection that the British empire might have a preponderance of voting power in the league assembly. It was a "delusion" to be frightened at any such prospect, he said, because there could be no important action by the assembly without the concurrence of the American representative.

The assembly, said Mr. Wilson, was largely a debating body and as such it was only fair to give membership to the British colonies. It would be unjust, he said, to give votes to the small independent nations and exclude such great dominions as Canada.

Declaring that he had not been told the truth about what the treaty contained, Mr. Wilson added, while the crowd cheered again, that if the American public did know the truth, no man would have the audacity to take the risk of trying to impair such an effort toward liberty and justice.

Praising the labor and self-determination features of the treaty, the president declared that without the league of nations, the other peace terms would not be worth the paper they were written on. It was a "final decision" which the United States now must make, he added.

Los Angeles was to have been made tomorrow morning. The change will leave the whole day free, but he will attend a public dinner at 7 o'clock and will speak afterward at the Shriners' auditorium.

Although the president's health is said to be excellent, 16 days of travel and speech-making have been very fatiguing and Dr. Grayson is insisting that there be more opportunity for rest whenever possible. Mr. Wilson also has a slight cold. At the doctor's advice, he adhered strictly to the rule against platform speeches today at several California cities, where his train made brief stops.

Crowds had gathered at nearly every station along the way, however, and wherever the train came to a stop the president went out and shook hands. One of the largest turnouts was at Santa Barbara, where the crowd tried in vain to get him to talk.

THIRD TERM HINT IS GIVEN

Wilson 'Not Hanking for Trouble,' Prospective Supporter Is Told.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT WILSON'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 19.—When minutes at Oceanside, Cal., an old man told Mr. Wilson that he was for the league of nations and added: "I am a republican, but I voted for you last time and I will vote for you again."

"No, I am not hanking for trouble," replied the president, with a laugh. "Well, it looks like you are the only one who will stand for American principles and you have already borne more trouble than any other man," the old man persisted.

At this rally the president merely smiled and directed his attention to a group of boys on top of a freight car. "Hello, gallery," he called out. The crowd cheered when the president appeared on the platform of his car "Mayflower," and men and women called for Mrs. Wilson, who came out and bowed.

The president was smiling and his reception accorded the "first lady of the land" when one man in the crowd said in an audible whisper, "I don't wonder he smiles."

JOHNSON ABANDONS HIS TOUR TO COAST

Opponent of League to Return to National Capital.

ATTACK MADE ON TREATY

World Declared Frozen Into State of Immutability by Article 19 of Pact.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 19.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson announced tonight that he had abandoned his proposed trip to the Pacific coast to answer President Wilson's speeches on the league of nations. He will speak at St. Paul and Minneapolis tomorrow and leave for Washington Sunday.

America's entry into the league of nations will mark the formation of a partnership between the one going, solvent country in the world, with certain European bankrupts, who, through our first experience in meddling and muddling in foreign politics, have come to secretly despise and detest us, declared Senator Hiram W. Johnson, in addressing a large and enthusiastic audience here tonight.

"The league of nations," he said, "comes to us after its principal members had been gorged with territory, with their boundaries and their limits increased beyond their wildest dreams and with other immense tracts of the world's surface yet to be distributed among them." After these extraordinary accessions of territory, the only going, solvent national concern on the undertakes by article 19 to guarantee forever these extraordinary territorial limits.

World in Straitjacket. "This section freezes the world into immutability. It assumes to put the world in a straitjacket, so that there can be no movement for betterment or progress of humanity. Beyond and above all this, the maintenance of this static condition is to be accomplished by the blood of just one nation, and that is ours."

Instead of coming closer to the people in these vital matters, the league of nations would go a step further from them and place the power to make war in the hands of the rulers and their representatives instead of the people," said Senator Johnson.

He emphasized the point that the league covenant had been drawn up in secrecy and that popular support for it had been obtained by means of official propaganda, said or by means of an overburdened people.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 19.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, in an address delivered to a special session of the Minnesota legislature this morning, presented his arguments in opposition to the unqualified ratification of the league of nations covenant.

The senator expressed the opinion that if action on the league could be delayed 60 days, the people would speak in positive terms and insist upon its defeat or amendment so as to protect the country's interests.

Anti-League Sentiment Grows. "Public sentiment against the league is growing every day and is fast assuming the proportions of a revolution," said Senator Johnson. "Its friends realize that if it is not pushed through now, before the people have had an opportunity to understand its true cause is hopeless. That explains the haste to have it ratified without amendment."

"The statement that immediate action is necessary to stabilize business is absurd. The pitiless logic of events is gradually dispelling the halo with which its advocates have enveloped the so-called league of nations. The diplomacy and intrigue, the wars and counter-wars of which we catch a hasty glimpse through a rigorous European censor, are slowly but surely presenting it in its true aspects and making plain its real design."

Emotionalism is Passing. "The unbridled and irrational emotionalism which greeted the suggestion of a league, to promote peace and prevent war," and which was utilized to the full with a people sick of the carnage of the great world conflict before the league of nations were known and before its provisions were understood, is with the lapse of time gradually passing.

"As our people become nearer normal and see again with clearer vision, they begin to understand the iniquity of the thing."

Thousands to Stay at Work. "Some of the men want to strike, and some don't," said Mr. Comerford. "The majority, however, are not in favor of it. This union affects thousands of men, all of whom will be told to keep on working."

The officers of this union do not propose to allow irresponsible men to govern the policy of their organization, and we feel that the men who are ordering this strike are not responsible."

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Members of the sailors' union of this port voted unanimously in favor of a strike in sympathy with the steel workers. The officers of the United States Steel corporation, and the marine firemen's, oilers', water tenders' and coal passers' union is being taken and tabulation will be completed tomorrow, it is said.

Ore Vessels Would Be Tied Up. A strike would tie up more than 100 ore-carrying vessels of the Pittsburgh Steamship company, said to be a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, and boats of allied and associated companies, union officials declared.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—Eighteen thousand Cleveland men and 25,000 in the Cleveland district will quit work Monday morning when the steel strike goes into effect, according to Henry W. Hales, secretary of the steel workers' organization and strike committee.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 19.—Steel companies here have stores of iron ore on hand sufficient for nine months ahead, it was stated here today in connection with the proposed sailors' strike.

PLOT IN INDIA IS BARED

KILL, KILL AND EXTERMINATE ENGLISH, SAYS PAMPHLET.

Prominent Native, Loyal to British, Gives Information on Work of Revolutionary Bodies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The text of a widely circulated pamphlet to the people of India, distributed by the revolutionary organizations in that country, has been received by this government from a prominent Indian who is loyal to the British regime. The appeal urges the Indians to exterminate the English race. The text follows: "Kill or die!"

"The government of these tyrants will not last any longer. The time of thy departure has taken his life. Let us kill the white. Take the country, even at the cost of your lives. Be ready for rebellion. Kill the wicked and tyrannical European. It is very easy to kill him. Do not leave him until you have taken his life. Exterminate the whole nation. Set fire to all the churches. Kill the Europeans, men and women; show them no mercy. Kill them to a finish. Sacrifice them on the altar of the sword. Spare neither parents nor offspring. You should slay Europeans alike so that they may remember it for ages to come. Without a rebellion our lives always will be unhappy. Make a rebellion hastily. You have not more than a year at your disposal. Kill the Europeans and fill the rivers with their corpses. We will go up to England shouting: 'Kill! Kill!'"
