Billie Burke, as she appears in scene from "The Mislaid Widow," which is showing this week at the Peoples theater.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Columbia—British production, "Choosing a Wife." Star—William Desmond, "A Sashbrook Hamlet." Liberty—Oliver Thomas, "Upstairs and Down." Majestic—Douglas Fairbanks, "His Majesty, the American." Peoples—Billie Burke, "The Mislaid Widow." Strand—Blanche Sweet, "The Unrepentable Sin." Cleveland—Donna Fairbanks, "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo."

"THE MISLAID WIDOW," in which Billie Burke is starring at the Peoples theater, is a new play, despite the fact it is taken from "Billeted," the post-war comedy made famous by Margaret Anglin. It is an Americanized "Billeted." With the scene of action changed from an English village to a Boston suburb, with the United States army replacing the British and with all the complications such as could not be introduced on the legitimate stage, "The Mislaid Widow" is in many ways an improvement on "Billeted." Billie Burke is exceedingly attractive as Mrs. Betty Taradine, the self-styled little widow who is an ideal housekeeper save for the fact that she cannot keep her balance right nor her creditors happy. Miss Burke is much like Miss Anglin, and as a result "The Mislaid Widow" is a continual source of merriment. Some of the quaint English customs are lost in the modern version of "Billeted." On the other hand, a few other delights—such as an old-fashioned rose garden—are put in. The methods of working up the climax are entirely different in the Billie Burke production. Manager of the Peoples' Amusement company announced yesterday that he will change the Star programme to "The Eleventh Commandment," featuring Lucille Lee Stewart.

Screen Gossip. E. J. Sperry, manager of the local office, announced yesterday that on October 1 Pathé will establish a film exchange in Portland which will operate independently of Seattle. The announcement of Mr. Sperry follows a previous announcement of Fred Quinn, who on a visit to the city in August announced that Portland should become what is known in film circles as a "visit to the city." All Pathé films shown in Oregon motion picture houses are purchased through the Seattle exchange. After October 3 the entire state will purchase through Mr. Sperry, who will be in charge of the new Pathé exchange.

Houdini has been doing stunts for "The Grim Game." The star practiced new feats of defying death yesterday and got to the studio before 8 o'clock to get in an hour's exercise in lumber. After the usual routine scenes, Irvin Willat directed. Ann Fehrs is leading woman.

Anna Lehr, co-starring with Dave Powell in the production of "Teeth of the Tiger," was attacked with stomache poisoning just as she was FIRE STIRS LEWISTON $25,000 BLAZE IS LAID TO FANATICAL FIREBUG. Destruction of Woodmen's Home Fifth Midnight Burning to Occur Recently on Same Street.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The Woodmen's building, a two-story brick structure owned by the Woodmen's lodge here, was destroyed early this morning by a fire seemingly of incendiary origin. Firemen had been called to the same building early in the evening to extinguish a fire in the locker room on the second floor, and after putting out the blaze were unable to discover any defective wiring that might have caused the fire, so concluded the blaze was not accidental. Shortly after midnight firemen again called to the building were unable to check flames, which completely gutted the building, causing a loss of probably $25,000. Insurance is inadequate to cover the loss. The lower floor of the building was occupied by the Lewiston bottling works, a $4500 plant, which was much damaged by water. The upper floor had been used as a lodge rooms by several Lewiston lodges. This fire, coming after four fires on the same street, within a few weeks, leads to the belief that a firebug is at work. The previous fire, all of which have broken out shortly after midnight, have burned frame buildings of less value in the same block. Deep indignation is aroused among citizens, who believe a firebug of fanatical type is at large.

LUMBER IS PILED HIGH Necessity at Seattle Mill Brings Invention for Relief.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The highest lumber piles in the world are now in Seattle. Whether the ordinary five-story building, to continued work. This necessitated an entire change in the plans of taking the picture. Scenes were taken in a location not requiring the presence of Miss Lehr, and the set built at the studio remained standing and idle until she recovered.

Marguerite Clark has been on location with Walter Edwards as director for a short time. "Anne of Green Gables," her new vehicle, The little star is now on her third western-made production and enjoying it.

"The Mystery of the Yellow Room," a detective story by Gaston Leroux, the French novelist, is soon to be released as a photoplay. It is the hero of the story and the mystery surrounds the manner of escape of an assassin from a room with only one exit. The production was made by Emile Chautard. He has an international reputation as a director, having been identified with screen productions both in this country and France. Since coming to the United States, Mr. Chautard has directed and acted in some of their biggest photoplay successes.

Supporting characters in "Erastville Susan," which will introduce her to the screen, will be a cast whose names have been linked with some of the foremost stage and photoplay successes. The players include Mary Aiden, who will play the part enacted by Mrs. Fiske on stage. Jere Austin, Anders Randolph, Alfred Hickman, Leslie Hunt, Bradley Barker and George Renner. The production is being made under the direction of John S. Robertson, who has been identified with some of the recent photoplay successes, in which Billie Burke and Marguerite Clark have appeared.

Louise Glaum spent the week-end with her friend, Mrs. Charles Chaplin, at Catalina island. Each girl made a wager with the other that the one catching the largest tuna fish would pay the forfeit in the largest box of candy they could find at "Fig in Whistle." So down to the beach they went. The fish began to swim away, but also pulling off the line. Both girls, excited, called to the old fisherman for help. All Louise's hooks had caught fish, and in his effort to get away he became entangled in the line of Mildred's, so they are still trying to find out who has to pay the bet.

The great stacks of lumber at the plant of the Seattle Cedar Lumber Manufacturing company in Ballard, bringing out the resourcefulness of one man who was forced to become an inventor when the government put through the canal from Puget sound to Lake Union. The canal cut off 100 feet from the rear end of the lumber company's yard. H. C. Hulse, general superintendent, had the problem of storing an average of 8,000,000 feet of finished product in half the space formerly allowed him. He thought it over and invented a machine by which lumber piles grew in height from 16 to 40 feet, and to 50 feet in his plant. Mr. Hulse invented a lumber elevator.

Prineville Stock Moving. PRINEVILLE, Or., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Livestock shipments delivered here from various parts of this section for shipment over the Prineville railroad were unusually heavy last week-end. SEATTLE FINDS CASES 32 PER CENT GREATER. Student of Conditions Attributes Situation to Modern Conceptions of Liberty.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Divorce cases in Seattle and King county increased 32 per cent in the first six months of 1919, as compared with the same period of 1918, according to Pierce Loneragan, former King county divorce proctor. Whereas, a few years back the divorce rate was one divorce case to three marriages, it now is approximately one divorce case to every two marriages, he said.

ASTORIA, Or., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The case against Joseph Craig and J. W. Kilbin, both former deputy fish wardens, on charges of assault and robbery, is set for trial before a circuit court jury tomorrow. The case is the result of an alleged holdup in the Edgett pool hall. Eight indictments were returned against the defendants.

Two hundred and twenty-nine less marriages were recorded in the first six months of 1919 than in the same period in 1918. The divorce rate in King county and Seattle ten years ago was one divorce to 12 marriages. "I believe that the fundamental cause of the alarming increase in divorce is the exaggerated conception of individual liberty, which ignores the duties and responsibilities which the individual owes to other members of the community," said Mr. Loneragan.

"Politically this is manifested in the L. W. W. the 'red' socialists and others who fail to recognize any responsibility or standards other than those set by the individual."

NEW RATE WAR IS NEAR TACOMA CLUB TO OPPOSE RE-OPENING OF TARIFFS. Move by Spokane to Have Further Inter-mountain Reductions Made Is Reported.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 22.—Rumors of a new rate war between Spokane and Puget sound cities were heard here today when the transportation bureau of the Tacoma commercial club decided to intervene in the reopening of the inter-mountain trans-continental freight tariffs.

Two years ago Spokane obtained trans-continental rates equal to those given Puget sound cities on the contention that the war had eliminated the water competition and the sound was therefore not entitled to lower railroad rates. Now another step has been taken, it is reported here, to have the Spokane rates reduced below those of Puget sound cities on the basis that Spokane is 200 miles closer to the east and that water competition is still nonexistent.
