BY HARRY M. GRAYSON.

Southpaw Walter Mails, left-handed at pitching and everything else, held "our boys" as helpless as a pack of infant caterpillars in a hill of hungry ants yesterday afternoon, and Bill Rodgers galloped off with the first game of the series. Score, Sacramento 2, Portland 0.

Although Walt McCredie, from the third base coacher's box, rode him during the entire game, the much-written-about Walter held his sweet disposition in leash until the ninth, when he chose to take it out on Pitcher Kenneth Penner, it taking Willyum Rodgers and half of the Yipper crew to keep the billigerent one from committing an over act against the Marshalltown youth.

While Mails was taking his cuts in the closing stanza Penner forced him to hit a ball close to his cranium. After Kingdon tossed Walling Walter out at first the big fellow started for Penner, who rushed to meet him. The two chuckers exchanged compliments, with the Beaver gang sicking Penner on, but before the articles of agreement could be signed for the tangle Rodgers, aided and abetted by some of his hirelings and Umpire Eason, pacified the singing pitcher of the Senators, and peace reigned once again.

Mails Has Good Day.

Mails had a good day. This in brief tells the story of the matinee, which, along with the beautiful sunny afternon, was enjoyed by a few hundred baseball bugs and bugettes. Penner pitched splendidly. His labor would have won the ordinary struggle of the diamond. But one of Sacramento's runs was earned. Penner allowed nine hits against five off Mails, who struck out four. Both twirlers walked one man.

Captain Paddy Siglin's costly error in the first round, the only boot of the game, which was played in the fast time of 1 hour and 25 minutes, permitted Brick Eldred to score the first Sacramento run. Wolter, who made three hits out of four trips, drove Middleton over the top in the fifth.

Portland lost its lone chance to score in the seventh, when Boss Walter foolishly let Penner, a left-handed batter, hit against a great southpaw pitcher with two out and runners on second and third.

It was little Wes Kingdon who paved the way for the possible tying of the count, for, with Baker on first, he doubled down the third-base line. Penner, next up, endeavored to duck a fast one, the ball hitting his bat and rolling down to Pinelli. Penner then, in his haste to get to first, allowed his feet to become tangled up in something, for he fell down, and although Pinelli foozled the ball for about a half an hour he tossed Ken out with yards to spare. McCredie had Wisterzil, Koehler and Speas, all right-handed batters, who might have fared better up there. He probably figured that it was too much trouble for one of the pitchers to be warming up.

With two out in the ninth, Siglin and Baker singled in a row, but Kingdon forced Baker at second, bringing the exhibition to a close.

Maisel's great running catch of Pinelli's fly in the sixth was a distinct feature. The score:

Bunched Hits With Fast Fielding Defeat Oaks in Opener.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—San Francisco won the opening game of the series from Oakland. Fast fielding by the Seals in the arly innings kept the Oaks from scoring more than once while San Francisco bunched enough hits in the first and fifth innings to send three men across the plate. Score:

Herzog was banished from the game and fined $50 while the visitors were at bat in the seventh for not promptly obeying Umpire O'Day's orders to abandon his resting place near the grandstand and go to the players' bench. Scores:

AUZACS PASS UP PORTLAND

Brooks and Patterson Unable to Play in Rose City.

Norman E. Brookes and Gerald L. Patterson, the two great Australian tennis players, will not show their ability in Portland, passing through direct to Vancouver, B. C., where they will board a ship for home. Walter A. Goss, sectional delegate of the United States Lawn Tennis association, and President A. B. McAlpin of the Portland Lawn Tennis association, made a hard but vain attempt to get the two world-famed racquet wielders to appear here in a set of exhibition matches. The Auzacs telegraphed before leaving San Francisco that they were overplayed and did not feel equal to any more tennis before returning home.

Portland fans missed a great treat by not getting an opportunity to witness Brookes and Patterson in action, as they are two of the most brilliant players on the courts today.

DEL MONTE, Cal., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Two elk heads mounted will be the principal prizes that will catch the eye of the many trap-shooters who will gather at Del Monte Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week for the organization of the "California Indians." The sportsmen and the sportswomen have been keenly interested in the novel barbecue of real elk meat which will be staged on Sunday afternoon and the heads of the elk will be utilized to reward the shooters for their skill with the shotgun.

He is due to pass through here on his way to the mainland within a few weeks. He has won 28 out of 30 heavyweight fights in Australia. A syndicate of Australian sportsmen, among them R. L. (Snowy) Baker, is backing the new hope.

EUGENE, Or., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Indicative of the unusually large number of deer in the Cascade mountains this year is the statement by Harry G. Hayes, hunter and guide of McKenzie Bridge, who was in Eugene yesterday, that during four trips into the mountains in seven and a half days' time since the season opened he saw 119 deer.

NET BOSSES CHANGE DOUBLES PLAY RULE

Competition Divided Into Two Classes for Trial.

RULING BENEFITS GAME

Sectional Title Teams, or Others Duly Qualfied, Are Admitted to National Contests.

Tennis players and followers throughout the northwest have been anxiously awaiting the announcement of important business transacted at the annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association in New York several weeks ago, but not until last night was the word received from headquarters by Walter A. Goss, northwest delegate of the U. S. L. A. to release the "dope." It was agreed at the annual meeting in New York.

The outstanding feature of the work done at the annual meeting of the officials of the United States Lawn Tennis association was the new arrangement for playing the national doubles championships. In times past the method of handling the entries has been a very troublesome matter. The scheme of the present year whereby each section was entitled to one entry did not fill the need, since many of the terms found it most inconvenient to be forced to win a sectional doubles championship in order to qualify for the national tournament. Also many of the teams who won the sectional doubles title were not representative players from the sections in which they won the championship.

New Rule Explained.

The new rule which will be tried out in 1920, and was strongly endorsed by Mr. Goss, who believes that it will be made a permanent feature of the doubles championship, is explained as follows in bulletin number 41, which will be sent to the tennis clubs throughout the northwest today:

The doubles championship will be open to two classed of teams:

(a) Teams which have won sectional doubles championships.

(b) Teams whose playing record conforms to qualifications similar to those now in force for the singles championship. It was furthermore agreed that the team representing a sectional championship must be made up of bona fide players in said section and the most important feature of the rule, or rather the most important for the Pacific northwest district, provides that the expenses of the championship winning pair, to and from the point of play, will be paid by the national association. These expenses to include Pullman and railroad fare both ways.

This means a great deal to tennis in the section of the country and the great outdoor game should come to the fore with leaps and bounds through the new ruling. It means that the northwest will hereafter be expected to send a team east and the way has been made possible for doing this. The northwest representatives can of course, take part in the national singles event as well.

Action Will Boost Game.

The action taken by the executive committee of the National association will tend to revolutionize tennis in the northwest next season and in Bulletin 41 Mr. Goss urges every club to get busy at once and forward their suggestions and plans for next year, tentative dates for city, state and sectional championships especially. Mr. Goss has suggested that one week might be set aside for holding the international, the Pacific northwest doubles championship and the boys' and girls' championships.

The only difficulty in such an arrangement would be that the players from British Columbia would not qualify in anything but the international events and they might be unwilling to come to a meet where there was not more play offered in which they could qualify. Mr. Goss is taking the question up with the Canadian clubs.

Portland May Be Center.

It is not improbable that Portland may be the scene of all or at least one of these three big events, all of which will develop in time. Last year dates for various championship tournaments in other sections than Portland were not forwarded to the northwest headquarters here until the last minute, but it will be imperative that better action be taken the coming season and even more so owing to the new conditions brought about.

In the bulletin to be sent out today Mr. Goss also makes a plea that some definite arrangement be made this fall concerning a set policy to pursue as regards the financing of the northwest junior champion to the national meet in New York. In 1918 it was decided not to send a representative, although Bob Waubershek of Seattle, the winner, attended, paying his own expenses. In 1917 the money was raised here in Portland by popular subscription and again this year in the same manner.

BIG BALL STARS CHECKED

MANY NOTED MEN RECEIVED THEIR START ON COAST.

Reuther, Rath, James, Williams, Lynn, Gandil, Weaver, Risberg Among Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—When the world series contenders had apparently narrowed down to the Chicago Americans and the Cincinnati Nationals, sports followers here began to point out the probable performers in the big show who got their start on the Pacific coast.

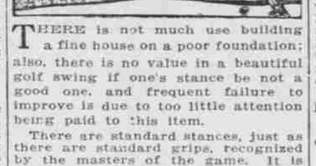
Walter H. (Dutch) Reuther when he was pitching for St. Ignatius college, San Francisco, in 1913, hurled a game against the Chicago White Sox and it is thought probable that as twirler for Cincinnati he will pitch against some of the same players in the world series this year.

Morris Rath, second baseman for the Reds, used to play with the Salt Lake club of the Pacific coast league.

The Portland northwest club started William (Big Bill) James, Chicago White Sox pitcher, on his way up. Later he pitched for the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league.

Other Chicago players who formerly were stars of the Pacific coast league include: Claude Williams, star left hander; Bert Lynn and Arnold (Chick) Gandil, once with the Sacramento club; George (Buck) Weaver and Charles (Swede) Risberg, formerly with San Francisco and Fred McMullin, who used to play with Los Angeles.

Even the officials for the world series may be products of the Pacific Coast league, San Franciscans say, noting George Hildebrand once an umpire in the coast league.



THERE is not much use building a fine house on a poor foundation; also, there is no value in a beautiful golf swing if one's stance be not a good one, and frequent failure to improve is due to too little attention being paid to this item.

There are standard stances, just as there are standard grips, recognized by the masters of the game. It is simply a case of finding out which one suits your best and having adopted it, adhere to it unless you are absolutely convinced another would suit your particular case better. Much time and chance for improvement is wasted by many players through constantly changing their stance and grip, consequently failing to acquire a fixed habit of hitting the ball right. It is, of course, the stance for a plain hit ball off a flat lie that is referred to.

* * *

Peculiarities of the ground have naturally to be obviated by shifting one's feet to suit the circumstances.

* * *

The standard driving stances are the open and the square. In the former the right foot is nearer the line of flight than the left, in the latter the feet are equi-distant from it. A few extraordinary golfers place the right behind the left, but as Mr. Horace Hutchinson says of such people, they are good golfers in spite of, not by reason of, their peculiarities. The first mentioned causes a tendency to slice with a driver, with the last one you are liable to pull, so the happy medium, the square stance, is safest.

AMERICAN LEAGUE AHEAD

TEN WORLD'S SERIES WON OUT OF 15 PLAYED.

Pennant This Year Will Go to Team Winning 5 Games—In 1903, 8 Needed to Decide.

The pennant winners of the American league have emerged from the post-season classic, the world's series, with 10 victories against 5 for their National league rivals in 15 series. The series of 1903 went 8 games and there have been 14 series played at best 4 out of 7. This year's series will continue until one team wins 5 games. The totals in games and runs in world's series of the past furnish interesting figures for comparison as follow:

CALIFORNIA AFTER PENNANT

Southern Eleven Already Figures on Post-Season Game.

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 23.—With veterans of former varsities, besides all of last year's eleven, on hand, Coach Andrew Smith expects to produce a team at the University of California this season which will win the coast championship with ease. Should the championship be won the California team, it is said, will play the University of Pittsburg at Pasadena on New Year's Day as a part of the programme of the annual Carnival of Roses.

The annual "big game" with Stanford will be played at Palo Alto on November 22. The complete schedule is as follows: September 27, Olympic club; October 4, Santa Clara; October 11, St. Mary's college; October 18, Occidental; October 25, Washington State college; November 1, Oregon Agricultural college; November 8, University of Southern California (at Los Angeles); November 22, Stanford (at Palo Alto); November 27, Washington (at Seattle).

GRAY AND WOOD WINNERS

Men's Doubles Championships of City Courts Decided.

Harry Gray and Max Wood won the men's doubles championship of the city yesterday on the courts of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club by defeating Milt Frohman and Deo Mallett after three hard sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Frohman and Mallett fought their way to the finals by defeating A. S. Frohman and O. Daly in the semi-final round. The match has been delayed for some time and is the wind-up of the city championships staged recently on the Multnomah club courts.

FOLEY-DAVIS BOUT ARRANGED

Go Will Be Staged at Centralia Next Monday Night.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Marty Foley, 150-pound Tacoma battler, will tackle Travie Davis, winner of the coast welterweight crown. He and Davis will mill in Centralia next Monday night. It will be a six-round social under the auspices of the American Legion. Eddie Martino, Foley's manager, clinched the battle. Ever since Davis knocked Jake Abel off his perch in Tacoma last Thursday for the championship he has had a mess of telegrams from aspiring boys and perspiring managers. Foley has been making good around the sound by fighting preliminaries at many shows.

Coaches Have Nearly Two Full Veteran Elevens at Work.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. Sept. 23.—(Special.)—With about 50 candidates out for the eleven, Brown university's football prospects are assuming a very rosy outlook. Practically two full teams of veterans are included among those out daily to the morning and afternoon practices. The men are working out under the eyes of Coaches Robinson, Whittemore, Hahn and Sprackling.

Most of the work so far has been elementary, although during the past few days three elevens have been picked in order that signals and plays might be run through. Considerable coaching is being done in an endeavor to develop punters, while drop kickers are also receiving attention. Forward passes, charging and backfield work has also been part of the daily programme. Strenuousness has been the leading feature of all the workouts.

MAUI POLO TEAM WINNER

Hawaiian Islands Championship Settled Before Big Crowds.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 15.—(Special Correspondence.)—The Maui polo team, composed of Sam, Edward and Frank Baldwin and A. H. Collins, won the polo championship of the Hawaiian islands here a few days ago by defeating the Kauai team before a crowd of 5000 fans at Kapiolani park. The score was 11 to 6¾ points.

The Kauai team was made up of the Rice brothers, Johnny Malaina and Jimmy Spalding, the latter a widely known horseman and sportsman on the mainland. Teamwork and better horses won the game for Maui. It was Maui's game all the way with the Kauai quartet playing a defensive battle. The fourth, sixth and seventh chukkers were slightly Kauai periods but the other frames were all for Maui.

High School Defeated.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Aberdeen high school players were defeated Saturday by the alumni team, which was composed of former crack men of the team. The high school team proved too light and too slow. The latter shortcoming may be remedied by further practice, this being the first game of the season. The score was 14 to 0.

MAILS CLAIM CALLED OFF

SACRAMENTO DIRECTORS NOT TO PRESS SEATTLE.

Deal by Which Rainiers Agreed to Pay $1500 for Gardner Is Settled Amicably.

SACRAMENTO, Cal. Sept. 23.—Announcement was made here today that the directors of the Sacramento baseball club of the Pacific Coast league had voted not to press their claims against the Seattle club for $1500 in connection with the trade involving Pitchers Harry Gardner and Walter Mails.

According to Sacramento directors, the local club traded Gardner for Mails and Seattle agreed in addition to pay $1500 to Sacramento. President James Brewster of Seattle recently refused to pay any money, stating that misrepresentations had been made to Seattle regarding Gardner's physical conditio nand that Gardner had been unable to continue playing ball because of his ill-health.

The controversy had been placed before President A. T. Baum of the Pacific Coast league, but Sacramento directors said their action would make a decision by him unnecessary.

"Jim Brewster, president of the Seattle club, is a good sport."

This is how Manager William K. Rodgers, Sacramento, explains the action of Yipper directors in voting not to press their claim against the Seattle club for $1500 in connection with the trade involving Pitchers Harry Gardner and Walter Mails.

"Bill Clymer and Gardner, himself, engineered the deal," said Manager Rodgers at the Seward hotel last night. "Mails stepped out, winning seven straight for us, while Gardner took about that many lickings for Seattle. Later Seattle fired Bill Clymer. The Sacramento directors undoubtedly felt that Mr. Brewster and his associates should not be held responsible for Clymer's actions.

"When Gardner left us he was in good shape outside of the fact that he was not exactly remaining on the water wagon. After pitching several weeks for Seattle it is said that he was taken down with malaria. Anyway, he has not been used since that time," concluded Manager Bill.

VANCOUVER SECURES COACH

"Hap" Miler, Washington State Veteran, Will Pilot High School.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 23.—(Special.) — Cedric Miller, better known as "Hap" Miller, gridiron veteran of Washington State university at Seattle, and of the American expeditionary forces in France, and now justice of the peace in Vancouver, has been secured to coach the Vancouver high schol football team for the season. Mr. Miller formerly attended this school and went from here to Seattle, where he later became a famous half back and captain of the team.

The first turnout was held last night when it was found that four players who have won letters will be in the team this year, in addition to several promising players who have entered school.

"GRID" SCHEDULE IS GOOD

Occidental Has Unusually Fine Lineup This Season.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—(Special.) —That Occidental is to have an unusually good football schedule for the coming intercollegiate tanbark season was made plain today when Harold Dryden, graduate manager of athletics at the Eagle Rock institution, announced the lineup of games for the orange and black warriors.

All of the conference schools will have teams in the field again this season, so that Oxy will battle Pomona, Whittier, Throop and Redlands. In addition to these conference games contests have been scheduled with the University of Arizona, the University of Southern California and the University of California. There is but one open date on the Tiger's schedule and another of the northern institutions, the name of which Manager Dryden does not wish made known at this time, has asked for a game on that date.

Occidental will be at a big disadvantage in her game with California, inasmuch as the contest is slated early in the season and the Bears will have a three week's start on the Tigers in their training. At that, Coach Stanton is confident that he can give the northern institution a big run for its money.

Hood Trout Catches Good.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The best fishing reported from any branch of Hood river comes from the East fork. Anglers have been getting good catches the past week. J. H. Fredericy, vice-president of the Hood River Game Protective association, landed 40 beautiful mountain trout, none less than 10 inches long, yesterday. R. E. Johnson and C. K. Marshall each returned with nice catches.

Ross in Honolulu Swim.

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 15.—(Special Correspondence.) — Transportation has been wired to Norman Ross, famous swimmer, who will compete here in the fall swimming meeting, October 30, 31 and November 1. Ross cabled a few days ago asking for his ticket.

Sulky Lights.

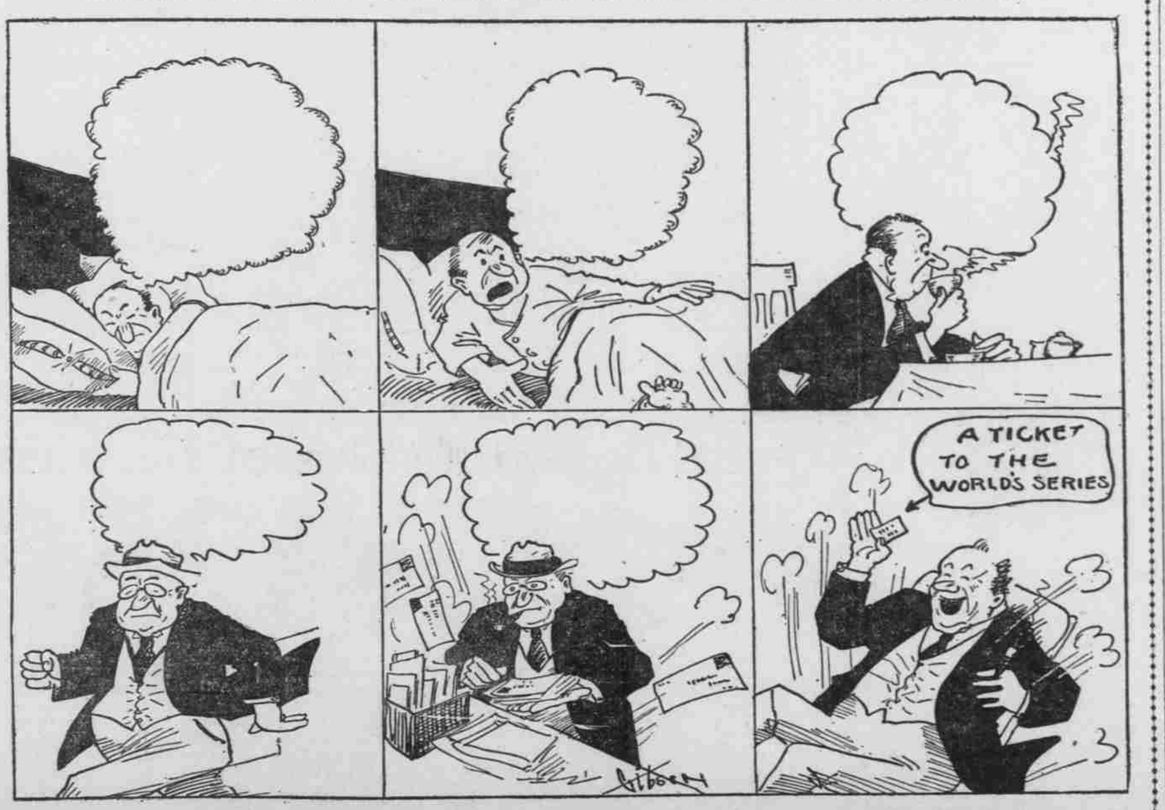
MURPHY and Cox, the two leaders of the grand circuit this year, are a pair of opposites. The only thing that they have in common is that they train horses and drive races. In and out of the sulky either when working his horses or racing them, Murphy is a fashion plate. His bright green tie and smart tweed suit make a stranger think that he is a visitor helping John Benyon out when the horses are being aired during the morning hours, while during the races his red, white and blue colors, with tiny American flags on the collar and front of the cap, look as though the tailor touched them up with an iron between heats.

* * *

On the other hand, Cox whirls out in the morning wearing a shabby pair of trousers with a leather patch on the seat, an old coat, flannel shirt and a hat with a hundred holes in the crown and his name cut into the rim with a harness punch. A half-smoked cigar at an angle of 45 degrees is usually seen in the corner of his mouth, while on a dusty day a little soap and water and an application of the old razor, which he carries to cut the wire hairs on his chin, would improve the portion of his anatomy that the camera men aid at when snapping a winner.

* * *

Within this makeup there is a man who has been very successful in the racing world. In Lu Princeton and Mabel Trask he has the two best trotters in the world, while McGregor the Great and Mignola are race horses of the highest caliber. McGregor the Great is a 4-year-old. He won at Syracuse in 2:03¾. Mignola was lame at Hartford, where he was beaten by Mariondale. It was his tenth start in 1919. All of the others were victories, while he cut his win race to 2:04¼ at Toledo.


AND PEOPLE ALL THOUGHT HE WAS WORRYING ABOUT BUSINESS OR THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.
