

CONGESTION LOOKS AVOIDED

Grain Reaching Portland Kept on Move.

RECEIPTS SHOW DECREASE

Total of 2801 Cars Delivered, in Comparison With 3501 Cars at Same Time Last Year.

The annual congestion of grain on the docks of Portland, which has been considered for years as a necessary evil, has been eliminated in the movement of this season's crop.

Figures in the hands of the grain corporation here show that the wheat is being milled more rapidly this year than ever before.

The smallness of the season's wheat shipments to Portland, thus far, is attributed to two causes: the shipment of grain from the inland empire to eastern mills because of the high premium on hard wheat.

Of the two flour-carrying vessels now loading on the river, the West Hartley, taking on the last of her cargo at Astoria, is expected to finish loading this afternoon.

LOCAL MEN ARE INDORSED Resolutions Favor Multnomah Engineers on Bridges.

If new bridges are to be built over the Willamette river the board of county commissioners should employ local men to design and construct them.

There are high-class technical men in Oregon who have received their engineering training in the best engineering schools in the country and many of these men have had valuable engineering experience.

It is also said that the technical engineer is the poorest salesman in the world when it comes to advertising his services.

The proposed legislation makes no distinction between the innocent and the guilty, absolutely prohibiting all engineers from solemnizing the marriage of divorced persons.
