KERR PERFORMS GAMELY

Comiskey's Team Comes From Rear With Rush and Gives Red Hopes Severe Setback.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The person who was directed yesterday to shift up the pole at Redland park and measure it for the world championship bunting slid down the shaft a bit today and the measuring was postponed. The reason was that the Chicago White Sox did not dare lose today's game, for with it would have gone the championship. They overcame a lead of four runs and by delivering one more tally in the 19th round won the game, five runs to four for Cincinnati.

It was a contest replete with thrills and heartbreaks, varied by some wild fielding, snappy baserunning, mighty clouts, mad catches and in short, practically everything relating to baseball. Cincinnati looked like a certain winner in the third and fourth rounds in the course of which four Redlegs crossed the plate. In the fifth, however, the Sox turned two passes and a single into a tally and in the six two doubles and two singles were the major factors in the three runs which tied the score.

To Buck Weaver, sterling third baseman, who wilded a mighty stick in the game, fell the distinction of recording the winning run in the 19th. He was the first man up and doubled to center, his second two-sacker of the game. The partisan crowd became hushed and then began to chant encouragement to Ring, who had displaced Reuther as pitcher for the Reds.

Jackson Hunts Safely. Jackson tried a bunt and missed, but on a second attempt the ball dribbled a few feet down the third-base line, and while the ball was perfectly fielded, Jackson crossed the initial sack with time to spare, Weaver landing on third. Feisch, who had delivered a double in the sixth, struck out, but Gandil, who had previously delivered nothing, singled and Weaver scored.

In their half of the tenth the Reds went out in order and the day closed with the series standing four victories for Cincinnati and two for Chicago.

The Cincinnati team entered the field confident that they had so drubbed the visitors that the last ounce of fight had departed from them. The latter, however, had been hauled over the coals in unmistakable fashion by Manager Gleason during the forenoon, and they came on the field looking desperate, rather than hopeful. Dutch Reuther, who became a local idol by his great pitching and perfect batting in the first game of the series, in which Chicago was humiliated, 9 to 1, trotted out to deliver the coup de grace to the American leaguers.

Crowd Cheers Reuther. The crowd gave him a rousing welcome, but, although he held his adversaries hitless during the first three innings, experts noted that the Sox were slugging them savagely into the outfield, or sinking them down the foul lines in a way that was not present in the first game. There were none out in the sixth when Manager Moran, more in sorrow than in anger, beckoned him to the bench, and Jim Ring, a right-hander who pitched the Reds to a 3-to-0 victory at Chicago, was called on to save the game.

Reuther was pitched and pitched well, but he was not effective until the tenth, aided by some sparkling fielding. Dick Kerr, who pitched Chicago's only previous victory, a 3-to-0 shut-out at Chicago, was again called upon by Manager Gleason, and although 11 hits were registered against him, he was steady in the pinches and kept them well scattered, save for his two bad innings.

Ray Schalk, who was banished yesterday, was back in the catcher's box, and J. Collins started the game in right field for the Sox, but was displaced in the seventh by Liebold, as Ring, a right-hander, was pitching. The newspaper bulletin boards downtown cheered whenever the Reds made a hit or scored a run. There were groans from the crowds when the White Sox were flushed the winner.

Band Does Stunt. A novel serenade was given by the band just before the start of the contest. After each verse or chorus of a popular song the bandmen would shout the name of a Cincinnati player and then render more music in his honor. Thousands of the bleacherites joined in the chorus.

Clarence Rowland, whom Gleason succeeded as manager of the Sox, occupied a seat in the press box and hosted for a Sox victory. When Gandil came to bat in the tenth Rowland made the prediction that he would hit safely and break up the game.

Roush, the sensational Cincinnati outfielder, robbed the Sox of a victory in the eighth when he pitched a thrilling running catch and doubled Jackson at second for Chicago.

Ticket speculators got as much as $25 for a grandstand seat today. Other seats offered at $15 and $20 were eagerly snapped up.

Moran Has Praise for Gameness of Little Dick Kerr; Sox Pilot Repeats Hope.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Pitching selections for the seventh game of the world series scheduled for Redland field tomorrow were shrouded in uncertainty tonight but it was generally believed that Manager Gleason of the Sox would send Eddie Cicotte, although beaten twice, against the Reds in a determined effort to again turn the tide of defeat.

'Slim' Sallee, who defeated the Sox, 4 to 2, in the second game of the series, probably will be Manager Moran's pitching choice although he may decide to give Luque, the Cuban twirler, a chance to face the Chicagoans. Sallee was batted hard in the second game, the Sox getting 10 hits but only succeeded in scoring two runs.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The seventh game of the series is scheduled for Redland field tomorrow. The eighth game, if necessary, will be played in Chicago Thursday.

In their half the Reds accumulated two more. Neale sent one to right which took an eccentric bound and J. Collins cut across the field after it and it rolled on for a triple. Rariden was an out. E. Collins to Gandil. Neale being held easily at third. Reuther then measured up to the crowd's expectations by doubling, sending Neale across the plate. Rath hit to Roush, who attempted to catch Reuther going to third but the ball caught the runner in the back and rolled to the stands while the pitcher scored and Rath made second.

Macaroni originated from a Greek phrase meaning 'the blessed dead,' an illusion to the ancient custom of eating it at feasts for departed souls.

A great baseball critic said at the start of the World's Series: 'The White Sox and the Reds are evenly matched in skill. The team with the better 'nerves' wins.' To steady 'nerves' in baseball or in business there's nothing better than Adams Black Jack Gum. It's a nerve steadier that has found great favor with the better ball players.
