One of the most interesting talks of the afternoon was given by Dr. David H. Roberg, secretary of the state board of health, his subject being "Object and Scope of Health Activities." The afternoon's programme was completed with a paper, "Vocational Training," by Mrs. George McMath.

On recommendation of the executive committee the name of the organization was changed from the Oregon Mothers' congress and Parent-Teacher association to the Oregon Parents' and Teachers' association.

Several years ago the farm was utilized for fair purposes, but since that time the city streets have been employed.

Mayor Stadelman in a stirring address last night at the chamber of commerce, declared that the need was imperative for a permanent fair grounds. He urged that the county court be asked to convert the 45-acre field into a Wasco county fair arena.

President Wilson of the chamber recommended that funds for the erection of exhibit buildings be raised this year by incorporating the estimates in the city budget. He suggested a $15,000 appropriation.

RATE ON PULP PROTESTED

OREGON FREIGHT TARIFF IS HELD DISCRIMINATORY.

Equalization on Same Basis as Is Used in Washington Urged by Public Service Chairman.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 10.—(Special.)—On the ground they are inconsistent and discriminatory, Fred G. Buchtel, chairman of the public service commission, has written a letter to Max Thelen, director of the division of public service, objecting to Oregon freight rates on pulp and fuel wood. Attention is called in the letter to the fact that in Washington the rates are equal on the two products, while in Oregon pulp wood pays an excessive rate. The opinion of the commission, as expressed in the letter, is that the rates should be equalized and made the same as the Washington schedule.

Mr. Buchtel sets forth that pulp wood, though lighter than the fuel product, is measured by cords just the same, which adds to the inconsistency of the differentiation in rates.

The letter in part follows: "Primarily when this commission appeared before the traffic committee at Portland October, 1918, to discuss the proposed increase in rates, as much as it carried the same rate, was not specifically mentioned, and very naturally we believed that such rate as was established would include both fuel and pulp woods.

"Directing your attention to Great Northern tariff I. C. C. No. A-4750, where a rate of 75 cents a cord between Monroe and Everett, Wash., will be found in the same item, on slab wood, cord wood (which includes pulp wood), mill wood, shingle bolts and wood bolts. In another item rates to Spokane are named on cord wood, pulp wood and slabs. Does it not appear that the paper mills in Washington are granted the same rates on pulp wood as on fuel wood while the paper mills in Oregon are denied the same privilege, an evident discrimination in favor of Washington interests?"

THEATER ROW IS AIRED

DISCHARGED ALCAZAR CHORUS GIRL SEEKS CITY AID.

Demand for Pay Brings Echo of Wordy War on Stage and Threats With Gun.

When Miss Gianna Del Gato, member of the Alcazar chorus, called upon Millie R. Trumbull of the welfare commission yesterday and requested assistance in securing the enforcement of an alleged contract she said she had with the management of that theater, she revealed some back-stage scandal at the Alcazar which has been making the life of a chorus girl at that place more than full of thrills and excitement.

Efforts were made several days ago by some of the members of the chorus to secure some kind of a warrant for restraining Miss Del Gato after she was said to have made threats with a gun following words with another member of the chorus. The escapade created such a furore among the temperamental members of the company that Manager Everett is said at last to have consented to discharge the girl.

Miss Del Gato insisted yesterday that she had a contract that provides that if discharged she shall receive either two weeks' notice or else two weeks' pay and her expenses to San Francisco. Manager Everett said that there was no contract beyond the expiration of her ten weeks, although he was willing to give her expenses to San Francisco.

Mrs. Trumbull declined to act in the case.
