

THE PROPOSED GREATER HOSPITAL.

DO you know that Portland needs hospital facilities more than any city of similar size in the United States?

DO YOU remember the recent influenza epidemic when patients were crowded into the auditorium because of hospital unpreparedness, and that many people died because of such a condition and the consequent lack of care?

DO YOU realize that hospital beds in Portland are practically in continual use? Every such bed serves an average of over twenty-four persons per year. The demand for hospital beds in Portland is three hundred per cent greater than in the densely populated metropolitan cities of the East.

To help afford adequate hospital facilities and assist the other hospitals in caring for the needy sick, Emanuel hospital proposes THE GREATER HOSPITAL FOR GREATER PORTLAND, to cost when completed in excess of $1,000,000. The present plan, however, involves only the erection of the first unit, for which $250,000 is needed to build and equip.

For this purpose an appeal is being made to the people of Portland for donations to bring about the early completion of the project.

The money is to be raised by a general appeal to the civic pride of Portland. It will be collected by Portland people, voluntary workers who carry credentials and be deposited with the United States National Bank, Treasurer of the Fund.

The money collected is to be expended only for the building and equipment of the new hospital. There are no debts to be paid, no property to be acquired or campaign expenses to be defrayed from the proceeds of the fund.

Emanuel Hospital has no endowments, no gifts, or legacies, and no means of support, other than the revenue derived from the pay-patients. However, charity has been extended freely from the very beginning, and hundreds of free or part-pay patients have been treated or cared for during the short time of its existence.

State, county and city officials, business and financial heads, the professions, the clergy and many prominent citizens have endorsed the project and will serve on committees and help in many ways, clubs and civic bodies will also aid.

Will you help? The need is great. The cause is good. Portland has the wealth.

Portland people did their full duty to their country during the war, and gave their blood and treasure unstintedly for the betterment of mankind.

Can it be said now that a great public need will not receive the same generous consideration and support that has been characteristic of Portland?

Give generously, and let it not be said that Portland in this regard was less generous to her own needs than she was to the cry of humanity in general.

MAYOR'S OFFICE
PORTLAND, OREGON

TO THE PUBLIC:

The Emanuel Hospital has started a campaign to raise $250,000 with which to build and equip the first unit of a modern hospital. This hospital when completed in its entirety will cost approximately a million dollars.

The need of further hospital facilities in Portland is great. The present hospitals are full to capacity all the time, and were this city visited with an epidemic or other unforeseen calamity, hospital facilities as they now are would be entirely inadequate. The Emanuel as conducted in the past and at the present time is a strictly modern, up-to-the-minute hospital where the best of care is always given. It has always been open to the general public and receives and treats patients, regardless of race, color or religion.

The City administration endorses the project and asks the aid of the citizens of Portland in the movement.

Respectfully,
Geo. L. Baker
MAYOR

STATE OF OREGON
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
SALEM
October 1, 1919.

TO THE PUBLIC:

One of the commendable enterprises now before the public is the campaign being waged by the Emanuel Hospital to raise a fund of Two Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars with which to build and equip the first unit of a modern hospital.

This hospital, located in Portland, has been serving the sick and injured since 1912, and finds that it must have more room and better equipment to keep pace with the demands being made upon it and the need for modern hospital service. When completed as now planned, the hospital will cost approximately a million dollars.

As the enterprise is worthy and the need is great and past experience has proven the character of service rendered, I take pleasure in endorsing this campaign for funds to build and equip the first unit of this hospital, and urge those who are able to give it their financial support.

Respectfully,
Gov. H. H. Hays
GOVERNOR.
