was elected first vice-president; Mrs. William Bell of Roseburg, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Hines of Forest Grove, recording secretary; Mrs. John Van Zandt of Portland, treasurer; Mrs. L. E. Bean of Eugene, auditor; Mrs. J. W. Sadler of Aurora and Mrs. E. T. Wade of Pendieton, directors, and Mrs. Charles H. Cast-ner of Hood River, federation director. "Progressives" Claim Victory.

As soon as the election was over the delegates made a "bee line" for the train, which left Corvallis at 5 c'clock. The one topic of interest throughout the entire convention had been the election.

The "progressive element" claim that the choice of Mrs. Callahan will that the choice of Mrs. Callahan will mean the infusion of new blood and new life into all club affairs and a greater interest in all child welfare, educational and constructive work. They opposed the election of Miss Beatty because they felt she represented the old conservative element. Mrs. Dunbar, in her nomination of the victorious candidates, said: "She is well qualified because of her sterling worth, her educational and executive ability and her broad humanitarian qualities."

The fact that the officers elected represent so many different localities — Corvallia, Princville, southern Oregon, Forest Grove, Portland, Eugene, Pendleton and Aurora—is a matter of gratification to all the clubwomen.

Meeting Time Changed.

One of the most important amendaments adopted was that which changes the time of the meeting of the federation from fall to spring. This was done to enable the teachers to be present, as they represent a for the great of the state. Mrs. Frederick Eggert voted against this, explaining her voted by saying she was instructed by the Portland Woman's club.
