

CITY TO DETERMINE ITS STAND TODAY

Contract for Tanks to Hold if Good Progress Is Made.

WORKERS IN CONFERENCE

Degree of Support to Be Given in Case General Strike Is Considered Need Is Discussed.

At the conclusion of a conference yesterday between representatives of the metal trades council and G. B. Hegardt, chief engineer for the dock commission, it was announced that no decision had been reached in regard to the continuation of work on the oil storage tanks at the St. Johns municipal terminal, and that there were no new developments in the strike situation.

Union men employed in the construction of the tanks and their tools last Friday when steel plates for the tanks were sent out by the Overmire Construction company, with non-union workmen from the plant. A small crew of non-union men is reported to be still at work on the oil tanks.

More Complications Possible. A conference was held by representatives of the metal trades council and the building trades council last night to determine to what extent the building trades will support the metal trades in their strike at the municipal terminal if such action becomes necessary in the view of the union men.

Mr. Hegardt said last night that he intended to make a trip of inspection to the scene of operations at the municipal terminal this morning to determine what progress is being made on the work. If the non-union forces at work there are making satisfactory progress, the contract let to C. C. Overmire by the commission of public docks will hold, and labor complications will probably follow.

Contract May Be Canceled. If, in the opinion of Mr. Hegardt, the work is not progressing rapidly enough, the dock commission can cancel its contract with Mr. Overmire and obtain its building materials from some shop which is approved by the labor unions, in which case, according to C. F. Hendrickson, secretary of the metal trades council, the workmen are more than willing to return to work and rush the oil tanks to completion.

Considerable interest is focused upon the progress of the work on the oil tanks at St. Johns because a few days' delay in their completion will mean the loss to Portland of a valuable cargo of oil. It is expected that the tanks will be completed by the steamer Coaxel of the Admiral line, which will be used to transport the oil to the tanks.

If the tanks and appliances for the handling of the oil are not ready, this portion of the cargo will be sent to Seattle for unloading.

STATE TO ASK DISMISSAL

JULIUS WILBUR LIQUOR CASE UP ON APPEAL

Defendant Said to Have Left State to Escape Serving Jail Sentence in Multnomah County.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The case of the state of Oregon against Julius Wilbur, formerly proprietor of the once notorious Friar's club at Milwaukie, which is now pending in the United States supreme court, will be dismissed, according to a decision reached by Attorney-General George M. Egan and Gilbert Hedges, district attorney of Clackamas county.

Wilbur was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine and serve a jail sentence for the sale of liquor made on September 23, 1918, in violation of the state prohibition law. He then appealed the case to the state supreme court, with the result that the appeal was dismissed.

Following the ruling of the Oregon supreme court the defendant appealed the action to the United States supreme court, but arguments were delayed because of the absence of Wilbur's attorney in France. This morning the attorney-general received a telegram from the defendant that the case probably would come up about October 24. Knowing that Wilbur had not filed a brief in the case, and that he had left the state in order to escape serving a jail sentence in Multnomah county, the attorney-general telegraphed to ascertain what action could be taken in having the case dismissed without creating the

CASCO SURVIVORS RETURN

GOLD HUNTERS STRANDED IN ARCTIC ON WAY HOME

Schooner, Once Property of Robert Louis Stevenson, Wrecked, Cannot Be Floated.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—Eleven members of a gold-seeking expedition which sailed from San Francisco for northern Siberia last summer aboard Robert Louis Stevenson's old schooner, the Casco, arrived here today on their way back to California. They said the Casco, wrecked on King Island, 60 miles north of Nome, Alaska, could not be floated.

Captain C. L. Oliver, master of the Casco, was taken to a hospital upon his arrival here, suffering from pneumonia contracted when he was knocked overboard when the Casco grounded while heading from the Arctic ocean to Nome.

The Casco, when it left San Francisco, was headed for the Kolyvan river country of northern Siberia. Early ice blocked the boat when she reached the mouth of the 400 miles west of Bering straits.

At North cape, the Casco left 12 knots to prosper the country and proceed overland. If possible, to the Kolyvan section.

Eric Smith, master of the Casco, who arrived here today, said the party planned to get another boat and return to the north next spring.

BRIDGE CONTRACT IS LET

SPAN ACROSS COWLITZ WILL COST $38,149.

Bids on Road Improvements Are Generally Lower Than Estimate of State Engineers.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Construction of a steel bridge across the Cowlitz river at Nesika, Lewis county, on State road No. 5, was contracted by the state highway commission today to the Union Bridge company of Seattle for $38,149. The official estimate was $42,000.

Discipline against lagging contractors was enforced by the commission today in rejecting bids of Anderson & Hutton, Ellensburg contractors, on Inland Empire highway grading between Wallula and Pasco, although it was low by more than $6000. Rejection was based by the commission on delay in completing a previous contract. It was officially stated. Contracts for grading were let by the state commission today as follows:

Inland Empire highway, 10 miles between Dodge and Central Ferry, General Contracting company, Spokane, $184,002. Estimate, $195,587.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS. Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat. When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means that you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; remove all the uric acid, which causes you to have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue in coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatism twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scarce and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.
