

COMMISSION EMPLOYING REDS

Senator Watson Names Pro-Huns in Fat Jobs. POLICE RECORDS CITED

Senator Demands Fair Deal for All Business and Says That Enemies of Government Are Enemies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Charges that the corps of federal trade commission examiners which investigated the meat packing business was packed with men who are avowed socialists, anarchists, reds and radicals, were made by Senator Watson, republican of Indiana, who today told the senate that the adherents of socialism were entrenched in every department of the government and introduced a resolution for an investigation.

The senate referred the resolution to a committee and Acting Chairman Murdock of the commission issued a statement declaring that if Senator Watson's resolution would be joined with one recently introduced by Senator Sherman, Illinois, charging the commission with conspiracy and both could be investigated at the same time "it would be recidivally in the public interest."

Trade Probed by Enemies. Disclaiming that he spoke in defense of the meat packers, who, he declared, should be punished if guilty of the charges made against them, Senator Watson told the senate his contention was that American business should not be investigated by men who avowed a policy to destroy it and that the government should not be represented by those who preach a doctrine of its overthrow.

Declaring that the Chicago offices of the trade commission from which the packers' investigation was conducted were "a center of sedition and anarchy—a nesting place for socialists," Senator Watson went through the list of men employed by the commission in the investigation and charged various individuals with being pro-German, anti-ally, admirers of Lenin and Trotsky, advocates of a soviet form of government, participants in red demonstrations, and disseminators of socialist propaganda.

Prober Called Red Leader. Of Stuart Chase, who had general charge of the packers' investigation, Senator Watson charged that besides being a well-known exponent of socialist doctrine, Chase was the president and organizer of the Fabian club of Chicago, "a society founded for the express purpose of gathering the doctrine of socialism."

"Grouped about him in this office at federal trade commission headquarters," Senator Watson charged, "were Victor Berger, Irwin St. John Tucker and many other extreme socialists. His office became the rendezvous of men devoted to the destruction of property and the overthrow of government."

Chase, Senator Watson further charged, helped organize a Chicago meeting at which Berger and other radicals made a speech in support of and also organized a meeting at which Lincoln Steffens spoke.

"That anarchist Lincoln Steffens," Senator Watson, referring to Steffens, "had just returned from Russia and his address was to aid in the recognition of Lenin and Trotsky by our government."

Government Happed in Article. Chase later wrote a magazine article, Senator Watson charged, in which the United States government for not recognizing the "Russian reds." On Chase's specific instructions, Senator Watson further charged, the commission accounts inflated the showing of profits of the packing companies.

Samuel W. Taylor, who, with Chase, had general charge of the investigation, Senator Watson charged, was an avowed admirer of Lenin and Trotsky and frequently expressed his admiration of the soviet government of Russia.

"He was pronouncedly against the allies in the world war," continued the senator, "and frequently made the statement that all big business should be confiscated by the government."

A. S. Kravitz, credited in the commission's report with "important aid in the investigation," Senator Watson charged, was "a Russian from Riga, an intellectual socialist of the most pronounced type and throughout the war intensely pro-German."

"He has always expressed himself as an ardent admirer of Lenin and Trotsky and claims to be a personal friend of Lenin. Frequently he has stated he is 'heart and soul for the German cause' throughout the war."

"FAITH OF THE STRONG" is the title under which is shown a drama dealing with the unraveling of a rugged French-Canadian community. The picture is now playing at the People's theater on a programme which contains a news picture, a cinema cartoon, paragraphs chosen from American newspapers of note and a ridiculous novelty "movie."

Mitchell Lewis has the lead in "Faith of the Strong" and depicts Paul La Rue, a French-Canadian famous for his great physical strength, combined with a nature sweet, gentle and wholesome. It is the faith of Paul La Rue upon which the drama hinges.

The missionary of the district told La Rue that he had only to ask of God and he would receive. Paul accordingly asked that his bitter enemy be brought into his power that revenge might be meted out. The enemy not immediately appearing, Paul's faith is shaken. In a moment of great strength, combined with a nature sweet, gentle and wholesome. It is the faith of Paul La Rue upon which the drama hinges.

The action revolved around the duchess, General J. W. Stewart, ex-head of the British royal navy, and W. Dudley Ward, member of parliament for Southampton.

The duke mentioned the fact that he had devised a scenario and would like to see it produced, and the drama was promptly staged by Douglas Fairbanks.

Mary Pickford agreed to take the part of a maid and Fairbanks played the villain.

"On my responsibility as a senator, I say these charges are true and the business world has a right to know the character of investigation to which it may be subjected. Congress has a right to know who appointed men of the type of official position, not only that they may be ousted, but that it may call to a speedy account the men responsible for their selection."

TROOPS ARE LANDED FOR DUTY ON PERS

"Shoot if Necessary." Order Is Given. NEW YORK REDS ACTIVE

Longshoremen Called Upon to Establish Workers' Government—Like Soviet of Russia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Five hundred soldiers of the regular army were landed here today from the transport George Washington to attempt to end the congestion at the army piers in Brooklyn caused by the longshoremen's strike. The men are under orders "to shoot if necessary," according to a statement made by Brigadier-General Peter Davidson, chief of troop movements at the port of embarkation. "The troops will aid in moving transports or do whatever else is necessary," said General Davidson.

The soldiers were landed at Hoboken and then transferred to Governor's island preliminary to duty at the army piers in Brooklyn. They comprised two battalions of the 12th regular infantry, 1st division, which was first in France and first in the fighting. Many had overseas shavers and wound stripes.

Circulars Are Distributed. Brigadier-General Davidson said that members of the 3th regiment at Camp Upton and Merritt, nearby, would be brought here if necessary. As the soldiers were arriving the police learned that incendiary circulars appealing for the establishment of a "workers' government like the soviet republic of Russia," were being distributed to the strikers.

The pamphlets read in part: "To striking longshoremen—A proclamation issued by the communist party of America, of Local Greater New York. "Sixty thousand longshoremen are on strike against the bosses, the government wage adjustment board and the scab unionism of the American Federation of Labor. Strikes means victory. Arbitration means defeat. "Unit with the striking express drivers, stevedores, freight handlers, platform men and chauffeurs for one big industrial transport workers' union."

"The government will send soldiers to take your places. Some are already doing the dirty work and 15,000 are on the way. How can you expect a square deal from the government?"

"The only way to get rid of the bosses' government is to establish a workers' government like the soviet republic of Russia."

Longshoreman Is Arrested. Frederick Antonchik, a Polish longshoreman, was arrested on a charge of disturbing the leaflets. He said they had been given to him by a delegate of the longshoremen's union. Antonchik claimed to have been in this country five years.

The International Mercantile Marine announced today that it would make no attempt to move cargoes pending further efforts to settle the strike by the committee appointed by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The shipping board announced that some men were at work at the army piers in Brooklyn.

PLEA OF GUILTY EXPECTED

Discrepancies Noted in Confession of Astoria Robber.

ASTORIA, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—As Frank Wagner evidently was the one who robbed the safe in the Walter Kallunki store, he is expected to plead guilty when brought before the circuit court. In order to dispose of his case as well as those against Albert Meadows and James Clegg as quickly as possible, District Attorney Harret will ask Judge Eskin to summon the grand jury to meet either November 2 or 5.

While Wagner apparently told a straight story in his confession, some discrepancies have since been noted in his tale. He said the robbery was committed on Monday, the night of August 15, and that he was waded to reach the basement of the store. There was low tide after 10 o'clock that night and the beach was dry for fully 200 feet out. Again, Wagner claims he was alone, but tracks of two men were plainly visible in the sand.

Making a purely vegetable Medicine

1875—1919

In 1875, Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., gathered and dried the roots and herbs which she used in the now famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, from the fields and forests,—then steeped them on her kitchen stove and filled a few bottles at a time, to alleviate the suffering of her women friends, neighbors and acquaintances, and the success of this medicine was unparalleled.

After 44 Years These illustrations show the present method by which vast quantities of this well-known remedy are produced and from exactly the same kind of roots and herbs used by Mrs. Pinkham in the beginning.

First—The various herbs used are of the finest quality, and gathered at the time their medicinal strength is the highest.

Second—After the herbs are properly ground and mixed, the medicinal properties are extracted by soaking in large stone jars, covered.

Third—Then the extract is drained through percolators, acting somewhat like a coffee percolator.

Fourth—To insure a thoroughly pure medicine, it is carefully pasteurized by heat in special apparatus, and bottled hot.

Throughout the entire process, from the crude herb to the finished medicine in bottle, cleanliness and exactness are the watch-words.

The Reliability of Testimonials Guaranteed

The testimonials published by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company come to them unsolicited. Never knowingly have they published an untruthful letter, never is a letter published without the written consent of the writer. The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness. It is easy to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; and their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.
