COLONEL ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL DRIVE ON

Oregon to Subscribe $38,090 for Monument.

PUPILS ARE INTERESTED

Reports Received at State Headquarters Indicate Thorough Organization in All Counties.

Roosevelt Memorial week was opened formally yesterday. A devoted band of workers started out in every county in the state to raise their portion of the state quota of $38,090 toward the $5,000,000 fund, which is being subscribed throughout the nation for erecting a permanent monument to the late ex-president at Washington, D. C., to acquire and maintain a public park at Oyster Bay, which ultimately will include the Roosevelt home on Sagamore Hill, and to endow a national memorial association to perpetuate Theodore Roosevelt's ideals of American citizenship.

The Multnomah county campaign was opened yesterday by Jacob Kanzler, county chairman. Under the direction of Arthur I. Moulton, chairman of the speakers' bureau, various speakers called at high schools and public schools and delivered addresses upon the life and career of the late ex-president. This work will be continued throughout the week and speakers also will visit various civic gatherings.

Figures Not Available.

Volunteer workers also started to make a canvass of the city and county and Roosevelt subscription books were delivered to workers in various industrial plants. Although no totals so far are available as the result of the Multnomah county campaign, the canvass has been started and Judge Kanzler is hopeful that many thousands of members will be obtained for the Roosevelt Memorial association.

At state headquarters reports from county chairmen indicate that the various county chairmen and their sub-committees are taking hold of the campaign in a fine spirit.

Lester Martin, county chairman for Lincoln county, writes to state headquarters that he has every assurance of a strong and willing support of the campaign from many parts of the county. C. S. Davis has been appointed chairman of the Newport district and C. D. Hawkins treasurer. Professor Teats is in charge of the school work and the Boy Scouts; Rev. Mr. Bush of the church work. Other active members of the Newport committee are: Dr. Walter M. Berry, L. C. Smith, Dr. Minthorn, J. H. W. Anderson and William Mathews.

Mr. Davis, the Newport chairman, is secretary of the Newport commercial club. Mr. Martin also has appointed Judge R. R. Miller chairman for the east end of the county and the latter has organized a committee to assist him, composed of the following: J. E. Cooter, secretary; J. E. Booth, treasurer; W. F. Wakefield, Edville; Charles Dickson, Elk City; George Smith, Chitwood; George Wilson, Nortons; Darwin Nash, Nashville; Ed Chalcraft, Siletz; Dr. F. M. Carter, Siletz schools; Professor W. A. Cox, Toledo schools; Rev. C. R. Elsworth, church work, Toledo.

Cash Prizes Offered.

Francis A. McMenamin, county chairman for Morrow county, and a committee of Heppner business men have given $50 in cash prizes to be divided between the high school division and the grade school division for the best essay on Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. McMenamin appeared before the teachers' institute last week and presented the educational features of the campaign, securing the enthusiastic co-operation of the teachers of the county.

C. W. Robinson, county chairman for Clatsop county, has appointed an executive committee to assist him in raising Clatsop's quota of $1080, composed of James Bremmer, Frank Sanborn, W. P. O'Brien, John H. Smith, Otto Owen, C. I. Barr, Brenham Van Dusen, Theodore Higgins, R. W. Skallerud, E. T. Gooch, A. Dalgity and Howard Zimmerman.

Lane county is well organized under the leadership of Mrs. W. W. Calkins. Small banks have been placed in banks and theaters throughout the county to receive donations toward the county quota of $950.

B. L. Eddy, county chairman for Douglas county, has appointed an executive committee to make a campaign this week.

Roy W. Ritner has an active committee at work in Umatilla county.

School Children Busy.

At all of the schools and colleges of the state special committees are holding Roosevelt memorial meetings and organizing campaigns for members.

Throughout the state arrangements are being made for memorial meetings on Roosevelt's birthday, October 27, and it now seems certain that such meetings will be held in almost every city, town and hamlet in the state. In many cities the mayors are appointing special committees to arrange these public exercises.

In Portland the meeting will be held in the auditorium, prominent speakers will appear, and the victory chorus already has volunteered to appear.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—John B. Fryrear, who died at Mill City September 27, was an Oregon pioneer of 1853 and had lived in this state for 66 years. He was an early settler in Linn county, and for the past 37 years had resided near Sisters, in Deschutes county. He was almost 86 years of age.

EPIDEMIC FEARS QUIETED

City Health Official Says Diphtheria Situation Not Serious.

Although 50 cases of diphtheria are registered at the city health bureau, the situation is not alarming, according to City Health Officer Parrish. In fact, the city health officer is confident that no great increase in the disease will be shown in reports during the next few days.

No decrease in the number of cases registered is expected until next week, when the quarantine of the first cases reported will expire.

The diphtheria cases first were discovered in two schools, 16 cases in the Woodlawn school and 14 cases in the Fernwood school. Since the discovery of these the health bureau has been informed of 20 additional cases. With few exceptions, all are mild and few of the afflicted are in dangerous condition.

BOYS' CONVENTION ENDS

Y. M. C. A. Meeting at The Dalles Addressed by Mr. Rhodes.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The older boys' convention officially ended last night after one of the most encouraging meetings ever held in this state. The conference was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. with Paul N. Newmeyer as director. Pulpits of local churches were filled yesterday by young men attending the meeting. In the afternoon Ivan B. Rhodes, state secretary of the "Y," addressed the youths on the subject, "A Question of Allegiance."

At 7:30 o'clock last night in the local high school assembly room, Mr. Rhodes again addressed the conference, discussing "Oregon's Challenge to Her Boys." Reports were made by committees.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS LAND

Two Members of Stefansson's Expedition Reach Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—A. G. Gumaer and Martin Kilian, the last members of Vilhjalmur Stefansson's Canadian Arctic expedition to return from the Arctic, arrived here today from Nome, Alaska, on their way to Victoria, B. C., the port from which Stefansson sailed north six years ago.

Gumaer and Kilian joined the Stefansson expedition in the north and were with Storker Storkerson, Stefanson's lieutenant, when he drifted eight months on an ice floe in an unsuccessful attempt to find a current leading across the Arctic from Alaska to Siberia.

Change in Time Hits Boise.

BOISE, Idaho, Oct. 20.—(Special.)—By placing Idaho on Pacific coast time, the southern part of this state virtually loses two hours of twilight on October 26. To overcome the handicap merchants in Boise are seriously considering closing their places of business on and after that date an hour earlier. On October 26 the daylight saving law ceases to exist, and all sections go back to their old time, but through a rearrangement of zones last summer southern Idaho was placed on Pacific instead of intermountain time which makes it one hour shorter than formerly.

NEAR EAST CLINGS TO FREEDOM'S HOPE

People Ready Even to Flout Paris Conference.

BLUFF ALLOWANCE MADE

Reaction From War and Renewal of Constantinople's Authority Reviewed as Major Causes.

BY WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

(Copyright by the New York Herald Company. All rights reserved.)

PALESTINE.—General ferment is more important news than local fact. No particular phase or incident of the present situation in the near east is of as great significance as the condition of things as a whole. Like the breaking up of a northern winter with swoolen streams that carry logs to the mills, but also smash bridges and houses on the way, so the swirl and rush and upheaval of life in the near east is bearing desirable commodities to market, but it is also wrecking ancient and honored structures.

There is an almost uncanny meaning to events in this central part of the world. There always has been. What happens here eventually affects the remotest confines of civilization. This is the land of origins.

What begins here continues elsewhere. The Hebrew prophets who spoke to a little and apparently negligible people are still speaking all over the earth. A Nazareth Carpenter was manifested here as the whole world's Saviour. A Mecca camel driver, wandering over this region, heard voices and saw visions that made him God's prophet to about one-seventh of the human race. This spot has been central to the most momentous political movements of history.

History's Spotlight on Stage.

Again this theater of classic and religious history is crowding forward to claim portals of the Orient—Constantinople, the Suez canal and the Persian gulf. Soldiers of all the European nations swagger through the cities and byways of the near east.

Most ominously out of the desert have come swart figures, clad in picturesque costume, trebly armed and swaggering in the consciousness or conviction that the east is coming to its own again. They regard the presence of western troops as a passing phase.

Among them one hears strange and audacious talk of Pan-Arabic leagues and independencies; of Pan-Islam's power; of war to the death for independence; of present and possible conflicts with European forces. Were the observer unaware of the penchant of the Oriental for dreaming and talking rather than for doing, these would be alarming symptoms indeed.

Orient May Flout Paris.

Shaken out of immemorial patience by the world war, the native peoples of the near east—and what a mixed multitude they are!—are now in a state of flux and change and uncertainty. They have developed a keen interest in themselves and in the programme of the powers.

All of them, from the Armenians to the Yezidis—to mention the alphabetical extremes—are talking about their wrongs and their rights. None of them will relapse into the old order. Things will never again be as they were before the war. As well expect a revival of the Hittite empire as to look for a return of the ante-bellum status of Syrians, Armenians, Turks, Egyptians, Kurds, Arabs, Greeks, Yezidis, etc. "Self-determination" is getting in its vitalizing and intoxicating work in the most remote and unexpected places. Always, too, it is to be remembered that out here people argue with guns and knives.

Making all allowance for bluster and bluff, it is still clear that these people are ready to flout the Paris conference, if it does not give them what they consider a square deal. They refuse to be made lifeless pawns in a game between European powers. Syria, for example, says she will fight unless permitted to become a united nation, from the Egyptian border to the Taurus mountains, and from the Mediterranean to the desert, with a clear prospect of eventual independence. Armenians, Georgians and Tartars are already fighting. So are the Greeks, Arabs and Egyptians. The Turks have lined up for guerrilla warfare against partition by Paris. Killings are so common that they are not reported. Nobody out here would be surprised at anything.

Orient's Bubbling Pot Viewed.

Apparent at a glance are several major forces which contribute to the present turmoil in the near east. Reaction from war's strain and the renewal of Constantinople's authority are manifest factors. Ambition for "self-determination" is another. The resentment at foreign aggression is a continous irritant. Ambition for a modern education for their sons is an influence increasingly at work upon parents. Economic hardships exert a steady pressure upon popular thought. Always in the background is the religious motive, like tinder awaiting a match.

The old crust of caste and conservation has been cracked and is crumbling. For better or for worse, the east has entered upon a new era. Some men who are close to conditions are utterly pessimistic, even indulging in wild imaginings of new oriental hordes to overrun Europe. Doubtless there is warrant for the statement that the present problem is what the Orient may do to the west, as well as what the west will do to the Orient. The world's responsibilities to the eastward were never so grave as today.

HOME OWNERS HELD NEED

REALTOR SAYS "CHEAPER TO RENT THAN BUY" FALLACY.

Southwest Washington and Oregon Realty Men Hold Convention at Hoquiam.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—"The smaller the number of home owners, the more irresponsible is the voting population of a city," E. B. Arthaud, president, declared in an address at the southwestern Washington district convention of the Interstate Realty association here last night. About 125 realtors from all parts of southwestern Washington, Puget Sound cities and Portland were in attendance.

"The old assertion that 'It is cheaper to rent than to buy' is a greater fallacy than anything offered by the bolshevists, and as dangerous as anarchy," was Mr. Arthaud's conclusion.

State Senator F. W. Loomis held the tourist a financial asset to every city on the coast, pointing out that state highway officials estimate 30,000 tourists spent $9,000,000 in Washington during the last year, and that an average of more than 250 tourist automobiles passed through Spokane daily.

Other speakers were: E. S. Goodwin of Seattle, Paul Cowgill of Portland, H. E. Lambuth of Seattle, L. H. Wheeler of Olympia, Senator Judd of Chehalis, W. E. Campbell, Hoquiam city attorney; H. S. Shorey, county engineer; Edward H. Miller of Tacoma, President Elliott of the Tacoma board, A. E. Cross of Aberdeen and J. H. Roberts of Centralia. Wheeler, Judd and Roberts won prizes in a five-minute speech contest in which the respective merits of each realtors home city were the topic.

JAPS FAST GETTING LAND

Holdings in California Shown to Be Steadily Increasing.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Former Hood River county residents now living in California, almost without exception, send word of encouragement to a movement started by orchardists here to prevent the purchase or leasing of fruit lands.

D. I. Stone, who formerly resided on the upper West Fork and who now lives at Santa Ana, Cal., says: "In 1913 Kern, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial counties, California, had, according to official figures, 4670 acres of land owned by Japanese. In 1919, by authentic estimates, Japanese own 195,000 acres, an increase of about 2500 per cent in seven years."

FIRE CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Man, 80, Worries Over Loss of House on Son's Farm.

CORVALLIS, Or. Oct. 20.—(Special.)—"Jack" Tharp, past 80 years of age, shot himself in the right breast Sunday while the family were away from their Alsea home for a short time, and he was found dead when the family returned. The old man had used a 22 rifle. It was thought he was a victim of worry that followed the burning of his son's home a few weeks ago, a conflagration from which he himself escaped only by aid of a rocking chair.

Neighbors assisted recently in tearing down an old house on the place and building a temporary residence for the unfortunate people, and it is here they have been living since the fire. On Sunday George and his wife were out in the field working. When they returned home they found the old man had killed himself.

CHEHALIS SALES BRISK

Demand for City and Suburban Property Reported Strong.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Demand for Chehalis property continues brisk, according to reports of local dealers. A. A. Broderick purchased the Mattie Robinson house on Quincy avenue. Albert Irish sold his three acres on Coal creek to Alice M. Pierce of Tumwater, Wash. J. M. Wallace bought Riley's State-street dwelling for $1500. C. P. Fulton, local agent at the union station, bought the W. M. Parge residence on Adams avenue for $2650. John H. Urich has purchased the William Lynch dwelling on James street for $650. C. M. Lindell sold two Prindle-street dwellings to Fred Aust for $1600. Fred Dahlman bought Wasile Branzak's Fourth-street residence for $700. B Riley bought the Fourth-street residence of R. A. GOLD OUTPUT INCREASING

More Than $2,000,000 Taken From Seward District This Year.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—More than $2,000,000 in gold was mined on the Seward peninsula, Alaska, this year, Jafet Lindeberg, president of a Nome, Alaska, mining company and one of the discoverers of Nome's gold-bearing sands, said here today on his return from the north. This year's output was $750,000 greater than last year's total.

Lindeberg came down from Nome on the liner Victoria, which brought $700,000 in gold bullion, consigned to banks in Seattle and Tacoma. The Victoria leaves this week on her last trip of the year to Nome.

"There should be no delay in the Victoria's departure," Lindeberg said. "Nome is in need of the supplies she will carry and if she is delayed and prevented by ice from unloading the little camp will suffer this winter."

Verse Appealing for Short Hours, More Pay Found on Box Car.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—

Eight hours' sleep,
Eight hours' play,
Eight hours' work,
Eight dollars a day.

This verse, evidently expressing the ideals of some workman, was written with chalk on the side of a freight car containing lumber which arrived in Albany this week for a local manufacturing plant. It attracted considerable attention.

COLLEGE "Y" IN SESSION

Willamette University Represented at McMinnville Meeting.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Twenty-six delegates represented the Willamette organization at the state college Y. M. C. A. conference at McMinnville Saturday and Sunday. The total number of delegates was in excess of 60, the following institutions of Oregon being represented: University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural college, Pacific college, Portland Y. M. C. A. school, Chemawa Indian school, McMinnville college and Willamette university.

The conference was held to rally the Christian associations of the various colleges to the year's work and to emphasize the two big national conventions of the year—the Y. M. C. A. convention to be held in Detroit during November, and the Student Volunteer Movement gathering in Des Moines, Iowa, December 31 to January 4. World fellowship was discussed at the McMinnville conference.

ALBANY SHORT OF LABOR

Rush of Building Is On and Even Unskilled Help Lacking.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The great demand for workmen now existing in this city, where a great deal of building is in progress and where business is good in all lines, is shown by the experience of the manager of a local maufacturing plant Saturday.

He had a rush order and as part of the work could be handled by unskilled labor, he started out on the streets to see if he could find a man or two for a few hours' work. After scouring the streets in vain for almost an hour he found one idle man.

"Here is my chance," he thought, so he called the man by name and asked him what he was doing.

"I am hunting three or four men to help me on a carpenter job," was the reply, "but I can't find anyone."
