PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 22—
(Special.)—The big five-masted schooner ostrander arrived this morning 45 days from Shanghai in ballast. After receiving pratique she proceeded to Tacoma, where she will dock for cleaning. When entering Juan de Fuca strails she had a narrow escape from going on Flattery rocks. The mate was on duty. The captain, coming on deck, discovered his vessel within two ship's lengths of the rocks. He immediately let go both anchors, thus saving the ship from piling up on the rocks.

District-Attorney Accepts Plea of Guilty to Avoid Expense of Calling Arizona People.

William H. Crawford, alias Carter, who forged and successfully cashed a check for $5000 on Wakefield-Fries & Co. last spring and was extradited from Eastland, Tex., abandoned his alibi yesterday on the promise of the district attorney's office to recommend a light sentence, and pleaded guilty to larceny in an office. He was sentenced to from one to three years by Presiding Judge Gatens, on recommendation of Deputy District Attorney Mowry.

Heavy Expense Feared.

Two reasons were given last night by Joseph L. Hammersly, chief deputy in the office of District Attorney Expans, for permitting Crawford to plead guilty to the lesser crime. One was the heavy expense of a trial on the forgery indictment, which would have involved bringing witnesses from Texas and Arizona. The other was the difficulty in proving that the was the difficulty in proving that the crime was committed in Multnomah county, though there was no question that the check was stolen here.
