

WIDOWS REVEAL BRYAN'S PLOT

Seattle Police Arrest Mother of Man in Case.

LETTER FOR MONEY CLEW

Puyallup Friend of Victim Tells of Correspondence; Prisoners' Safe Deposit Box Searched.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Mystery in connection with the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan, of Puyallup, whose body was found Monday in the exclusive Mount Baker park district, developed today in the arrest of Mrs. Anna Nemitz, mother of William Ray Ealy, 22-year-old painter called for investigation in connection with the crime. Mrs. Nemitz's arrest followed the long interview by Captains of Detectives Charles Tennant and a search of the safe-deposit box used jointly by Mrs. Nemitz and her son. About $3000 was found there.

"Completeness" was all that Captain Tennant would say when he had issued orders to take Mrs. Nemitz to the city jail. "Their statements do not dovetail."

Investigation by the detectives today revealed that Mrs. Nemitz made a hurried trip to the safe-deposit box Monday night, before her arrest. All of the money in it was taken out. She said this was for the purpose of obtaining bail for her son. She asserted that less than $500 was in the box.

Letter Causes Arrest. The result was the outcome of interrogation of both Mrs. Nemitz and Ealy regarding letters reported to have been written by Mrs. Bryan and Ealy. On receipt of information that Mrs. Bryan had shown one of Ealy's letters to a woman friend in Puyallup, Mrs. James Anderson, in which she had written that she should come to Seattle with her money without fail on Saturday, Captains of Detectives detailed detectives to work in Puyallup. Other correspondence is said to have been found, but this particular letter is anxiously sought by the police. It was definitely learned that Mrs. Bryan destroyed a number of letters and photographs in Puyallup Saturday morning before starting for Seattle.

Last this evening Crawford E. White and J. P. Gallagher, attorneys for Mrs. Nemitz and Ealy, obtained a writ of habeas corpus which will return them at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. This will, it is believed, hasten charges by Tennant.

According to the story the detectives say they received from Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bryan revealed her friendship with Ealy. Mrs. Anderson said, the detectives assert, that Mrs. Bryan told her she had been corresponding with Ealy for some time, and on September 25 received postoffice box No. 115 in Puyallup so that her letters from Ealy would not be delivered at her home in Seattle.

Letter Asked for $4500. On October 15, according to Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bryan showed her a letter from Ealy in which he asked her to get $4500 for him. The letter said the wife's share of the Bryan community assets and of which she had told him in a previous letter—and bring it to Seattle.

Ealy said in the letter, Mrs. Anderson says, that he would put with the $4500 some of the money that he would go to Los Angeles, where he would open a garage.

Mrs. Anderson said the officers Mrs. Bryan answered Ealy by saying she could not get the money until Saturday, October 18. She said she would leave Puyallup for Seattle on the 2:15 interurban, and would register at the Plaza hotel under the name of Mrs. Beth Gallagher.

Mrs. Anderson said that on Saturday, October 18, Mrs. Bryan gave her a letter to mail to her home in Seattle. Mrs. Anderson says she frequently cared for Mrs. Bryan's two babies when the latter went away from home.

Although William Ealy has been questioned several times by Captain Tennant, he has remained unshaken in his original story.

THE WAGGON ROAD TO PROGRESS

J. S. Stewart Plans Campaign for Constitutional Change.

SPENCE LISTED AS Foe

All Bonds Authorized Would Not Necessarily Issue, but Government Would Be Matched.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—A campaign in behalf of a proposed amendment to the constitution of Oregon whereby it will be possible to create an indebtedness for road construction and improvements equal to 6 per cent of the assessed valuation of property in the state has been undertaken by James S. Stewart, representative from Wheeler county but now a resident of Corvallis, in accordance with a suggestion made by the county judges in an annual convention in Portland a few weeks ago. Working with Mr. Stewart in the drafting of the amendment is Rufus Holman, county commissioner of Multnomah county, and Walter Evans, district attorney.

Mr. Stewart passed this afternoon in Salem in conferring with the secretary of state and outlining his plans for the campaign. An amendment will be prepared within the next few days, according to Mr. Stewart, and will be referred to the voters next week. It will then be referred to the attorney-general for ballot title, and if approved by that official, no time will be lost in having the amendment introduced into circulation. Mr. Stewart says the amendment will come before the voters in the general election to be held next November, thereby giving the circulators of the petitions almost a year to obtain the necessary signatures.

Limit Now Is 2 Per Cent. Under the constitution the indebtedness limit for road construction and improvements is 2 per cent of the assessed property valuations, said Mr. Stewart today.

"This means that the state has a right to issue bonds through legislative enactment to a sum not exceeding $20,000,000, based on the present property valuations of Oregon, which is total property valuation. While only a part of this amount is actually represented in bonds for road construction, practically the entire amount is available for the use of the state, and the sum of $40,000,000, not including the unexpended part of the $20,000,000 already authorized by the electorate.

"Because of the attitude of the government toward the highways I feel that the voters' construction of the constitutional amendment, thereby placing the state in a position to issue federal appropriations for road work in this state.

"By voting the authority of indebtedness to the voters, it would be a measure intended to guard against interruption in the state's campaign now being carried on.

Legislative Authority Needed. "It is also well for the voters to know that no amendment can be introduced into this amendment can be issued without sanction and action of the legislature. This, I believe, is a fact which the voters should be aware of in the passage of the amendment.

Representative Stewart says that if the amendment carries at the polls he will not be content with the money to levy a direct tax to pay off any of the subsequent obligations resulting from the proposed bonds.

"In my opinion," said Mr. Stewart, "that the normal increase in automobiles in Oregon and a slight increase in the price of gasoline, distillate and other motor oils will pay off the indebtedness. While I do not believe in a procedure which is necessary, I am convinced that the automobile owners would not object to a slight increase in the price of gasoline."

Spence Expected to Fight. "Although Mr. Stewart says that he expects no opposition to the amendment at the hands of C. E. Spence, master of the state garage, who is the only member of the Union county, he declares he will pass practically all of the time intervening between the filing of the amendment and the election, if necessary, in stumping the state in behalf of the measure.

Booth, Simon Benson and W. L. Thompson, members of the state high way commission, favor the amendment according to Mr. Stewart, although there has been a slight hitch regarding the extent of the limitation on the filing of the amendment.

In passing this amendment the state indebtedness limit will be on a par with other states, and he has the thanks of the capitol "crowd" for his donation.

C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, will go to Portland tomorrow, where on Friday noon he will attend a meeting of the executive board of the Columbia river basin branch of the national safety council.

Will Kirk, member of the state industrial accident commission, returned here this morning from Portland where he was summoned as a witness in a state case in the circuit court for Multnomah county.

W. Lair Thompson of Portland was a visitor at the capitol today. During his stay here he enjoyed a brief visit with Governor Olcott and other officials. Mr. Thompson formerly resided in Lake county and for several terms represented the people of his district in the legislature.

R. A. Klein, secretary of the state highway commission, left for Portland at noon today to testify for the government in what is known as the "paying trust" case now on trial in the federal courts.

Sam Koser, assistant secretary of Astoria and Beasde, where he will enjoy his vacation. He was joined in Portland by Mrs. Koser, who preceded him to that city several days ago.

BEARS FEED IN ORCHARDS

Scarcity of Berries in Mountains Drives Them Out to Hunters.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Because of the scarcity of huckleberries this year, bears, which inhabit the Cascade mountains in eastern Oregon, are turning their attention to orchards in the foothills. Five bears have been killed within the month in the Jordan district east of Seilo.

Fred H. Peppering, who was in Albany yesterday, has trapped three of the bears captured this season in that vicinity. John Sheldon got one and the other was shot last week by Henry Neal, an itinerant woodsman.

Four of the animals were black bears but the one Neal shot was a grizzly bear. The grizzly bear had been trying to dig out a yellow jacket's nest for its hair was full of yellow jackets, which apparently had been stung in the hair of the bear and died there.

HUNT FOR HOMES FUTILE

VISITORS BESIEGE THE DALLES COMMERCE CHAMBER.

LITTLE BUILDING IS IN PROGRESS and High Rents Drive Many Residents From City.

THE DALLES, Or., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Dozens of persons are seeking homes in The Dalles. The present congestion is harmful to the city. Every day home seekers appear at the office of the chamber of commerce to ask for accommodations for the night. The chamber has no quarters provided, but are told that no quarters are available.

"Just yesterday," said Secretary Patterson of the chamber of commerce, "a woman with two small children was endeavoring to find a home here. The mother asserted that with the advent of winter she would be unable to stay in a tent. As the Masonic Temple apartments will not be ready for occupancy for several weeks yet, no relief could be accorded the woman."

The building is going on here and only a small amount is contemplated. Conditions are growing steadily worse and the chamber of commerce is endeavoring to get the merchants of the city to daily losing hundreds of dollars worth of business. No concerted definite programme has yet been outlined to the care of those in this situation. The lack of houses has increased rents which is driving many residents from The Dalles.

A new location was chosen for the enlarged mill. The mill, which was burned, stood in the southwest corner of the town, adjoining the business houses of Peoria, being just south of the store of Lamar & Lamar. It is because of the war that the perfect physical man has all at once become the idol of the world. You can make of yourself, even rather late in life, almost anything you like. You are not going to get fit in one day, one month, or perhaps, a year, unless you take enough outdoor exercise to keep the circulation going and practise the athlete's first principle—to keep the system clean. He does not give his body a chance to absorb poisons. He not only takes his cold shower, after exercise, but he knows a cleansing of the intestines is important, and he takes occasionally a good regulator and liver cleanser, such as a dose of castor oil, or what is much better, a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in the land as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Keep the kidneys in good order also. Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anuric"
