SEVERE PENALTIES ASKED
TRAFFIC OFFICERS DISCUSS AUTO THEFT REMEDY.

Co-operation of Courts Held Necessary; Police and Sheriffs to Work Together.

That the courts of the country are not dealing severely enough with automobile thieves was the almost unanimous sentiment at the recent convention of the National Traffic Officers' association held in Seattle, according to Chief of Police Johnson, who has just returned from that gathering.

Chief Johnson said officers gathered at the convention expressed the belief that if more drastic penalties were imposed in cases of auto theft, it would be a great assistance in the stamping out of auto thieving.

The chief expressed the belief that a plan of co-operation between the police and sheriff's offices all over the country would be worked out as the result of the gathering in Seattle, and thereby more speedy arrests made in cases of auto theft.

"Portland is doing a great deal in a thorough check of garages and this was received by the delegates at the gathering as a step in the eradication of auto thieving," said Chief Johnson. "We expect as soon as we get our new bureau for the handling of auto thefts in operation we will have as complete a set of records as anywhere in the country. This will be of great assistance in running down thieves."

Women's Activities
THE Portland Woman's club will meet today in the ballroom of the Multnomah hotel. W. D. Wheelwright will speak at 2 o'clock. Mr. Wheelwright will have as his subject "Japan," a country he visited recently.

SISTERS FIGHT, JAILED

30 AND 64-DAY SENTENCES IMPOSED FOR DRUNKENNESS.

Husband of One Enters Locked Home Through Window and Gets 20 Days for Having Liquor.

"Lay on, McDuff," or something of that sort, said Della Fletcher to her sister, Iva Freed, when they met in front of Mrs. Fletcher's barber shop at Grand avenue and East Morrison street Wednesday night to settle a family feud. And neither cried "Hold! Enough!" until Patrolman E. Thorpe came along and, attracted by the fight fans watching the contest, arrested the two brawlers on a charge of drunkenness.

Iva Freed was given 30 days in jail by Municipal Judge Rossman yesterday morning and Della Fletcher drew a 64-day sentence. Sixty days of the latter sentence was suspended, however, in case of good behavior.

It was an eventful night for the Fletcher family. H. R. Fletcher arrived home late that night. Mrs. Fletcher had been arrested and the house was locked, so he went through a basement window.

Police Sergeant Crane and Patrolman White saw Fletcher enter his home in this burglar-like fashion, so they began to investigate. They knocked on the door and he came to open it for them, making a great show of having been in bed. He was investigated and arrested on a charge

HERMISTON SHOW DRAWS

Dairymen's Convention Meets During Dairy and Hog Event.

Several Portland men are in Hermiston this week attending the State Dairymen's convention and the seventh annual Hermiston dairy and hog show. R. L. Sabin is representing the Oregon Dairy council and M. S. Shrock the dairymen's league. C. L. Hawley of McCoy, also a member of the council, president of the Oregon Purebred Livestock association and a breeder of Guernseys, stopped in Portland en route to the show.

Fred Bennion, county agent of Umatilla county, writes to the dairy council, stating that there is an excellent opening in that part of the state for dairymen. Milk has become so scarce that the price has gone up to 20 cents a quart and he says the only chance to reduce the price will be to add more cows to the few in that locality.

The dairy and hog show in Umatilla county formerly was held in large tents, but this year the farmers and business men of Hermiston raised enough money to provide lumber for a shed 400 feet long and the entire population turned out for three days

SHE FEELS SHE IS SAFE

When Buying A Charter Oak.
Why? Because she knows what she is buying. Her mother and her mother's mother used the CHARTER OAK.

Where substitution "doesn't go" there is no necessity or room for argument with anyone who comes into a store and makes the Statement that a Charter Oak Stove or Range is wanted. It is, in such a case, only a question of size, style and price. Something claimed to be "just as good" cannot be sold to a person who has once used a Charter Oak.

DICK TO ADDRESS BOARD
Industrial Site Development Topic for Realty Luncheon.
R. G. Dick, formerly commissioner of public works and now engineer for the committee of 15 citizens named to investigate industrial site development in Portland, will be the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon and meeting of the Portland Realty board this noon at the crystal room of the Benson hotel. Mr. Dick will outline the progress made by the committee in this work.
The programme was arranged as a direct result of a motion passed last week at the instigation of Coe A. McKenna, in which it was voted that the realty board co-operate with other civic organizations in furthering industrial site development and that the engineer of the committee of 15 be called in to explain before the board the plans now being worked out. Mr. McKenna will be chairman of the day. W. B. Shively, chairman of the league committee, will have as his subject this week "Where an agent of a fire insurance company issues a policy to himself on his own property, can he, in the event of a fire loss, recover the insurance?"
