

EUROPE CALLS FOR 2 BILLIONS CREDIT

People Must Save and Produce, Says Financier.

EXPORT DROP PREDICTED

International Trade Conference Is Informed U. S. Supply of Textiles Will Be Ample.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 22.—The United States faces the problem of extending by next summer approximately $2,000,000,000 in international credits to the war-torn countries of Europe, Dwight W. Morrow of J. P. Morgan & Co. declared in an address on "the problem of international credits" before the international trade conference here tonight.

He said that the people in this country would have to "produce and save" to aid in this big financial plan.

European countries are not coming to the United States seeking charity, Mr. Morrow said, but they are asking us in our strength to co-operate with them in their struggle to rebuild and restore their productive capacity.

In explaining that the export balance between this country and Europe inevitably affects the problem of international credits, Mr. Morrow said that the excess of merchandise exports from the United States over imports from Europe, from July 1, 1914, to July, 1919, amounted approximately to $14,200,000,000.

Export Excess Large.

During the first seven months of this year the excess of exports totaled $2,672,000,000, Mr. Morrow said. He explained that this "indicated that the first demand upon America for goods required by a world endeavoring to put itself back upon a peace footing is fully as great as the demand which it made in 1914."

"I believe, however, that the turn has come," he continued. "I believe the exports from the United States to Europe must gradually diminish, and that the imports into this country from Europe must gradually increase."

Formation in this country of a credit granting organization to partake security of struggling foreign nations, was urged by Secretary Redfield. The organization, which would be supervised by America's reserve board, would be capitalized at between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 and would issue bonds of small denominations and low rate of interest to be sold here.

Billions Must Be Needed.

The secretary said that several billion dollars would be needed for struggling nations in the next few years to place themselves on a firm footing. "I hope and believe," he added, "that we shall open our doors much more freely than we do now to receive goods from abroad. We cannot sell them so fast as we can buy."

The nations which united to crush Germany in the world war stand together in an effort to better industrial conditions throughout the world, Eugene Schneider, chairman of the French mission, declared in an address today. He added that without the United States he advocated "we must proclaim from the housetops that the world will emerge from the victory of the allied and Germany will win the war."

Isolation Held Impossible.

Our participation in the war, said Secretary Redfield in his address, no longer makes it possible for us to isolate ourselves from Europe.

"There have sprung young countries into life," he said, "Poland, Czechoslovakia, Armenia, China, Roumania and others. We are the parents of these people and cannot forsake them."

"What we must do if we can is to bring the entire credit-giving power of the country to bear on the problem. I hope we shall get an organization which will combine within itself the bank, the merchant and the merchant and the merchant of our people that desires to be included, which will represent the whole round sphere of American life."

"Such an organization," he added, "should be able to offer quick credits all over the world."

Textiles to Be Ample.

"I have seen," he continued, "three or four cases of propositions of loans abroad within the last month which have filled me with shame. We cannot take advantage of those who are in distress. We cannot for our own profit's sake, treat them other than as brothers. The profiteer has no place in this job."

The American sub-committee on textiles, metals and petroleum set forth that American production of these commodities would be ample to meet all requirements enumerated by foreign delegations, provided effective means of transacting the financial problem in a timely and efficient manner.

The petroleum committee adopted resolutions stating that "the petroleum industry of the United States will participate in any plan that will be worked out and will take its share of any type of international bonds or other forms of security created under such a plan."

The textiles committee reported that virtually the only textile product required from the United States will be raw cotton.

MINOR CHARGE PREFERRED

E. V. Knox Is Not to Be Held for Manslaughter Over Accident.

slaughter unless there should be further developments in the case, according to the opinion of Deputy District Attorney Deich yesterday.

"After a review of the case today I was satisfied that the facts were not such as to require a manslaughter charge," Deich said.

Knox is being held to face a city charge of reckless driving. The case will have to be tried yesterday, but was set over yesterday until Tuesday at 3 o'clock by Municipal Judge Rossmann.

ACCUSED STARTED NORTH

THREE ALLEGED MURDERERS IN OFFICERS' CUSTODY.

McDonalds, Charged With Killing Spokane Man, on Way to Washington for Trial.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 23.—Jewell Marie McDonald and Mrs. Helen Fay McDonald, sisters, accused of the murder of W. H. McNutt, Spokane, Wash., left here last night for Spokane, escorted by a Spokane police officer, after they had expressed themselves as confident of acquittal.

McDonald, a brother, who had been in custody at Fresno, was added to the guards' charge when the party reached that city. The missing removal followed the failure of habeas corpus proceedings designed to halt extradition to Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Following investigation and further representation by the governor's office, Los Angeles authorities today telegraphed that habeas corpus proceedings had finally been dismissed in the McDonald extradition case and the accused women, Fay and Marie McDonald, and probably one brother, either Ted or William, were on the way to Spokane to answer the charge of murdering W. H. McNutt of that city.

The McDonalds because the extradition requirement bore the signature of Louis F. Hart as acting governor, his present legal title.

By inquiry the governor's office ascertained that the chief fault lay in the form of complaint and certification forwarded from Spokane and the prisoners were held until these could be corrected. According to Spokane information the crime was traced to the McDonalds sufficiently to justify their arrest.

McDonalds formerly lived in Whitman county, where the father, now dead, was a superior court judge.

HOUSE HEARS CONDITIONS

"I communicated the peace conditions to Colonel House on the 20th and the 21st presented the declaration of submarine warfare. Afterwards I negotiated with nobody."

Dr. Sinshelmer read Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's reply to Von Bernstorff, accepting mediation, but declining to make public Germany's conditions, because in the face of the sternly announced terms that would have been regarded as a sign of weakness and would prolong the war.

For President Wilson's personal information and as a proof of confidence, however, Von Bethmann-Hollweg outlined Germany's conditions

WILSON'S OFFER IS SCORNED BY KAISER

Germans Probing War Cause Develop Sensation.

U. S. NOT SERIOUSLY TAKEN

Von Bernstorff Says Ludendorff Championed U-Boat Campaign in Face of Peace Move.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(By the Associated.)—President Wilson's peace offer was a matter of little concern to the German emperor, according to the evidence presented before the subcommittee investigating the war.

Furthermore, the intervention of the United States apparently was not very seriously considered by the emperor.

The development caused a sensation during the examination of Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador at Washington. The socialist deputy, Herr Sinshelmer, turned toward Von Bernstorff and said:

"The Kaiser's telegram, to which you refer, dated January 18, 1917, and addressed to Herr Zimmermann (former secretary), is the program which majesty instructs me to thank you for your communication. His majesty did not care a bit about President Wilson's offer. If a breach with America cannot be prevented, it cannot be helped. Events are developing."

Count von Bernstorff, another member of the board, recalled former days at Oregon.

The governor and the board of regents were honor guests at luncheon at the Hotel Osburn following the assembly. President and Mrs. Campbell and the deans of the schools of the university were hosts.

NEW COURTHOUSE ASKED

Jackson County Records Now Kept in Official Woodshed.

MEDFORD, Or., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The grand jury adjourned today with a recommendation that a new courthouse be built in Jackson county at the earliest possible moment.

According to the report county records which could never be replaced, worth hundreds of thousands of dollars have no vault room and many are being stored in the courthouse woodshed because there is no other place to put them.

The grand jury recommended the people be allowed to vote upon the question as soon as possible and in the meantime the county court contract fire-proof wings to the present building.

The jury report also contained a provision pledging the members to support a special election levying a rate for good roads to be built with state and government aid.

ASHLAND CHINAMAN INDICTED.

MEDFORD, Or., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—A true bill was returned by the grand jury against Wank Dong, a Chinaman of Ashland. The plaintiff is Jennie Wa Chung, an Ashland Chinese girl, who claims to be 16 years old now and has a baby several months old. The case revolves about the plaintiff's age, which will probably be the main contention in court.

Jennie's parents are a well-to-do Chinese couple who have lived in Ashland a long time.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Governor Olcott this morning administered the pledge of loyalty at an assembly of the largest number of university students held in Eugene. The fundamental obligation of the students to the state was expressed. The students took the pledge by rising.

"Loyalty is the keynote of the pledge," the governor said. "Loyalty to your state, to your nation and to the cause of the program with an address on the duties and the obligations of good citizenship, which he characterized as the fundamental principle on which this government is formed."

Henry McKinney of Baker, also a member of the board of regents, told of the advantages of education and the duties of the student both during and following his college course. He made a plea for wider vision among all students.

Vernon Vawter of Medford, another member of the board, recalled former days at Oregon.

The governor and the board of regents were honor guests at luncheon at the Hotel Osburn following the assembly. President and Mrs. Campbell and the deans of the schools of the university were hosts.

Under cross-examination Von Bernstorff quoted the German emperor and General Ludendorff on his (Bernstorff's) return from Washington. The emperor said Von Bernstorff had failed on two points, first, in allowing the British to confiscate the trunk of the former ambassador thought to contain his Mexican telegrams, and second, by permitting the United States to send James W. Gerard to Germany as ambassador.

Ludendorff accused him of attempting to make peace by agitating against the submarine warfare and declared that the U-boat war would bring peace in three months. He then told the former ambassador that President Wilson's peace proposal could not pass the reletstag; it would be championed only by the socialists, which was a "rotten peace" was impossible.

At today's sitting the question of Von Bernstorff's connection with President Wilson's peace efforts was discussed.

Von Bernstorff said that in his discussions with the United States government there was no question of the president's connection with Von Bernstorff's peace efforts.

Without America's help the entente could not have vanquished Germany. If we succeeded in preventing war with America a peace of understanding would at least have been possible.

Von Bernstorff also expressed the opinion that President Wilson would have raised no difficulties had the proposed world conference to settle peace solved the Polish question in a manner differing from President Wilson's ideas.

The discussion today turned largely upon the period of the declaration by Germany of her submarine warfare. Von Bernstorff testified that after President Wilson's message to congress on January 22, Colonel E. M. House, the president's confidential adviser, summoned him to New York and thereupon Von Bernstorff cabled his government saying that the United States did not intend to interfere in territorial questions, but wanted Germany's peace conditions made public as evidence of Germany's sincerity.

And adding "if the submarine warfare is begun straightaway, the president would feel it a blow in the face and war with America would be unavoidable."

Dr. Sinshelmer pointed out that Von Bernstorff was aware officially January 16 that submarine warfare had been decided on and that the ambassador presented a note to the Washington government concerning it on January 31. Von Bernstorff then continued:

"I communicated the peace conditions to Colonel House on the 20th and the 21st presented the declaration of submarine warfare. Afterwards I negotiated with nobody."

Dr. Sinshelmer read Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's reply to Von Bernstorff, accepting mediation, but declining to make public Germany's conditions, because in the face of the sternly announced terms that would have been regarded as a sign of weakness and would prolong the war.

For President Wilson's personal information and as a proof of confidence, however, Von Bethmann-Hollweg outlined Germany's conditions
