

AUSTRIAN PRESIDENT SIGNS PEACE TREATY

Pact to Be Effective With Ratification Notices.

PROTOCOL TO COME LATER

Finance Debate in National Assembly Developing Expected Line of Party Cleavage.

VIENNA, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Austrian president, Karl seitz, of the Austrian republic, Saturday signed the treaty of peace with the allied and associated governments.

This completes the acceptance by Austria of the treaty of St. Germain. The treaty will become effective when the formal notices of ratification by Austria and three of the principal allied and associated powers have been deposited in the French foreign office and this fact has been made public in a formal protocol.

VIENNA, Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The finance debate in the national assembly is developing the expected line of cleavage between the bourgeoisie, capitalist and radical elements.

Dr. Ottor Bauer, who resigned recently as minister of socialization, voicing the opinions of the radicals, resented constant appeal to the electorate for help as unbecoming to the country.

He said Austria deserved what she got and that now was the time to face the situation; to be frank with the allies, be done with makeshifts and exercise real self-assistance.

ITALIANS HEAR BOY SING

FOREIGN-BORN OF PORTLAND COLONY ENTERTAINED.

E. G. Fioralissi, Consul, Describes Opportunities of Study Offered by Library.

He was just 5 years old, but he could sing "Smiles" as though it were a page from the Jabberwock books, and applause didn't worry him a bit. It was small Tony Diorio, who served as principal comedian in the Italian programme given at the South Portland branch library, vying with Leonard Carlo, opera singer, for musical honors.

About 150 members of the Italian colony visited the library during the afternoon to enjoy the first community gathering of the year, as guests of the library association. Preparations were in charge of the two librarians, Miss Zelma Lowenberg and Miss Marguerite Fahri, assisted by Mrs. E. G. Fioralissi, Mrs. Ottavio Colistro, Mrs. William Grano, Mrs. Ferdinando De Blasio, Mrs. D. Scullio and Mrs. Giovanti, who served punch and wafers at the close of the programme.

The principal speaker was E. G. Fioralissi, Italian consul, who described the opportunities offered by the libraries and urged parents, as well as children, to take advantage of them.

Thomas Ambrose and Ernest Savarato furnished mandolin and guitar selections and accompanied Michel Savarato in vocal solos. Mrs. Zolzen gave a dramatic recitation and Lisa Lombardi sang. Ottavio Colistro spoke on the Italian federation. The crowning event of the afternoon was an opera number by Leonard Carlo, who has appeared in local musical productions.

The party is the second of a series given for the foreign-born citizens of Portland.

The governor said several towns near Wyoming coal mines are without fuel.

This information was received Saturday from the military aide to King Albert.

MEXICANS SLAY AVIATORS

and the formal inquest started. There was absolutely no question that the bodies were those of Connelly and Waterhouse. There was sufficient fresh remaining on the legs to show that the bodies were those of white men and the bloodstained army uniforms offered other conclusive proof.

Plane Found Looted. "It was getting late then, so we covered the bodies lightly with sand and placed a guard over them during the night. The following morning we again disinterred the bodies, placed them in caskets and carried them aboard the destroyer. Getting underway, the destroyer steamed slowly up the gulf to Guadalupe bay, 25 miles to the northward, where the plane piloted by Connelly and Waterhouse was discovered on the beach.

The two aviators had made a perfect landing, but Mexicans subsequently removed the motor from the fuselage, stole all the ammunition for the two machine guns and carried away other equipment. The motor evidently was too heavy to carry away, and it was found nearby. The wheels, engine, machine guns, compass and other equipment worth salvaging were taken aboard the Aaron Ward, and will be turned over to Colonel

H. L. Watson, commander of Rockwell field. "We took notes of all the messages scratched on the fuselage and wings, the first one of which was made five days after the men had landed. In this the men told how they had lost their way, how they had tried unsuccessfully to signal a passing boat; their lack of success at catching fish and the growing hunger which rapidly was making them weaker. On the last week of their vigil both men scratched a farewell message to their mothers. At that time the men must have been near starvation.

Fishes Recently Slaughtered. "On September 5 the aviators were picked up by two fishermen from the Mexican sloop Esperanza, who rowed them in a canoe to Bahia Los Angeles. It is doubtful if Connelly and Waterhouse were given anything very nourishing by the fishermen. Just what the two aviators did between the time they landed at Bahia Los Angeles, September 5, until they were murdered the night of September 11 is not known definitely. It is a possibility, however, that Waterhouse and Connelly could have secured food and shelter at the Los Flores mine, 12 miles to the southward, if they had had the strength to traverse the rough mountainous trail that led to this refuge.

"Through investigation conducted jointly by ourselves and the Mexican court officials, we found that Waterhouse and Connelly had been murdered by two fishermen from the Esperanza. Waterhouse was stabbed to death, evidently while he was asleep. Connelly was killed by a terrific blow from some instrument which fractured his skull. He also was stabbed. The evidence shows that the motive evidently was robbery. The Mexicans, however, secured only a few dollars.

Captain Discovers Bodies. "After the murder the Mexicans covered the bodies lightly with sand. A few hours later the morning of September 12, to be exact, the bodies were discovered by Captain Jack Ross of the American schooner Trojan. Ross' discovery was directly due to the fact that one arm of each of the aviators was sticking up out of the sand. The left finger of Connelly's right hand had been severed. Waterhouse's hand and arm showed several stab wounds.

"Aware of Mexico's customs concerning the dead, Captain Ross did not take the bodies aboard the Trojan. His report of the finding of the bodies did not reach the army intelligence office in Nogales until three days after Joe Richards personally reported to it. Richards found the bodies September 21, therefore, Richards will be paid the $1000 reward offered by the government for information leading to the recovery of the bodies and the airplane.

Fishermen Slay, Flee. "Immediately after tracing the murderers, Judge Castillo got in touch with H. Metzgas, governor of the southern district of Lower California, into whose territory the fishermen had fled. The murder occurred in territory under the jurisdiction of Governor Cantu, and the trial of the men, if they are captured, probably will be conducted by courts of the northern district. Major Bratton sent a long telegraphic report of his investigation to the adjutant-general of the army at Washington.

Full military honors were accorded the aviators as the caskets, draped with the Stars and Stripes, were carried from the deck of the destroyer to the main deck of the sloop.

Parents of both Waterhouse and Connelly were at the dock to meet the destroyer when she docked at noon. The body of Waterhouse will be shipped to Weiser, Idaho, tomorrow afternoon for interment. Connelly will be buried with military honors in the post cemetery on Point Loma, Tuesday afternoon. The brothers' airmen, Lieutenants G. M. Bates, O. R. Quinn and C. E. Rust, flew overhead in battle formation while the Aaron Ward was steaming up the bay.

HUNT FOR SLAYERS IS BEGUN

State Department Hopes for Aid From Cantu Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—At the direction of the state department an intensive search is being made for the murderers of Aviators Connelly and Waterhouse, whose bodies were found buried on the Lower California coast. The search is being conducted by department officials tonight.

A report of the finding of the two bodies was received in Washington some time ago, but officials refused to comment on the announcement made today in San Diego by Secretary of State Clegg. The officers were killed by Mexicans.

Owing to the often-expressed friendship of the Lower California administration of Governor Cantu, it was considered in official circles tonight that the search for the officers were more hopeful than had the murderers been committed in other parts of Mexico.

No dispatches reached the state department during the day regarding the demand upon the Mexican government for the release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Pueblo, who is held by bandits for $150,000 ransom.

JELlicoe PRAISES MAHAN

BRITISH OFFICER PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN.

Former Commander Recalls Aid Given During War by Late Rear-Admiral.

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Declaration that Great Britain owed a debt of gratitude to the United States for American naval aid in the war, and particularly to the late Rear-Admiral Mahan, world-famous authority on sea power, was made here today by Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, formerly commander of the British grand fleet, in an address before the allied civic club of Honolulu.

"We of the United States and Great Britain were brothers and sisters in the war," he said, "and nobody can think of the naval part of the great war without thinking of the aid that we received from Admiral Mahan, who did much to open our eyes to the value of sea power.

"Admiral Mahan had a hand in the winning the war, and although this is the first time I have set foot on United States territory, I will not be the last to acknowledge Great Britain's debt to America during the war.

Admiral Jellicoe was entertained tonight with a reception and dance given in his honor by Governor McCarty.

RELEASE OF SEATTLE GOVERNOR TO BE ASKED

Request for Fixing of Bail in Bryan Case Likely.

ANOTHER MAN IS SOUGHT

Captain of Detectives Says Investigation Is Daily Developing More Evidence Against Ealy.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Developments in the Bryan murder mystery that has taxed the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the police department and the prosecuting attorney's office for nearly a week were summarized tonight as follows: Announcement by the defense that within a few days Justice of the Peace John E. Gordon will be asked to fix bail for the release from the city jail of William Fay Ealy and his mother, Mrs. Ealy, charged with the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Bryan; flat denial by Attorney Crawford E. White that the police have a record showing that Ealy last Saturday and Sunday visited a safe deposit box held jointly by him and his mother; the expressed belief of investigating officers that Mrs. Bryan voluntarily parted with her $4000 to the greater part of it before she was killed; a search by the detectives for a man believed to have taken the woman or her body in an automobile to Mount Baker Park last Sunday night.

Precedent May Be Followed. Should Justice Gordon grant the request for bail he would be following two recent precedents in first-degree murder cases, that of James Deaver, alleged slayer of H. C. Holt, whose bonds Superior Judge Prater fixed at $25,000, and that of E. F. Kinestra, charged with killing John Chioria, released by Judge Gordon himself on $12,000 bail.

Attorney White said he had waited a reasonable time before his application for bail, but that he was now ready to go to court on behalf of Ealy and Mrs. Nemitz, and that he would now give Captain of Detectives Charles Tennant the same consideration before presenting the request for their admission to bail.

Captain Tennant said today that investigations by himself and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney T. H. Ferguson were developing more evidence against Ealy daily. He charged the request for their admission to bail.

Full military honors were accorded the aviators as the caskets, draped with the Stars and Stripes, were carried from the deck of the destroyer to the main deck of the sloop.

Parents of both Waterhouse and Connelly were at the dock to meet the destroyer when she docked at noon. The body of Waterhouse will be shipped to Weiser, Idaho, tomorrow afternoon for interment. VIDEOGRAPH FORCES RESUME OFFENSIVE

Successes in Petrograd District Reported.

WHITE TROOPS GO NORTH

Severe Engagement Fought, According to Communicé; Reds Get Reinforcements.

HELINGFORS, Oct. 25.—Official reports of the northwestern army this morning and last night say that General Yudenich has successfully resumed the offensive northwest and southwest of Petrograd in spite of the arrival of the bolshevik reinforcements from the north. Russian front troops have fought their way eastward as far as Tosna, 25 miles east of Gatchina, on the railroad to Moscow. This point had been reached earlier by a cavalry raid.

The white troops were also pushing their way northward from Krasnoye Selo toward the gulf of Finland, in an endeavor to reach the coast at a point between Kronstadt and Petrograd.

This morning's report reads: "A severe engagement occurred near Krasnoye Selo on the night of October 24. North of Krasnoye Selo our troops began the offensive and captured Ruzhkovskaya, Koprovo and Goriolovo."

The communique last evening stated: "On Thursday our troops advanced by sharp attacks on the road to Tosna (on the Moscow railway, 30 miles southeast of Petrograd). The enemy attacked our positions at Krasnoye Selo and at Kaporoskoye several times but were repulsed with heavy casualties and a number of prisoners were captured reinforcements from the Archangel and Karelian fronts."

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A wireless message from Moscow announces that the bolsheviks have captured Elizabetopol, killing a large number of Finns. Official denial is made that bolshevik warships were sunk in a recent engagement in the gulf of Finland, although it is admitted that two armored ships were damaged.

Another Moscow wireless message contains a proclamation by the Russian bolshevik war minister, in the subject of England's participation in the military operations. It is addressed to the "red warriors" and says in part: "On all fronts you are meeting with the hostile schemes of England on every front you find British guns and material and troops dressed in English uniforms. We are fighting for the children of Archangel and Astrakhan are being killed by English flyers; English ships are bombing our coasts; English gold is sowing corruption."

"We firmly believe that England will rise before long and put a straight jacket on the criminals who are directing the plots against the toiling masses of Russia."

SIBERIA VETERAN HOME

ROLAND ROSTAD, EMPLOYEE OF OREGONIAN, RETURNS.

Soldier, 18 Months Overseas, Declares That Peasants Are Opposed to Kolchak Regime.

After 18 months service in the army, one year of which was passed in Siberia, Roland Rostad, ex-employee in the Oregonian's mechanical department, returned here yesterday. Mr. Rostad was a member of company L, 21st infantry, which regiment he served in the Russian army. The regiment was stationed at various points along the Siberian railroad during the two years, guarding the railway and doing police duty.

According to Mr. Rostad, several times during the fighting he saw a major character. Mr. Rostad was stationed at the village of Radoinoe, 50 miles west of Vladivostok.

American troops returning from Siberia were met at almost every point in censuring the Kolchak government, which displaced the communists. Mr. Rostad declared that he had learned that Ealy visited his safe deposit box at the Day and Night vaults shortly after 3 o'clock on the same day that Mrs. Bryan arrived. He asserted this point again today when asked about it.

That Mrs. Bryan gave the $4500 to Ealy for most of the time at the village of Radoinoe, 50 miles west of Vladivostok.

Auto Identification Sought. The identification of the automobile would assist largely in the identification of the murderer of Mrs. Bryan. Detectives also are checking up on automobiles seen in front of the safe deposit vaults on the afternoon of October 18.

Mrs. Nemitz, mother of William Fay Ealy, apparently drew him out to the worrying about her pending trial on the charge of complicity in the murder of Mrs. Bryan. Maintaining that she is entirely innocent of the grave crime with which she has been formally charged, Mrs. Nemitz is spending most of her time in the woman's department of the city jail, sleeping.

According to the matron, the accused woman retires early in the evening and awakens in time for breakfast. "I don't know," she said, "whether she has a cup of coffee for her first meal in the morning. Before the noon meal she has a cup of tea. She is called when called for lunch she has a splendid appetite.

"Admiral Mahan has a hand in the winning the war, and although this is the first time I have set foot on United States territory, I will not be the last to acknowledge Great Britain's debt to America during the war.

Diligent Family and Clock Get "Cop" Day Off.

Setting back of time repeated thrice and patrolman fails to report for duty.

WHEN J. J. Forkan, policeman and father, wound the family clock Saturday night he bore in mind the fact that the daylight saving schedule was at an end and turned the hands of the clock back one hour. Yesterday Patrolman Forkan got up and leisurely ate his breakfast. In the midst of it he was called to the telephone.

"What's the matter that you didn't report for duty tonight? Are you going to be late for work tomorrow?" asked the voice of Sergeant Van Overn, acting captain of Forkan's relief, which goes on duty at 4:30 in the morning.

"What do you mean, it's only 1 o'clock," was the surprised reply of the policeman.

"One o'clock?" said Sergeant Van Overn, "you'd better look at the clock again." It all happened because the patrolman has a large and enterprising family.

Mrs. Korlan just before she retired happened to think that the clock should be turned back and so she was retarded another hour. When one of the enterprising youngsters, one at a time, happened to think that the clock should be turned back so they would get that extra hour of
