400 Prisoners Captured in General Onslaught.

ESTHONIANS GO AHEAD

Flank of Russian General Is Protected by Ally's Occupation of New Position.

HELSINGFORS, Nov. 2.—The latest reports from the army of General Yudenich declare that he is steadily advancing on the entire front before Petrograd and to the south, his right flank being protected as the result of the progress made by the Estonians.

Saturday the British fleet continued its bombardment of all the islands between the Finnish coast and Krassa Gorka, encouraged by General Yudenich's improved position.

The Swedish language newspapers here representing the party advocating Finnish intervention in the campaign against the bolshieviki are urging the Finnish government to modify the conditions upon which it has indicated it would consider intervening.

Outpost Fighting Reported. They suggest that Finland drop her territorial claims and demand only that the allies stand the cost of the military operations.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 2.—The town of Krassa Gorka, the strong bolshievik position on the Gulf of Finland, just to the west of the island on which the fortress of Kronstadt stands, has capitulated to the forces of General Yudenich, according to a dispatch from Revel.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A war office communication says that General Yudenich has recaptured the town of Ropcha, about 25 miles southwest of Petrograd, (Ropcha was captured from General Yudenich last Sunday).

400 Prisoners Taken. Four hundred prisoners, according to the statement, were taken by General Yudenich. South of Kamenoy Selo, 16 miles southwest of Petrograd, the Russians advanced to Talay.

The statement says the gap between the Estonian army and the forces of General Yudenich south of Ropcha has been closed. The bolshieviki are continuing to concentrate south and southwest of Petrograd, further reinforcements coming from Moscow and the southern front.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 1.—A telegram from Kamenetz-Podolska to the Ukrainian press bureau here, dated Friday, claims the Ukrainian army is retreating along the whole Ukrainian front under the pressure of the bolshieviki.

400 Prisoners Taken. The Ukrainians, the message says, have captured the railway junction of Kodyma.

CITY OFFICIALS HOPEFUL. Indorsement of Two-Mill Levy Regarded Likely. Action of Labor, Civic and Private Organizations Indicates Stringent Need of Funds.

Indorsement of the two-mill tax levy, to be voted on at the special city election November 17, which has been announced by organized labor, the president's council of Portland civic clubs, the Portland Clearing House association and by individual organizations is taken by city officials as an encouraging note for the success of the election.

The indorsement coming from organizations which represent both the large and the small taxpayers means that the need of more money to conduct the affairs of the city is urgent, say city officials.

In each case the indorsement follows either a searching survey of the city's financial status, or the presentation by city officials of facts and figures showing the increased cost of supplies, material and labor and the decreased revenues from miscellaneous sources, which has made it necessary for the city to outline the limit of the taxation permitted by law.

Perhaps the most favorable aspect in connection with the two-mill levy is the announcement that the measure is for but one year and that future levies cannot and will not be based on the increased cost of the measure derived from the passage of the two-mill measure.

Each member of the city council is devoting as much time as possible in speaking in behalf of the measure. The financial stringency of the city is shown in the fact that no money is available for anything but the absolutely necessary items of the election, such as the printing of ballots.

Senate Leaders Have Little Hope of Agreement.

ISSUE TO COME UP TODAY

Senate Will Resume Debate Upon La Follette Motion to Strike Out Entire Labor Section.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The question of fixing a date for a final vote on the German peace treaty—a question which was reported incidentally an approximate time for adjournment of the present session of congress—will come up for action tomorrow in the senate.

The possibility of agreement on an answer to the dominant question is not viewed with optimism either by republican or democratic leaders. President Wilson's message, which is not in agreement of any kind would be considered a concession, but the concession would proceed as usual. Senate leaders generally desire an adjournment until next winter.

The senate will resume debate tomorrow on the motion of Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, to strike out the entire labor section of the treaty. Another amendment to be acted on is the Senate's vote of October 13, providing popular referendums on war declarations, and that of Senator Lodge to strike out the Shantung clause.

In the house attention will be centered on the railroad legislation, which was reported from committee late this week if possible, with a view to passage before adjournment.

38 IN WHITE HOUSE RACE (Continued From First Page). personal preferences in favor of several candidates.

As far as I was able to observe on my "sawing around the circle," there was no spontaneous crystallization of opinion in favor of any one man over any extensive area. Wood, Taft, Wilson, Gannett, Baker, Daniels, Hoover, Gannett, McAdoo, Palmer, Coolidge, Gannett, Gannett, and others have their political and personal supporters scattered here and there. Some of them have an organization. Some have no organization. Some have a few friends, but my observation in 20 states was abandoned this year by vote of the student body. Instead, the freshmen and sophomores united in giving an impressive demonstration of loyalty and school spirit.

An interesting presentation was made by Miss Dorothy Hill, senior class vice-president, for the girls of the class of the senior mustache cup, decorated in crimson and black, to Verle Stanley.

The freshmen underwent initiation into the secret society of the year before last. They were to attend the closing event of all-college day, which was the student body banquet held in the women's dormitory. President Wilson responded to the faculty toast; Miss Donna Mack, vice-president of the association, made the toast to the association; Julian Venegra as class president, for the seniors; Willis Cady for the juniors; Francis Taylor for the sophomores and Ralph Jack for the freshmen. Verle Stanley, as president of the student body, acted as toastmaster.

Fiume and Strategic Points Slated for Annexation.

FULL POLICY IS OUTLINED

Acquisition of Territory Held Essential to Nation; Council of Paris Is Defied.

BY BEATRICE BASKERVILLE. (Copyright by The New York World. Published by Arrangement.) FIUME, Oct. 31. (Special Cable).— "Fiume declared on May 13 last: 'I, alone, have the right to decide my own fate. My right has been proved, manifest and undeniable. I do not recognize the faculty of any power, not even of Italy, to dispose of my territory and my people. I have the right to stand on my own feet, opposed to me let him sustain his opposition with violence. I await him.'"

Place in Free Italy Wanted. "Now Fiume cannot become a free city, but wants to become a free city with all its territory, all the seas, all its archipelago. Fiume is the extreme rock of latin culture. It is the last messenger of Dante's dream. From here, for centuries, and centuries the latin spirit has radiated along its coast and into, from Volosca to Lovrana, from Moschiena to Albrona, from the island of Brioni to Cherso to Arbe (towns and islands near Fiume)."

Issue Deciding Factors. That brings me to the most important aspect of the political campaign as it stands today. The leaders may be in doubt about which way to lead their party, but they have not the slightest idea about platform. Some of them may be divided upon men, but today they are hopelessly divided upon issues, and these very issues, while they do not touch above the horizon, are admitted to be the deciding factors. A man alone will not be elected president. A man with an idea will be elected president. The nation's leaders are seeking the issue. Some of the things they are debating will be discussed in a later article in "The Oregonian."

38 IN WHITE HOUSE RACE (Continued From First Page). The report of Sam A. Koser, assistant secretary of state, shows that there also were registered in Oregon 171 motorcycles, 27 motor cycles, 17 dealers and 124 chauffeurs. Notices of the transfer of 1219 motor vehicles and 27 motorcycles were also filed in that month. The total fees received in October, 1919, for all registrations were $32,309. This entire sum, less administrative expenses, is turned over to the state highway commission for road construction. The number of motor vehicles issued on October 31 totaled $2,309; 1919 had 23,000 registered, 583; and chauffeurs registered, 3072.

Registrations for 1919 are now approximately 19,000 greater than for the year 1918 and it is not unlikely that before the present license year closes the number of motor vehicles will be nearly 20,000 in excess of the number for 1918. It had not been until the present year would have reached nearly 23,000 in excess of those for 1918. The increase in the number of registrations and other fees incident therefor for the year 1919 aggregated $461,422, showing an increase in fees from such sources for the year of substantially $140,000.
