

PAUL MASCOIT FRONT SACKER

Denver Lad Mere Novice in Front of Skilled Boy.

BILLY WINS IN EIGHTH

Blame for Fiasco Placed Partly on Shoulders of Denverite Who Boosted Mexican.

118 pounds—Billy Mascoit, Portland, knocked out Harry "Kid" Paul, Denver, in eight rounds.

115 pounds—Frankie Rogers, Seattle, was given a draw with Harry Chavez, Seattle, ten rounds.

115 pounds—Earl Zimmerman, Portland, awarded a six-round decision over Sammy Gordon, Portland.

130 pounds—Batting Mackin, Portland, given a draw with Frankie Webb, Portland, six rounds.

118 pounds—Bud Ridley, Seattle, awarded decision over George Franklin, Portland, four rounds.

BY HARRY M. GRAYSON. Harry "Kid" Paul of Denver proved to be a spindly Mexican boy who did not appear to be much over 17 years of age or so, and the heaviest kind of a novice.

Consequently his match with Billy Mascoit, in what was to be the best of the best, was a boxing commission card at the Heilig theater last night developed into the biggest "fiasco" staged here since Portland folk last traversed the Willamette river on bob-sleds.

After touting with Paul, Billy finally doped him over with a right cross to the chin in the eighth count.

To go into the details of the exhibition is needless, as the imaginary boy whom Sammy Gordon would probably knock for a goal in a couple of rounds out in front of Billy Mascoit, one of the best bantamweights ever produced in the west, and you've got the dope.

Mascoit suffered the partial dislocation of a bone in his left hand early in the bout. But at that the South Portland promoter did not extend himself until the seventh, when he evidently decided that the 2700 spectators had suffered enough.

A few stiff punches later, and the early in the eighth settled things.

The fiasco was not Billy's fault. He could have finished the helpless youth in front of him with one hand earlier, but probably felt sorry for him.

Grant Not Altogether to Blame. Although Jack Grant will undoubtedly come in for "banning" for fetching the boy wonder all the way from Denver, he's not altogether to blame for Jack Keener, Denver promoter, vouched for him, saying that he had boxed two rounds draws with Mike Erdie, Benny Chavez and a flock of other boys.

Fred Winsor, who brought Frankie Rogers and Bud Ridley here, denies that Paul beat Chavez.

In the semi-weekly ten centos, Fred Winsor, Frankie Rogers, handler, actually managed to get Jack Keener, Jack Day, himself and those within the orbit of him believe that Rogers earned a draw with Frankie Webb, the welterweights put up the roughest and toughest ten-round tangle seen here in ages.

After holding Casey even for three rounds and taking the fourth mainly because he landed three terrific right-hand uppercuts, Rogers started to slip in the fifth, was shaded in the seventh and took an unmerciful licking in the last three.

Winsor Does Good Work. Fred Winsor is conceded to be the best second on the coast, barring Sam Francisco Spider Kelly, and certainly pulled a game boy through last night.

How he managed to keep him off the floor in that seventh round is a mystery, but it was Winsor who forgot to duck, no matter how groggy he became and staggered to his corner.

For the next bell as fresh and bright as any morning dew.

He came back in the tenth swimming in arms enough to get the referee into ruling it an even scrap. Rogers is a mighty willing boy and gave the fans a run for their money.

Sammy Gordon and Earl Zimmerman, local bantamweight, in their six-round setting, put up the cleanest tangle of the evening.

Zimmerman, who was knocked down in the fifth round and pummeled Sammy a bit in that canto, but the judge ruled in favor of the Gordon family hold him even at all other stages, and was in the best shape at the finish.

Franklin Is Outclassed. George Franklin was no match for Bud Ridley, who should have had the event with Mascoit. Franklin caught the sound city bantam off guard in the first round and set him down with a wild swing, but was cut to pieces during the remaining rounds.

Ridley taking the day by a double knockdown in the second bout of the night. Batting Mackin received a six-round draw with Frankie Webb, who took the last four rounds and should have won.

Between battles, a score or more of Red Cross workers combed the house soliciting a flock of subscriptions.

It was announced last night that Joe Gorman, Frankie Malone, Frankie Malone, Oakland featherweights, would meet in the next ten-round main event to be held at the Oregon boxing commission. The card will be staged at the armory, Tenth and Couch streets.

Gorman and Malone are featherweights.

AGGIES' SQUAD CRIPPLED

Substitutes to Have Chance Against Winged M Eleven.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Coach Hargis is very optimistic over the prospects of the game with Multnomah club, scheduled for the Oregon Agricultural college campus Saturday.

The hard trip to California last week, and the grueling game they had there, the men are in poor shape for another hard contest this week.

The backfield men were all bruised up badly down south, and Bob Stewart, center, got a badly sprained ankle, and is walking the campus on crutches now.

Second string men will fill a good many places on the lineup of the Oregon Agricultural college team Saturday, as the varsity players will have to be rested and patched up for the Oregon game on November 15.

SOUTHERN GAMES ON FIRE

Post-Season Dates Depend on Result of Saturday Conflict.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Upon the success of the lemon-yellow football squad in the Washington State game to be staged in Portland Saturday, DEPENS IN A LARGE MEASURE WHETHER THE OREGON VARSITY WILL HAVE ANY POST-SEASON GAMES OR NOT. IF OREGON WINS THAT GAME, THE POSSIBILITY OF A NEW YEAR'S GAME IN PASADENA WITH SOME EASTERN COLLEGE WILL BE OPEN.

Marion McClain, graduate manager of the university, has received offers from Stanford university, and from the University of Southern California for a game on December 6.

In the event of Oregon winning both the Washington State college and the Oregon Agricultural college game, and the Stanford team coming through the season with a clean slate, it is likely that the faculty could be prevailed upon to allow the Oregon varsity to play the game, as the winner of that contest would probably be chosen for the Pasadena fracas.

Kincaid field is a sea of water and mud, and the team is having hard work developing any play.

FARMER DEFEATS SMITH

LOGGER HEAVY WINS VERDICT OVER VETERAN "GUNBOAT."

Northwest Champ Gets Decision in Six-Round Go Before 6000 Sound City Fans.

SEATTLE, Nov. 5.—Frank Farmer of Knappton, Wash., northwest heavyweight champion, tonight was given the decision over "Gunboat" Smith in a six-round contest here.

The bout was fairly fast throughout. The arena, said to seat an audience of more than 6000, was crowded and police had to close the doors to keep out several thousand clamoring fans.

It was estimated the crowd was the largest that ever attended a boxing bout in the northwest.

SAM LANGFORD LOSES TITLE

Harry Willis Beats Old-Timer for Colored Heavy Crown.

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 5.—Harry Willis of New Orleans won the negro heavyweight championship tonight when he was given the decision over Sam Langford of Boston in a 15-round bout by Referee Ed Cochran of Kansas City.

Langford won the title belt here recently by defeating Jack Tompson of St. Joseph, Mo. Willis led the fighting all the way.

SIGLN GOES TO DETROIT

BEAVER SECOND SACKER WILL PERFORM FOR JENNINGS.

Return of Oldham to Tigers Leaves McCredies Hard Pressed for New Material for Beavers.

Paddy Siglin, second baseman and captain of the Portland Pacific Coast league baseball club, has been sold to the Detroit Americans.

William W. McCredie, president of the Portland club, closed the deal yesterday, which is for a cash consideration, although he refuses to divulge the amount.

The McCredies, being in dire straits for players, will accept suitable offers on the deal and one of them may be Rudy Kallio, the Portland boy who has spent the last two seasons with the Tigers.

Kallio has returned home for the winter and is desirous of playing here.

The departure of Siglin to the Tigers marks the second Beaver to go up next season, Pitcher Red Oldham being the other.

Detroit has had a string on Oldham for several seasons and he will get his "steenth" trial in 1920.

"Big" Young has been slipping at second base for Highline Jennings' club and it is he whom Siglin will succeed if he makes the team.

McCredie will have to look for a keystone position with the Tigers. He played half of their games there during the last three.

Siglin came to Portland from Pittsburg in the spring of 1917 along with Jack Farmer in a trade for Shortstop Chuck Ward, now with Detroit.

Siglin hit .289 in 167 games during the season just closed. Walter McCredie will have to obtain another infielder to replace his captain. He may land a youngster whom Detroit has claims on.

WOMEN ENTER SEMI-FINALS

Waverly Golfers Reach Second Round of Championship Play.

Mrs. Peter Kerr will play Mrs. J. A. Dougherty and Mrs. H. Delbruck meets Mrs. M. Holbrook today in the semifinals of the women's championships of the Waverly Country Club.

The players in the semifinals round the right to contest by reason of their victories yesterday in the first-elimination round.

Mrs. Peter Kerr defeated Mrs. R. Koshier 7 up; Mrs. J. A. Dougherty won from Mrs. Henry Kirk 2 and 1; Mrs. H. Delbruck beat Miss Harriette Cummings 3 up and Mrs. M. Holbrook took the final match in the championship flight will be played at 10 o'clock.

In the first flight yesterday Mrs. J. C. Alsworth beat Mrs. Walter Lang 5 and 2 and Mrs. N. B. Gregg defeated Mrs. Woolley 5 up.

In the qualifying round played last Tuesday Mrs. Peter Kerr was medalist with a score of 98.

Mrs. Richard Koshier and Mrs. J. A. Dougherty were runners-up, with cards of 107.

The scores of the players who qualified for the championship round are:

Mrs. Peter Kerr..... 97
Mrs. J. A. Dougherty..... 98
Mrs. R. Koshier..... 99
Mrs. M. Holbrook..... 100
Mrs. H. Delbruck..... 101
Miss H. Cummings..... 102
Mrs. H. Kirk..... 103
Mrs. M. Holbrook..... 104

Cup Offered Prep Team.

The Washington high school eleven will have an added incentive to defeat Frank tomorrow afternoon, and Jefferson when they clash on Multnomah field on November 19.

Mayor Francis J. Drake has put up a handsome silver cup, which will be presented to the Washington team if they are successful in defeating Franklin and Jefferson this season.

Coach Lloyd Tegart has been putting his boys through some stiff practice the past few days and has them in good shape.

Benson will play Columbia this afternoon at the Wing M. Erickson and a good game is looked for by the interscholastic football followers. The contest will start at 3:15 P. M.

Iowa Grapplers Meet.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Nov. 5.—Johnny Meyers, claimant of the middleweight wrestling championship, defeated Heine Engel, Iowa middleweight champion, two falls out of three.

Meyers won the first fall in 15 minutes with a double wrist lock and the third in 12 minutes with a body scissors. Engel took the second fall in five minutes with a cross body and bar arm hold.

THEY ENDED HIS 1916 SEE AMBASSADOR'S DEFEAT

Authorities Declare Land Warfare Unable to Win.

ARCHIVE RECORDS BARED

Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg Scouts Lasting Peace—Zimmermann Is Witness at Inquiry.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The official archives as disclosed at today's session of the subcommittee of the assembly investigating the war, brought out the astonishing revelation that the army authorities in 1916 went on record as declaring that land warfare could not win the war for Germany; that it must be won diplomatically and politically.

One of the dramatic features of the session was an impassioned appeal by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the former chancellor, against being charged by Deputy Sinsheimer, demanding that Sinsheimer cease trying to trip him up by repeating questions he already had answered.

Another interesting feature was testimony by Herr Zimmermann, the former foreign secretary, regarding his last conference with Ambassador Gerard before the ambassador left Berlin on his way home.

General's Words Recalled. Von Bethmann-Hollweg's voice was raised as he declared he was under oath before God and yet if he had the slightest lapse of memory he would be attacked. He instantly apologized for the reproach.

Herr Zimmermann said he asked Ambassador Gerard what the result of the intensified U-boat warfare would be in America. Mr. Gerard replied: "I don't know what they want in Washington. You may be right in the action you are taking."

The ambassador, according to Zimmermann, promised to use all his influence to keep America neutral and would be heard as saying: "I shall do my best to avoid any further friction."

Dr. Cohen, independent, attempted to admit that the feeling respecting the impossibility of land warfare winning the war had been expressed in 1915 after the battle of the Marne.

The former chancellor said he had a vague recollection that General von Falkenhayn (chief of staff) had said that time told him to do all he could diplomatically in a general way.

Entente Note Blocks Peace. Von Bethmann-Hollweg reiterated the assertion that the entente collective note in December, 1916, was no brusque and so hopeless in its terms that it was impossible to think of peace could not be thought of.

The subcommittee of the national assembly has been attempting to determine war responsibility, went into secret session today on a motion by Councilor von Helldorf, who had a public discussion of matters affecting one-time neutrals.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

Discussion had arisen concerning a statement of Alfred Zimmermann, former foreign secretary, that President Wilson's peace offer had been intended by the German peace offer that was acting under German influence.

THE POLICY AS THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES DECLARED THEY HAD USED LABOR.

To a criticism that the foreign office and general staff had not worked well together during the war, Bethmann-Hollweg declared this dualism was always in effect during the Austro-Franco-Russian war of 1866 and the Franco-Russian war of 1870, and that both sides of the governmental machinery had on those occasions believed their way was the best way to save the fatherland.

Taking up the question of Belgian deportations, he replied affirmatively to a question asking whether he had not been used for work for which they had not qualified.

He showed his resentment at the conclusion of the hearing at questions regarding breaches of international law by Germany, declaring: "Why always talk of our breaches of international law when we were at war with a peace-breaking people?"

Admiral Koch, formerly vice-chairman of the naval council staff, will take the stand tomorrow.

PERSHING TELLS PLANS

OVERSEAS OFFICERS PICKED FOR ADVANCEMENT.

Bombing Declared to Be Uncertain Enterprise; Reported Damage in Germany Not Seen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—General John J. Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces, continued his report before a joint session of the senate and house military committees to present his views on army reorganization plans.

He added little to recommendations to the service he had made previously.

For one thing, General Pershing thought it would be advisable to pick future brigadier-generals in the army from the officers of lower permanent rank who commanded brigades or divisions in France.

Much of his testimony today had to do with aircraft. He agreed with Marshal Foch that superior air forces probably would determine victory in the next war, but insisted that the infantry was the main arm to which all other army elements were a support.

Concentration of aircraft under a single agency probably would "get the best results," he said, but he did not approve creation of a new department to handle all aircraft.

He would not discuss the question of aircraft expenditures, saying that had been left to the war department.

"Bombing is a desperate attempt, at best, though it is developing," General Pershing said of air operations.

"We are not sure that we have failed to find the horrible destruction we anticipated from our bombers' reports."

Explaining reports that his troops had been ordered "over the top" on an armistice day, General Pershing said orders to march were given and advanced detachments too late to stop fighting even at 11 A. M., the hour of cessation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Permanent rank of lieutenant-general for Lieutenant-General Pershing was recommended today by General Pershing when he resumed his statement before the senate and house military committees.

Generals Liggett, Bullard and Dickman were army commanders overseas, while Generals Harbord and McAndrew were successively chiefs of staff of the American expeditionary forces.

STATE COST MEET URGED

Yamhill Grange Wants Governor to Call Session at Once.

YAMHILL, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Governor Olcott is urged to call a state cost meeting at once, because of the high cost of living, in resolutions adopted by the Yamhill county Grange.

The resolutions follow: "Resolved, That we are in favor of a state cost meeting to be held at once, because of the high cost of living and the general condition of unrest throughout the country."

"Resolved, That such meeting consist of representatives from the various occupations and vocations in proportion to the number of men engaged in the same, to be selected from farmers, laborers, manufacturers, bankers, merchants and others."

"Resolved, That we urge Governor Olcott to call such a meeting at once, and to prepare an exhaustive analysis of the cost of living, covering substantially the following facts:

1. Services prior to the war.
2. The service that each community has rendered to the country since the proper development of trade in the Pacific and other countries via the Panama canal.
3. It is the desire of the conference that before the meeting, each chamber is to be furnished immediately and each chamber urged to furnish information in hand as rapidly as possible.
4. In the presentation at Washington, it is the desire of the conference that the conference be held in the city of Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.
5. The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

The conference decided that it should confine itself entirely and exclusively to general cost conditions and should not, at any one time, recommend or give aid for any one company, but leave the fight for each case to the people of that part through its delegation or in whatever manner it desired.

After the conference at Washington with the shipping board, by the members of the entire Pacific slope delegations, each chamber could exercise the right of retaining a representative on the work at Washington, if it is desired, for a few months. These representatives of individual or group chambers would work in harmony on all common purposes, while each chamber for their individual part where opportunity presented.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS CHAMBER REPORT