

GERMANY IS ASKED TO KEEP PROMISES

Allies Want Execution of All Obligations.

TREATY AWAITS ACTION

Withdrawal of Troops From Russian Territory and Delivery of Tonnage Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Notice was served on Germany by the allied and associated powers in a note and accompanying protocol forwarded last Saturday that the treaty of peace would not go into force until Germany has acceded to the satisfaction of the allied and associated powers obligations assumed under the armistice convention and additional agreements.

The note, made public tonight by the state department, provides that representatives of the German government shall be put into effect of the treaty. But the note specifies that before the treaty can be made effective through a process verbal of the deposit of ratifications, the German representatives shall obligate their nation to carry out the terms of the protocol.

Troop Withdrawal Included.

The protocol contains a number of obligations assumed by Germany in the armistice convention and complementary agreements which have not been carried out and which have been the subject of urgent representations. These include the withdrawal of German troops from Russian territory, and the delivery of certain German tonnage.

Most important, however, in the obligations Germany is asked to assume under the protocol, is the rescuing of vessels destroyed at Scapa Flow, with five light cruisers, and to make up for the first-class battleship sunk at Scapa Flow, and other floating docks and cranes, tugs and dredges equivalent to a total displacement of 300,000 tons. In this respect the protocol declares:

"The allied and associated powers cannot overlook without sanction the other infractions committed against the armistice convention and violations as serious as the destruction of the German fleet at Scapa Flow, the destruction of the submarine U-C 48 off Perrol and the destruction in the North sea of the submarines proceeding to England for delivery."

Agreements Are Cited.

Provisions of the armistice agreement and peace treaty which the protocol demands that Germany carry out are:

Delivery of 42 locomotives and 1480 cars as yet not turned over.
Delivery of all documents, specie, values of property and finance, with all issuing apparatus, concerning public or private interests in the invaded countries.
Delivery of additional agricultural implements in lieu of railroad material.
Restoration of works of art and artistic documents, and industrial materials removed from French and Belgian territory and asset not completely restored.

Payment of the value of aerial material exported to Sweden, Holland and Denmark in violation of treaty terms.
The protocol concludes with the following:

"In case Germany should not fulfill these obligations within the time specified, the allied and associated powers reserve the right to have recourse to any coercive measures or other which they may deem appropriate."

country "when a moral leper will be shunned by men as he is by women."

Unclash Men Held Menace.

Later he declared: "Women should not have to set a moral standard for themselves and then have to act as big policemen to force it on the men. No business man or house can afford to have as its traveling representatives men who tear down the moral fiber of the communities they visit; neither can the United States have men who are not clean representing them abroad."

Rev. Frederick W. Burnham of Cincinnati, president of the United charities movement of the Disciples of Christ, who presided over the social and industrial luncheon, asserted that the information as to prophylaxis given the American forces during the war made the social problem all the more difficult, because fear, the chief deterrent heretofore, has been removed in many instances.

Prohibition Counted as Aid.

"The social evil can only be stamped out through a higher moral standard for soldiers are coming back believing that disease can be avoided," he said.
Prohibition, in the opinion of Dr. Burnham, was a "long step toward the solution of the problem, but it is a relation to questions of free speech, racial problems and Americanization, Dr. Burnham said:

"The time has come when the church must set itself to restore to the country the freedom of conscience, speech and press that were imposed during the war. We must not only restore them, but spiritualize them. Men must have the privilege of thinking their own thoughts."
"We must keep free the sources of noble thought. There is still a por-

Rub nerve torture, pain and all misery right out with "St. Jacobs Liniment"

You are to be pitied—but remember that neuralgia torture and pain is the easiest thing in the world to stop. Please don't continue to suffer; it's so needless. Get from your druggist the small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment"; pour a little in your hand and gently rub the "tender nerve" or sore spot, and instant relief is afforded—all pain, ache and soreness is gone—"St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain—it is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. It never fails to stop neuralgia pain instantly, whether in the face, head or any part of the body. Don't suffer—Apply

GERMAN PROPAGANDA IN U. S. HANDICAPPED

British System Superior, Says Count Bernstorff.

WAR WORK IS RECALLED

Former Ambassador Tells Assembly Committee of Difficulties Encountered in Campaign.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Count Bernstorff was the stand for a protracted examination regarding the effectiveness of German propaganda in the United States during the war at today's session of the committee of the national assembly investigating the subject of responsibility for the war and the means by which the German propaganda authorities that they must send cinematograph films to counteract the effect of the English efforts.

The American press, said Bernstorff, was strongly anti-German from the beginning of the war and the newspapers published in the German language had only an ineffective appeal to the Americans. A laugh was raised when Deputy Wermuth, former mayor of Berlin, asked about the activities of the "English journalist," George Creel.

"British System Superior."

When pressed for a direct answer regarding the comparative merits of British and German propaganda, Count Bernstorff said the British propaganda in the United States was superior to the German because of "technical difficulties of transmission." He declared that he avoided participation in the propaganda activities because of his official position and his desire not to become compromised by it.

He said that Former Colonial Minister Derburg, on his trip to the United States, had written successful articles and delivered lectures until the American government became convinced that the German agent was stirring up German-Americans against the United States.

Famous Note Recalled.

Members of the sub-committee voiced a suspicion that the note President Wilson had launched was in understanding with England. Count Bernstorff denied this assumption categorically, saying that the note had been on the contrary, unwelcome and unpleasant to England.

Deputy Singshler Broke In Upon Bernstorff's Examination to Ask Herr Zimmermann, Former Foreign Secretary, Whether He Had Spoken of President Wilson's Note as "Shameless and Impudent."

Count Bernstorff denied the story, declaring that, although England had used every conceivable means to rid the United States of all prominent Germans, she would hardly have tried violence and that Professor Muensterberg had died of an apoplectic stroke.

Commerce Body Backs Two-Mill Tax Increase.

C. W. Hodson Will Represent Business Men at Rivers and Harbors Congress at Washington.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at an adjourned meeting yesterday disposed of a number of important matters left over from the regular session of Wednesday afternoon. The 2-mill tax levy, to be voted upon at the special election November 12, was approved.

C. W. Hodson was delegated to represent the body at the meeting of the rivers and harbors congress to convene at Washington, D. C. the first week in December. This meeting is of special importance because it will consider the general programme of river and harbor improvements, held up during the war, with special consideration of pending legislation in congress on the subject.

Dr. G. H. Douglas, president of the Rotary club, and appointed chairman of a special committee on the unemployment situation, submitted a report in which he was shown that there are at the present time approximately 1900 former service men in Portland seeking work, for whom jobs are not available.
