

NOTORIOUS REDS ARE TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

37 Leaders in New York Face Prosecution.

RAIDS YIELD MUNITIONS

Chemicals Also Found in Campaign Against Activities of Radicals. Arms Carried by Some.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Thirty-seven men suspected of leadership in the ultra-radical activities were held on various charges today after state and city officers had finished questioning the 1000 and more who were caught late last night in the biggest raid New York ever saw.

The three prisoners regarded as most important are: "Big Jim" Larkin, ex-head of the Irish Transport Workers' union and Irish revolutionary, charged with criminal anarchy. The police said he had a forged passport in his possession.

Benjamin Gitlow, 35 years old, booked at police headquarters as an ex-assemblyman, charged with criminal anarchy. Henry Pearl, 55, described as leader of the communist party in the Manhattan district, charged with violation of the law prohibiting the carrying of firearms.

Larkin Notorious as Radical. Larkin is one of the most widely known English-speaking radicals. He had a stormy career in Ireland and England before he came to New York in November, 1914. Recently he has been seeking to return, but the British government declined to receive him as a consequence of which the Dublin union threatened a one-day strike of protest. He was arrested here in 1917, after having been on the draft bill, but was discharged.

Larkin was arrested several times in Dublin in 1913 in connection with strike disorders and was sentenced finally to seven months' imprisonment for inciting riots. He was released the following year, however, and then began an agitation for a general strike in the United Kingdom. Since he came to the United States he has been frequent attendee at socialist and Irish revolutionary meetings. Early this year he denounced Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor.

Munitions and Chemicals Seized. Detectives said they found two revolvers and six boxes of cartridges as well as chemical apparatus which was used as headquarters for the communists.

Five tons of radical literature seized is expected to furnish valuable data on radical activities here and elsewhere. Much of it is printed in foreign languages.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 9.—Six of the 12 alleged members of the various cities of Connecticut Friday night received hearings Saturday before Inspector James J. Frawley of the bureau of immigration in Boston, after which they were held in bonds of $1000 each. One was Mark Kulesh of South Norwalk, Conn. Frawley said two machine guns were found in his home. More than 100 alleged radicals now are held in this state.

AKRON, O., Nov. 9.—Twenty-five alleged members of the Industrial Workers council were being held tonight as the result of a raid by federal officers and the police here on a meeting today. More than 100 men were taken.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—Seven men who police say are members of a radical group were arrested in a raid today. A quantity of literature and a large bag of black powder were seized. The men will be turned over to the federal authorities.

CHAMBERS TO TAKE VOTE

METHOD OF DISPOSING OF SHIPS IN QUESTION.

United States Chamber of Commerce Submits Recommendations to State Bodies.

The Oregon state chamber of commerce has received from the United States chamber of commerce a series of recommendations as to the disposition of the 2000 or more vessels of the United States shipping board, with the request that a vote be recorded here on the recommendations offered. The matter will be submitted by the United States chamber to the 121st member of the organization throughout the country for vote. The Oregon state chamber will submit the matter in turn to its constituent members for a vote and upon the result of this vote will depend the vote which the Oregon organization will cast as a unit.

The recommendation as submitted by the United States chamber of commerce follows:

- 1. That wrecked vessels, and steel vessels under 9000 tons deadweight, be sold on the best terms obtainable from American or foreign bidders.
2. That other government-owned vessels be sold to private individuals and corporations of the several regions.
3. That the government absorb the difference between the war cost and the present value as a war loss.
4. That there be freedom from regulation in the future of rates.
5. That there be restriction for a period of years upon transfer to a foreign flag of steel vessels of 9000 tons deadweight purchased from the government.
6. That preference be given to American underwriters and that the underwriting market of the world be used for insurance not covered by government and writers without intervention by government insurance.
7. That encouragement be given to an American classification society.
8. That consent be made to make a general declaration of a policy to give aid toward the inward of a privately owned and operated American merchant marine.
9. That the operation of the competent American shipbuilding yards on private account both as to repairs and the vessels they construct be continued.

Prison Show is Announced.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The annual minstrel show staged by the inmates of the Oregon penitentiary will be held this year on the nights of November 12 and 13, in the auditorium at the prison. According to "Happy" Gordon, who is handling publicity for the show, this year's performance will be the best ever. On Wednesday night only convicts will attend the show, while on Thursday night the public is invited. Proceeds will go to the prison betterment fund.

TIP LEADS TO SEIZURE

CLARKE OFFICERS GET STILL, USING FEDERAL ADVICE.

Authorities Contract with "Moonshiners" for 20 Gallons; Bank Book Business Thrives.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Federal authorities today visited the place at Walnut Grove where a still was seized and raided yesterday by Sheriff George Johnson and deputies. The federal officers, who had been working on the case some time, gave the tip to the Clarke county authorities.

The federal officers had met the "moonshiners" several times and had contracted with them to buy 20 gallons, which was to be delivered yesterday on an outlying boulevard in Portland. Mark Aver and Henry Straetzl, who drove the light machine, delivered the 20 gallons and said they could deliver 50 gallons as easily as 20. The officers thought 20 gallons would be ample evidence.

Mark Aver was arrested. He will be tried in the federal court. When Sheriff Johnson went to search the place yesterday he found Tom Zarkov in charge. Tom stated he was merely working there and did not own any interest in the business. Tom is now in jail, a few feet from where the still was seized under lock and key. He will be tried by the federal court at Tacoma. M. E. Gak, the third still operator, is still at liberty, but his capture is expected soon.

The still was located on a small farm about six miles from Vancouver in the Walnut Grove district. It was in one end of a big poultry house. As an acetylene tank was used to cook the mash, attention was not attracted to the place. The pump even, was inside the chicken house and it was covered with tar paper so that it would keep the light from the oil lamp from shining through at night. A bank book, captured with Mr. Aver, showed that business had been good while it lasted. There were deposits of $200, $400, $600. A machine was bought and partly paid for. It is said that the same persons had bought a place in Oregon on contract but had moved away. It was through a contract on Aver that the still was located yesterday. Aver was released today on $1000 bail. Noites was arrested at the same time. Both have been living at 655 S. S. S. street, Portland.

CAR OWNERS ARE WARNED

Rear License Numbers Must Be Visible at Night.

Owing to the failure of many automobile owners to comply with the regulation requiring them to have their rear license numbers visible at night the rear license number, police officials announced yesterday that a campaign against such violations would be started. Every automobile driver found without his lighted rear license number license number, declared officers, during his stay from then until Sunday morning. The committee is composed of the following: Thomas Mann, chairman; Mrs. M. G. O'Malley, W. A. Dooney, John Brady, J. J. McLaughlin, D.

30 TO GREET DE VALERA

Committee to Meet Self-Styled Irish "President."

A committee of 30 citizens has been named to greet Eamon DeValera, self-styled "President of the Irish Republic," when he arrives in Portland Thursday night, and to have charge of the entertainment of the visitor during his stay from then until Sunday morning. The committee is composed of the following: Thomas Mann, chairman; Mrs. M. G. O'Malley, W. A. Dooney, John Brady, J. J. McLaughlin, D.

Who's Who at Statehouse.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Lester B. Davis, former Salem and Portland newspaper man, probably is one of the best-known employes in the statehouse and at present holds the responsible position of cashier in the offices of State Treasurer Hoff. Mr. Davis was born in Blair county, Nebraska, July 15, 1873. For several years he has been in charge of the public schools. He then engaged in real estate work. Afterward he attended the University of Nebraska where he completed a term in engineering. He came to Oregon in 1913. Mr. Davis came direct to Oregon and located on a ranch about four miles north of Salem. There he continued to reside for three years. Mr. Davis, after he accepted a position as hobo for a prominent commission firm in the latter capacity for more than four years. He was one of the outbreak of the Spanish-American war in the year 1918. Mr. Davis joined company M, 2d Oregon Infantry, active service in the Philippine Islands. He received his honorable discharge in August, 1919. Immediately following his return to Salem after military service Mr. Davis became a census enumerator in the 1st Oregon district and at the conclusion of this employment went to work as reporter on the Salem Statesman. From 1908 to December, 1918, Mr. Davis was in the newspaper business almost continuously with the exception of a short time when he acted as census supervisor under R. J. Hendricks. This was in 1910. Mr. Davis edited and supervised the publication of the first Oregon Blue Book, having started compilation of the edition while the late Frank Benson was secretary of state, and completing the work under the direction of Ben W. Olcott. He also prepared the copy for the first and second editions of the Oregon Almanac, published by C. C. Chapman of Portland, then connected with the state immigration bureau. In 1918 Mr. Davis was employed as secretary of the state fire marshal's bureau, and on January 13, 1919, was appointed cashier by State Treasurer Hoff. Mr. Davis also was engaged in newspaper work in Portland, having worked on The Oregonian and other publications. During the late war with Germany Mr. Davis was first lieutenant of the local home guard organization and took an active part in all patriotic matters. Mr. Davis has won the friendship of the many state employes. Salem Church Forms Men's Club. SALEM, Or., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The Men's club of the Central Congregational church was organized at a meeting held Saturday night. The officers for the year are Dr. Frank Brown, president; L. J. Murdoch, vice-president; and Guy Nugent, secretary-treasurer. The club will hold two meetings each month.

SETTLER BRINGS OTHERS

MAN FROM MONTANA SATISFIED; MORE COMING.

Billings Man Locates at Banks, Or., and as Result Friends Are Coming This Way.

That one settler in Oregon frequently influences many others to come to this section also is shown in the report of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce citing the location of D. L. O'Neal of Billings, Mont., at Banks, Or., and the probable removal of at least four additional families from Montana to the Banks region as the result of Mr. O'Neal's coming. Mr. O'Neal, who was engaged in business as a general hardware, fur and agricultural implement store, later Mr. O'Neal returned to Billings for a brief visit and brought back with him to Oregon a man named Hawkins, who has purchased a $1700 home in Banks, and between now and the first of the year six or seven families are expected to follow from the Montana district. Incidentally, when Mr. O'Neal was in Billings on October 26 he found the thermometer registering 20 below zero, and the snow piled up in drifts from 3 to 5 feet deep.

Another family that will come to Banks, largely as the result of Mr. O'Neal's coming, is that of J. C. Pettenger, with approximately $20,000 to invest. A man named Vich antry plans to locate in the Banks section.

NEW CHIEF BEGINS TODAY

L. V. JENKINS ANNOUNCES MOVE TO CHECK CRIME.

Conference With Mayor Baker to Be First Official Act; Assistant Is Sought.

An official order formally declaring L. V. Jenkins chief of police will be issued this morning by Mayor Baker and forwarded to the police bureau. It was announced yesterday. The new chief will be sworn in before the city auditor and will officially assume his duties. Mr. Jenkins said yesterday he would hold a conference with Mayor Baker this morning as the first official duty of his new office and following this conference the plans of the new police administration will be announced. Among the important matters at this conference will be the question of the selection of a man to fill the position of assistant to the chief, left vacant by the promotion of Mr. Jenkins. Methods for checking the wave of crime now sweeping over the city will also be discussed. Mr. Jenkins said he would speak to the men of the various reliefs today and ask them for their complete cooperation in making the new administration a success. That he may not lose his standing under the first of the regulations Mr. Jenkins will be obliged to secure a leave of absence for the period of his duty as chief of police. Mr. Jenkins has eight years more to serve in the department until he will be eligible for retirement.

Plot to Blow Garage Discovered.

A note threatening to blow up the Portland garage at 2 o'clock Saturday was found beneath the automobile of Deputy United States Marshal T. J. Tietz in the garage Saturday morning, the marshal reports. The note was decorated with a skull and crossbones and the appointment time the explosion failed to occur.

DUTCH DETERMINED TO SHIELD EX-KAISER

Holland Deems Extradition of Fallen Ruler Illegal.

VIEWPOINT NOT CHANGED

William Hohenzollern Refuses to Speak for Publication on First Anniversary of Stay.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 9.—(By The Associated Press.)—Former Emperor William came to Holland a year ago next Monday. Since that time there has been no demand, officially or unofficially, for his extradition or delivery to the allies, nor has Holland at all changed its viewpoint toward him.

The Associated Press learned this today from sources that are unquestionable. Holland's viewpoint as regards William Hohenzollern will be stated frankly as follows: The Netherlands, which for centuries has considered the former emperor and crown prince as refugees—not as royalty, but as persons entitled to the same right the same as any plain Johann Schmidt to flee to Holland during the war. This principle is so firmly held by the government and also by the press of Holland that nothing is likely to change it, it is asserted.

Extradition Held Illegal.

The Dutch government has reached a determination as to its conduct in the event the surrender of William Hohenzollern is asked for. No official statement has been made in this connection but the Associated Press learns that Holland considers the former emperor beyond extradition as there is no possible way legally to have him extradited. If they desired to insist upon the privilege, both the Hohenzollerns would be free to go where they liked, but because they feel that they would embarrass Holland even further they have agreed to remain where they are now—the father at Amerongen and his son at Wieringen.

Return to Germany Permissible.

If the one-time emperor and crown prince desired to return to Germany, they would be permitted to go. While it is possible that Frederick William some day may return to Germany, official circles in The Hague are inclined to the belief that William Hohenzollern is content to settle down to the life of a country gentleman at Doorn where he has been permitted to buy a small estate because his long stay at Amerongen seems to have made him content with his castle he occupied.

Although a number of purported Hohenzollerns have been published, the fact is that he never has spoken for publication since his arrival in Amerongen and has refused to give an interview. The Associated Press correspondent for a statement on the occasion of the anniversary of his taking refuge here he replied saying that he had not changed his determination not to speak.

YOUTH'S DEATH MYSTERY

AUTOPSY TO BE HELD OVER BODY OF GEORGE PRUETTE.

Unusual Case of Hiccoughs, Accompanied by Extreme Nausea, Baffles Physicians.

Mystery surrounding the cause of the death of George Pruette, 24-year-old employe of Eike & Johnson, gas radiator concern, at St. Vincent's hospital, was being unraveled today as the body being turned over to the coroner yesterday. An autopsy will be held this morning.

Pruette, who lived at the Y. M. C. A. is said to have developed an unusual case of hiccoughs a week ago yesterday. This, with the accompaniment of extreme nausea, continued at intermittent intervals until his death. Dr. George Norman Pease was called to attend the young man and had him removed to the hospital on Thursday. However, he was dissatisfied with conditions there and is said to have left the place at 3 o'clock Friday morning and walked back to the Y. M. C. A.

He was apparently much worse after this experience and was again sent to the hospital. Sunday morning about 7 o'clock he appeared very bright and told the nurse he was much better. He asked for glass of water and while the nurse was out getting it he suffered a total stroke of paralysis, believed to have been caused by brain lesion. This was followed by his death at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The case is one which has so far baffled the physicians. According to some of the boy's companions at the Y. M. C. A. Pruette ate some ripe olives just previous to his sickness and they were under the impression that he had suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning.

DANCER'S HOME BURNED

Kimonos Valued at $25,000 Are Among Articles Lost.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—The home of Ruth St. Denis, the dancer, and her husband, and dancing partner, Ted Shawn, at Eagle Rock, a suburb, was destroyed today by fire which started from a gas heater. In addition to the house, valued at $25,000, were destroyed a collection of kimonos valued at $25,000, costumes valued at $10,000, a collection of books on costume and a trunkful of kimonos insured for $25,000. Mr. Shawn was slightly burned about the face and neck, while saving valuables.

COULDN'T RAISE HAND TO HEAD

Does Own Housework Since Taking Tanlac—Gains Over Twenty Pounds.

"For the first time in a whole year I am able to do all my housework," said Mrs. C. Libke, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 66, Tacoma, Wash., after a special Tanlac representative, who had heard of her remarkable recovery, called to ascertain the facts, recently.

"Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world," she continued, "and I just wish I could tell everybody personally what it has done for me. Why, my troubles have been completely overcome, and I feel better than I have in years and have actually gained over twenty pounds in weight, besides.

"I don't believe anyone ever had a much worse case of stomach trouble and indigestion than I did. My food would invariably sour and I would just suffer agony after every meal from the gas on my stomach. I had no appetite and really dreaded to eat on account of the misery it caused me. Then I had an attack of neuritis in my right hand and knee and I simply cannot describe the awful pain. I could not use my right hand at all and for six months I could not even raise it to comb my hair. I was badly constipated and would get so weak and dizzy I could hardly walk across the room. My nerves were all shattered and nervousness and dizziness would get me up at all night suffering so I could not sleep. Then the rheumatism got in my feet and ankles and I could hardly get around. No kind of treatment of medicine helped me and I got so discouraged and down-hearted that I almost gave up. But I was told that 'At last I got Tanlac and I will never get through praising it for what it has done for me. It has never bothered me at all now and I am eating just anything and everything I want, and I think if I really thought I couldn't get well, but here I am feeling just fine, so I have the best of reasons for praising Tanlac.' Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Co.—Adv.

DAM SUIT OPENS TODAY

IRRIGATION COMPANY SEEKS CONDEMNATION OF RANCH. Tract of 2480 Acres Along Malheur River Declared Necessary to Complete Project.

Trial of the condemnation suit of the Warm Springs Irrigation district against the Pacific Livestock company will be started in federal court this morning before Judge Bean. The plaintiff company is seeking to condemn a stock ranch of 2480 acres along the Malheur river which it asserts is needed for the completion of its irrigation project.

The irrigation district is constructing a dam which will inundate the ranch adjacent to the ranch of the defendant company. At the time it started construction the irrigation district posted a bond of $200,000 to insure payment of all damages which might be done to the property. The back water from the dam will inundate the ranch completely and if the dam is completed the ranch will be rendered valueless.

Both plaintiff and defendant have brought a large number of witnesses from eastern Oregon to offer testimony concerning the value of the property and other issues connected with the litigation. Davis & Kester of Vale and C. H. Greene of Portland will represent the irrigation district, while Edward F. Treadwell of San Francisco, John L. Rand of Baker and State Senator Gallagher of Ontario will appear on behalf of the Pacific Livestock company.

MAN ASLEEP TWO WEEKS

Liquid Food Supplied Twice Daily to Sickness Victim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Oscar L. Ohlson was partially roused today at his ranch at Ulmar, near Livermore, after passing two weeks in slumber. According to his physician, Ohlson is a victim of sleeping sickness and has been sustained for the last fortnight by liquid food given him three times a day. He could not be awakened sufficiently to feed himself. He is superintendent of a sawmill in the northern part of the state.
