

Morning Oregonian
ESTABLISHED BY HENRY L. PITCOCK
Published by The Oregonian Publishing Co.
Sixth Street, Portland, Oregon, U.S.A.
C. A. MCGONNELL, Editor.

The Oregonian is a member of the Associated Press...
Subscription Rates: Daily, 15c per copy; Weekly, 50c per copy; Monthly, $1.50 per copy.

Entrance of this party into the field may cause final break-up of the old parties. The tariff and the preferential tariff and sent Canadian contingents to fight in British wars, their real differences of policy have been growing smaller.

NEWS AWAY FROM HOME.

The national chairman of the National Woman's party, Mrs. Baker, has returned to headquarters for her campaign of the western states.

WHITTLING DOWN THE BIG STICK.

If there is ambiguity in section 10 of the league of nations covenant it has been increased by the reservation adopted by the senate.

The members of the league undertake to respect and not to violate the territorial integrity and the political independence of every nation.

RESTORE THE ROCKPILE.

The county commissioners have under consideration re-establishment of the rockpile at Kelly Butte.

NO CAUSE FOR HESITATION.

Expressed readiness of the Port of Portland commission to use the $1,000,000 fund in aid of shipping.

A NEW PARTY IN CANADA.

The war has not only bred new republics in Europe; it has bred a new party in Canada.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE ON RAILROADS.

The principle invoked by the government against the coal miners' strike, that as regards public necessities, the rights of the nation are paramount.

BY-PRODUCTS OF THE PRESS.

Stories Told of Men Who Did Things That Couldn't Be Done.

Those Who Come and Go.

"Never sell the soil," is the advice Mrs. Howard, 89 years old, gives to her son E. J. Howard, agriculturist.

The Tickle-Fairies.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry.

THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

In the far-away town of Stamboul where the popular customs are strange.

Beating Him to It.

The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days.

Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

When Napoleon offered the United States the territory of Louisiana for $15,000,000 everybody told President Jefferson there was no way to buy it.

The Liberty bell rug, over which the peace treaty was signed in Paris, is the one on which the original Liberty bell was placed.

The rug was used in the ceremony in honor of 1700 drafted men from San Francisco, on their way overseas.

John McCormack, the singer, was talking at a roof garden luncheon in New York about the broken end of a popular young society man.

Edward S. Hough, a ship designer from San Francisco, is registered at the Multnomah.

John Philip Sousa, sans his whiskers, is at the Benson.

Highway Commissioner Robert A. Booth was asked a question by the Imperial yesterday.

Bernard Daly, who is doctor-lawyer, banker and amateur actor, proprietor and a few other things at Lakeview, is at the Imperial.

Proprietor of a clothing store at Spokane, R. J. Hurd is at the Multnomah with Mr. Hurd.

M. D. Scroggins, a contractor of Hermiston, is at the Perkins.

E. H. Epperson, northwest manager of the Delco light system, is having a convention at the Multnomah.

George Simerstad, a dealer in ready-to-wear jewelry at Pomeroy, Wash., is at the Multnomah with his wife.

J. H. McCune, a stockman of Moro, is among early arrivals at the Perkins for the stock show.

Manager Hite of the Hotel Washington was reported on the sick list yesterday.

As people can't rent, they are buying and it is the easiest thing in the world to sell real estate in La Granda and the surrounding valley.

Being a nut grower has its compensation. Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Groner of Hillsboro, registered at the Multnomah.

Although the manufacturer of silk and the manufacturer of wool are interested in the public these days, E. H. Kluge of Englewood, N. J., does not intend to go to Europe.

The "million dollar kid," Joe Richardson, breezes into the Hotel Oregon yesterday from Salem.

Edward S. Hough, a ship designer from San Francisco, is registered at the Multnomah.

John Philip Sousa, sans his whiskers, is at the Benson.

Highway Commissioner Robert A. Booth was asked a question by the Imperial yesterday.

Bernard Daly, who is doctor-lawyer, banker and amateur actor, proprietor and a few other things at Lakeview, is at the Imperial.

Proprietor of a clothing store at Spokane, R. J. Hurd is at the Multnomah with Mr. Hurd.

M. D. Scroggins, a contractor of Hermiston, is at the Perkins.

E. H. Epperson, northwest manager of the Delco light system, is having a convention at the Multnomah.

George Simerstad, a dealer in ready-to-wear jewelry at Pomeroy, Wash., is at the Multnomah with his wife.

J. H. McCune, a stockman of Moro, is among early arrivals at the Perkins for the stock show.

Manager Hite of the Hotel Washington was reported on the sick list yesterday.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.

In Other Days. Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of November 15, 1894.

Did you ever hear of the tickle fairies that bring all the smiles we see?

More Truth Than Poetry. THE TURK AND THE SERVAUNT PROBLEM.

Beating Him to It. The Prince of Wales will limit his stay in the United States to ten days.