Man-Hunters to Fight Way to Haney's Body.

VICTIM NEAR I. W. W. CABIN

Reinforcements to Bring Radicals Out of Ambushed Retreat, Dead or Alive.

ALL ESCAPE IS CUT OFF

Companion of Haney Asserts Wounding Appeared Fatal. Bland May Be in Woods.

BY BEN HUR LAMPMAN.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—That John Haney, resident of the Tenino district and former resident of McMinnville, Or., was slain in the skirmish with refugee I. W. W. suspects, among whom the notorious Bert Bland is numbered, has been established almost beyond doubt, according to the accounts of possemen who participated in the fighting yesterday at the headwaters of the Hannaford river, approximately 23 miles northeast of this city.

A posse of 40 men, legion veterans and volunteer woodsmen are now in the country where the desperate radicals have taken ambush, and to a special detail has been assigned charge of the recovery of Haney's body. It is considered probably that the recovery will be marked by further fighting, as the body of Haney lies within 100 yards of Hunter's cabin, in the thick fir timber and undergrowth.

Avenues of Escape Guarded.

It was this cabin that is known to be one of the lurking places of the two or three I. W. W. who are sought for the Armistice day murders in Centralia, and who fired upon the posse yesterday afternoon.

There are four or five outlets in which the man hunt is being held, and every avenue of escape is heavily guarded by details of armed men, with four days' rations. With the trails under control, according to the campaign plans of Captain Lloyd legion military police, posse parties are deployed into the district, with instructions to bring the I. W. W. in, dead or alive.

Posse Sent for Body.

"We have verified the fact that Haney fell, when fired upon from ambush," said Captain Dysart this morning. "One of his comrades saw him drop at the first shot, and believes that Haney undoubtedly is dead. We have dispatched a special posse of 20, leaving early today, with instructions to bring the body out. It will not arrive before tomorrow."

"Haney with three other men had become separated from the main party, and were working their way through the thickets toward Hunter's cabin, where we had information that Bert Bland, Hanson, alias Loughtenoff, and probably one other radical, had taken refuge. A shot sounded and Haney was seen to fall, somewhat in advance of the others."

Possemen Take to Cover.

"At the firing, which became heavy a moment later, the possemen took cover according to previous instructions, and attempted to work their way toward the spot where Haney had dropped. Bullets whistled close to them and thudded against the tree trunks. They were utterly unable to determine the direction from which the shots were coming. "At this point one of the three remaining possemen fell and was wounded, his ankle severely, being obliged to drag himself back to the nearest outpost, some miles distant. "The other two boys withdrew for reinforcements, as the situation demanded, owing to their inability to locate the firing and the certainty that they were ambushed. We sent a party out with a stretcher and a special car to bring in the injured man."

"Who, me?" he said. "Guess not. I'm here to see this thing to a finish." He had somewhat recovered

NORTH BEND MAYOR KNOCKS OUT DENTIST

DR. W. J. PHILLIPS IN SERIOUS CONDITION FROM FIGHT.

Altercation Over Alleged Disorderly Conduct Leads to Fracture of Suspect's Skull.

NORTH BEND, Or., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Dr. W. J. Phillips, a well-known dentist of this city, member of the board of education and president of the chamber of commerce sustained a fractured skull and is now lying in an unconscious and precarious condition at the Mercy hospital as a consequence of an altercation and fist encounter with Mayor Henry Kern of this city Friday night. The altercation resulted from a remonstrance by Mayor Kern against the noise and alleged disorderly conduct of Phillips and his companions due to the apparent effect of liquor on the party near the Kern residence at a late hour in the evening. Remonstrance by Phillips of the remarks made by Mayor Kern terminated in blows in which Phillips was knocked down, his head hitting against the curb or pavement as he fell, rendering him unconscious.

Examination of the injury yesterday showed the fracture to extend from the base of the skull to a point over the left ear. At a late hour this afternoon his condition was unchanged and grave fears were entertained by his physicians for his recovery. No arrests will be made until the results of Dr. Phillips' injuries become known.

WOMAN ESCAPES IN NUDE

Clothing Left Behind When Police Raid Yonkers Hotel.

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Roaming the wilds of Westchester county, adjacent to Yonkers, is a young woman today, according to a report at police headquarters. She should be easily identified, as she left all her clothing behind her at a hotel, from which she fled through a window when Police Lieutenant Thomas A. Cooper and four detectives made a raid on the place.

The police arrested seven men and five others girls. All were accused of disorderly conduct, except Frank Chernin, said to be the proprietor, who was charged with maintaining a house of bad repute. The police went to the hotel to investigate complaints that liquor was being sold there. They found no intoxicants, but they arrested the young women who were there and who were said to be members of Yonkers families. They ranked in age from 18 to 21 years. They were compelled to accompany the police when their men companions went to the station.

BOY'S SLAYER INDICTED

Monument Man Held on Charge of Second-Degree Murder.

CANYON CITY, Or., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—The grand jury of the circuit court of Grant county met last week and brought in three criminal indictments. Ed George of Granite was indicted for having intoxicated liquor in his possession. Ray Martin of Ukiah was indicted for forgery. Martin has been in custody since his bondman surrendered him early last September. Martin is accused by Elmer A. Shields of Long Creek of passing a forged check for $10. Martin declares that he bought whisky from Shields with the check in question.

The jury also brought in an indictment of murder in the second degree against Cedric Scharf, who shot and fatally injured Martin Lesley at Monument last September. Lesley, who was only 14 years of age, was in Scharf's former quarters when Judge Biggs set the trial for December 1.

CAVE-IN TRAPS 2 MINERS

Death or Imprisonment Fate of Workers at Mullan, Idaho.

WALLACE, Idaho, Nov. 16.—Two miners, P. P. Grant and Emil Sayko, were either buried or imprisoned in a cave-in which occurred in the Hunter mine at Mullan, about seven miles north of this city, yesterday at 10:30 A. M., according to information reaching this city today. The cave-in occurred in a stope on the twenty-seventh floor and rescuing parties, working in six-hour shifts, have been digging upward from the eighteenth floor in an effort to reach the men.

Whether they were crushed to death or merely imprisoned will not be known until they are reached.

YUDENITCH IS IN FLIGHT

Slav Anti-Red Hurriedly Gets Out of Yamburg.

HELSINGFORS, Nov. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Yudenitch, commander of the Russian northern army, is retreating hurriedly from Yamburg in the direction of Narva on the gulf of Finland, according to latest advices. Some of his troops have already entered the Estonian district. The Estonian authorities announce their intention of disarming the Yudenitch forces. There is a rumor that Yudenitch has resigned his command, but this is not confirmed.

OFFER MADE TO LANSING

In Letter to Secretary Envoy Protests Against Cruel Treatment Accorded Russians Here.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled "ambassador of the Russian soviet government to the United States," has offered to provide transportation from the United States to Russia for all Russian citizens who desire to leave America, or whose presence in the United States is undesirable to the federal government.

This offer was made in a letter written by Martens to Secretary of State Lansing and made public to-night. In his letter Martens protested against the "unwarranted and cruel treatment" to which many Russian citizens in the United States are subjected "by the federal and state officials, as well as by mobs acting without authority." He proposes that the soviet government be permitted to return the citizens to soviet Russia and declares that he has received thousands of applications from such citizens who are anxious to return to their homes.

Court Contempt Charged.

Martens was arrested for contempt Saturday and released on $1000 bail after he had refused to appear and bring certain documents before the local legislative committee investigating radical activities in New York. He based his refusal on the ground that all communications passing between himself and his government were privileged. When brought before the committee in the custody of deputy sheriffs Saturday afternoon, Martens promised to appear before the committee Monday and bring his papers with him.

Calling attention to press reports that it is proposed to deport certain Russians to parts of Russia under control of the enemies of the soviet government, Martens in his letter protests that such deportation would mean certain death for those deported and would constitute "a flagrant breach of all principles of international law."

Deportation Not Necessary.

"It is quite unnecessary," he said, "for the government of the United States to deport these people."

OREGON ROAD WINS NO-ACCIDENT HONORS

SOUTHERN PACIFIC NORTH OF ASHLAND LEADS.

Employees of Division Congratulated by Mr. O'Brien for 100 Per Cent Clear Record.

Highest honors in the national accident prevention drive in the northwest officially have been awarded to the Southern Pacific lines north of Ashland. News of the award was received yesterday by J. P. O'Brien, federal manager, from E. H. Ashland, regional director of the northwest.

The Southern Pacific will be given a banner commemorating its perfect record in accident prevention during the drive. A message of congratulation sent out by Mr. O'Brien runs as follows:

"Final statistics compiled by the safety section show the Southern Pacific (lines north of Ashland) employing 4676 men and operating 1222 miles of road, had no reportable casualties to employees during the national accident prevention drive, October 11 to 31, inclusive. This is a very enviable record considering the fact that during the same two weeks of 1918 one employee was killed and 13 injured."

"This 100 per cent clear record places our road at the head of the northwestern region, and in accordance with previous advice that the regional director would award a suitable banner to the railroad in this region employing over 2000 men making the best casualty reduction record. I take great pleasure in announcing that this banner has been officially awarded to our line."

'LUCKY' STONE REAL GEM

Finest Ruby, Perhaps, in World Found in Laborer's House.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—A lucky stone which John Milbok, a laborer, brought with him from Hungary, when he came to America in 1902, and which had been lying in his house for a quarter of a century, has turned out to be a pigeon-blood ruby, without a flaw, and when cut and polished weighed 23 3/10 karats. Its value is simply incalculable.

The Ruby, which is said to be the largest flawless stone of its kind in this country, if not in the world, came back to Omaha, yesterday.

The ruby, which was polished by Gustave Gillman, a Chicago lapidary, Edmund H. McCarthy, an Omaha lawyer, sat by Gillman and kept his eyes on the ruby every minute of the time the stone was being cut.

HAWAIIAN SUGAR IS GONE; PRICE TO RISE

1-CENT INCREASE AUTHORIZED BY EQUALIZATION BOARD.

Abnormal Consumption on Part of Public Held Possible for Depletion of Stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 16.—Exhaustion of the Hawaiian cane sugar crop has made central and northern California, Oregon, Washington, northern Idaho and Nevada consumers entirely dependent upon the remaining beet sugar crop, the Pacific coast office of the sugar equalization board stated tonight in an announcement that the price of 16 cents a pound for beet sugar at the factory would be effective tomorrow. The new beet sugar price is an advance of 1 cent over the price at which the refiners sold cane sugar and makes possible a retail figure of 12 cents, as wholesalers are allowed a profit of half a cent a pound, while the retailers may charge 1 1/2 cents additional.

There has been no known hoarding on the part of refiners, jobbers or retailers, the equalization board declared, the abnormal consumption on the part of the public being solely accountable for the exhaustion of sugar stocks.

The board announced it was notifying the "fair price" committee of Washington and Oregon and also the department of justice, which had authorized the advance, that it was purchasing beet sugar at the new price would be permitted to add one cent to the present rate charged their customers. No retailers or jobbers would be permitted to raise the price of their present stock. It was declared, while any advance in the price of cane sugar would be prosecuted by the department of justice. Thirty-six million pounds of sugar, or seven pounds for every person in northern California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington, was distributed to the people of that territory in a period of 30 days ending yesterday, through a co-operative agreement with the various refiners in California. It was stated, the figure being three times the per capita allotment made to the people of the United States during the war. This allotment excluded all sales to manufacturers.

The board asserted that it had saved $100,000 to the households of the Pacific coast in the last three weeks by permitting only low priced beet sugar and cane sugar to be sold to them.

WOMAN PROVES COURAGE

Studio Robbery Committed After "Yellow" Charge Is Made.

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 16.—Irene Johnston, 23 years old, arrested here today, confessed, according to the police, that she was the woman who held up Virgil Reed at the point of a revolver in his photograph studio at Richmond yesterday, bound and gagged him and escaped with $235. She committed the act because she, through the threat of her father, called her "yellow" when at first she refused to rob the studio at his suggestion, the police said she told them.

People Sound at Heart.

"You see," went on the general earnestly, "I am not a patriotic, but I am a human being, and I am human people are sound at heart, clear of mind, and thoroughly loyal to our ideals and institutions. "The trouble in this country, and in the world at large, is that today small, well-organized minorities, inspired by pernicious purposes, are endeavoring to dominate large, unorganized, well-intentioned majorities, with the result that the forces of evil, through the threat of their make, appear to be much more numerous and powerful than they really are."

"American labor," continued the general presently, "has shown itself to be loyal and patriotic, but it is forced to make a constant fight against the influence of small, denationalizing groups. Bolshevistic tendencies, made up largely of illiterate alien labor, are in this country, and our institutions are easily persuaded by unprincipled agitators that when left the oppressive European environment in which they were born to come to this country they jumped from the frying pan into the fire."

Reds Exploit Ignorance.

"It is easy to convince them of this because present evils are always more pointed than those gone by, and a distorted picture of the past is presented. The agitator makes use of the alien's memory to drug the latter's common sense and thus creates a glib radical of a man who might under the right influences become a desirable American citizen. "The bolsheviks of Russia seem to be on the run, General," I interjected, somewhat ironically. "They are meeting with the fate they deserve," commented General Wood, with emphasis. "What is happening in Russia should be an object lesson to those who imagine that, through the I. W. W. and kindred organizations, they can bring about either anarchy or socialism in this country. American labor must free itself at once, and completely, from the vicious and poisonous influence of the agitator at the top but on the lower levels, that, like a fulminating cap, might discharge the whole powder magazine."

"But while we deprecate and denounce the alien American influence," remarked the general, after a contemplative pause, "that are endeavoring to poison the minds of our laboring men, it is imperative that we should satisfy the demand of the workers for a fighting chance in life for themselves and their families. This applies to every laborer, whether he works with his hands or his brain, whether he digs coal from a mine or plants Greek roots in a college."

"Lot of Unregenerate Belligerency Still Left in Race Despite Recent Orgy of Blood."

BY EDWARD S. VAN ZILE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—"My recent experiences at Omaha and Gary have not made me pessimistic. In fact, I feel more confidence today in the permanency of our American institutions than ever before—and that's saying a great deal."

General Leonard Wood, smiled cheerfully as he uttered the above significant words that reached my ears above the uproar of an accommodation train carrying us noisily from New York to Garrison's one recent Sunday morning.

Our coach was filled to overflowing with well-dressed men and women bent upon a day's outdoor pleasure somewhere up the Hudson, but they had forgotten their coming recreation in the interest they were taking in the sun-browned, vigorous-looking man beside me, clad in the uniform of a major-general, and known to our fellow passengers as an American whose military skill has often proved the salvation of our arms and whose executive ability and humanitarian enthusiasm have conferred inestimable blessings upon remote peoples but recently freed from ancient tyrannies.
