

OREGON TO STRETCH TIGHT NET FOR REDS

Olcott Asks Officers to Co-operate for "Quick Justice."

PRESENT DANGERS NOTED

Reports Solicited From All Communities Where Possibility of Trouble Exists.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—In a letter prepared here today Governor Olcott urges all district attorneys, sheriffs, magistrates, chiefs of police and other peace officers in Oregon to co-operate with the executive offices in enforcing the syndicalism law now in effect in this state, and bringing to quick justice all persons guilty of disloyal acts.

"The nation has been forcibly and suddenly brought to realize, through the tragedy at Centralia, that the industrial workers of the world, the radicals, the agitators and any coming under the category of 'reds' are a menace to the present and future peace and welfare of our country and all of its truly American and law-abiding citizens," says the governor's letter.

"When American citizens, but a short time relieved from duty in the service of their country, are shot down in cold blood by men who are actuated only by a spirit of hatred for our most holy and most sacred institutions, it is tantamount to a declaration of war and in the minds of our citizenry nothing short of treason."

Utmost Vigilance Urged. "Our protection lies in the machinery of the law. The execution and processes of that machinery rest with the executive offices of this state and with you as arms of the governmental power. Our first duty is the protection of our country and of our homes. To secure that protection requires the utmost vigilance and an unwavering enforcement of our laws. The people of the state are depending upon us to root out the evils which are resulting from a propaganda too long tolerated."

"I bespeak your heartiest co-operation in this as a duty of the highest patriotism. I am taking the liberty of calling your attention to chapter 12 of the general laws of Oregon for 1919, this being an act defining criminal syndicalism and sabotage and also chapter 95 of the general laws of Oregon for 1911, being an act defining vagrancy."

Governors Ask Reports. "In every situation arises in any community of the state which may be considered beyond the power of local authorities to cope with, I earnestly request that the executive office at Salem be notified forthwith. Every power of the state machinery of government is necessary and available will be set in motion to the end that our laws are enforced and the lives and property of our citizens safeguarded."

"I also would greatly appreciate reports from any community of the state as to the possibility of trouble arising and as to the status of those who may be suspected of being aligned with those forces which have avowedly started a reign of terror in direct defiance of the laws of our state and nation."

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Olive Thomas, as she appears in "Prudence on Broadway," a picture which will show for the first time in Portland at the Columbia theater beginning today and closing Friday midnight.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Star—Senoue Hayskawa, "The Man Beneath." Majestic—Alice Brady, "Marie, Ltd." Liberty—Wallace Reid, "The Lottery Man." Peoples—Billie Burke, "Sadie Brown." Strand—Pauline Frederick, "Bonds of Love." Columbia—Olive Thomas, "Prudence on Broadway." Sunset—Nazimova, "The Brat." Circle—Clara Kimball Young, "Cheating Cheaters."

ADMIRERS of Olive Thomas will welcome the presentation of this star in "Prudence on Broadway," which will open at the Columbia theater today.

Heralded by Harrison Fisher as the most beautiful show-girl in America, and first claiming popularity by her charming personality as a dancer in New York's "Midnight Folies," her role of a prim Quakeress offers unusual opportunities for the display of her beauty in the simple garb of Quaker folk.

In the interpretation of the role of Prudence, Miss Thomas has every opportunity to exercise her versatile talents, as the little Quakeress who invades Broadway. Amid the luxurious surroundings of New York's exclusive society, Prudence makes her debut. Cleverly she realizes that her demure appearance and speech will attract much attention.

She captivates the sons of wealth, but finds herself entangled in perplexing difficulties when she unwittingly loses high stakes at bridge. Prudence plunges into a desperate flirtation to unravel the web which threatens to menace her reputation. How, with the rare wit of a woman, none the less keen for her provincial training, she subdues a jaded New Yorker who threatens her innocence, and wins the hand of the catch of the season, furnishes a picture rich in contrasts and suspense situations.

Screen Gossip. If people are half as eager to see Greenwich village in reproduction as they are to view it in the original, then "The Red Virgin," the R. A. Rolfe production from the original story by Charles A. Logue, will be drawing tremendous crowds when it is released. The story of "The Red Virgin" unfolds in Greenwich village and draws upon all the modernisms of life, art and literature rampant in New York's Latin quarter. The chief setting is the "Black Bar" cafe, the meeting place of the modernists. It is a composite representation of half a dozen of the most unconventional cafes in the village.

Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced kid and biggest little star on the screen is rapidly becoming a real pocket edition Bill Hart. Every morning he goes to a ranch outside of Hollywood and under the expert guidance of Hank and Charlie Steelman he is put through a three-hour course in trick riding and lariat throwing. Already he is adept at both sports and promises to have Douglas Mix, William S. Fairbanks and Tom Hart in the same class.

Miss Marjorie Fairfax, author, playwright and for the past four years writer of many of the best and most successful photoplays produced, has been engaged on a long term contract to do the scripts for all the forthcoming Marshall Neilan productions. Among Miss Fairfax's most successful stage plays were "The Talker," "Mrs. Bolivar's Daughter," "A Modern Girl" and "Mr. Crew's Career," on which she collaborated with Winston Churchill, celebrated English author. Some of her film scripts are "The Valley of the Giants," "The Honor of His House," "Vicky Van," "The Westerner," etc.

"Silk Husbands and Calico Wives" has been adopted as the title of House Peters' new picture. In addition to House Peters, Vincent Serrano, Mildred Reardon, Ruth Sinclair and Mary Alden have important parts. November 30 will be the release date.

"The Luck of Geraldine Laird," one of Kathleen Norris' most successful stories will be Essie Barricade's next vehicle. The cast has not yet been chosen, except for leading man, Niles Welch who played opposite Miss Barricade in "Beckoning Roads," will play this part.

Colleen Moore will be featured in "A Roman Scandal." The other stars are Fay Tincher, Alice Lake and Edith Roberts.

Billie Rhodes, with Cullen Landis, is featured in a comedy which is scheduled for early release. The picture, entitled "Mary's Nightmare," which was produced under the direction of Scott Sidney, has never before been shown.

It may be hard to believe that a man living right on Broadway, where no less than three big dramatic successes are credited to his pen and who is generally supposed to keep in close touch with things theatrical, had never seen a feature motion picture.

However, it is a truth. Max Marcin is the playwright. And he has finally witnessed a moving picture drama, no less a one than his own play "Eyes of Youth," which was shown at the Hotel Astor last week. Mr. Marcin went to the showing as a guest of Clara Kimball Young, star of the film, and after he had seen the picture through, went right home and wrote to Miss Young and made her an offer to star her in his new play.
