

POLICE REORGANIZE NIGHT PATROL WORK

Outlying Districts to Receive Greater Protection.

CYCLISTS TO COMB CITY

Riders Will Be Stationed at Fire Houses—Guard from 8 P. M. to 4 A. M. to Be Strong.

Closer surveillance of the city of Portland and a better protection against "yeggs" and robbers now operating in the city is planned as the result of an order issued by Chief of Police Jenkins yesterday which provides that half of the second night relief under the leadership of Captain Harms shall report each night at 8 o'clock for duty until 4 in the morning, working in conjunction with the regular night relief during those hours.

The new order, which went into effect last night, without increasing the number of policemen on the force, provides for an increase of approximately 25 men during the hours when outlaws are most active. This will mean that during the first part of the night and up to 12 o'clock midnight the city will be patrolled by 100 policemen, giving the best protection the city has had in years.

Emergency Force Available. From 12 o'clock to 4 the force will be approximately the same, although distributed in a way which is anticipated will be more effective. From 4 o'clock on the force will be weaker, but this is not considered important, as most crimes are committed before that time. However, at any time that it is considered important, the emergency force created by yesterday's order and under the leadership of Captain Harms may be held on duty.

A portion of the men of the new 8 to 4 shift will be placed at various points in the city each night, where they are thought most needed. A squad will also be retained by Captain Harms for patrol duty in an automobile. Another feature of the new system provides for number of motorcycle men stationed at various fire houses about the city. By this means, when an emergency call comes in, motorcycle men in the vicinity can be rushed from the nearest fire house.

Phone Reports Required. Men on the emergency force thus created will report by telephone to the police station every 30 minutes, thereby being in close touch at all hours in case any emergency call should be received.

Another feature of the new system will be the naming of a man to take emergency calls at the station. When a call comes in he will record all details and in the meantime motorcycle men will be dispatched to the scene to take up the trail.

The new force will be particularly used for work on the east side, where protection has been especially weak and where most of the holdups and robberies have been made, Chief Jenkins announced.

Outer Districts Get Protection. Since the wave of crime struck Portland the force of men on some of the important downtown districts has been doubled. This has been done at the expense of the outlying districts. The new force will be directed to a greater extent the outlying districts and at the same time give the entire city better protection, the chief said.

As the result of Captain Harms being detailed to duty during the early part of the night, the second night relief will be in charge of Sergeant Wade from 4 o'clock in the morning until 7:30, when the day relief goes on duty.
