

ELTON WATKINS TO QUIT FEDERAL POST

Assistant District Attorney Tenders Resignation.

PRIVATE PRACTICE CAUSE

Office to Be Left as Soon as Successor Is Appointed by Lester W. Humphreys.

Elton Watkins will resign as assistant United States attorney as soon as Lester W. Humphreys can make a selection to fill the place.

Mr. Watkins was an appointee of Bert E. Haney, who resigned as United States district attorney a week ago to engage in private practice after serving two years.

Humphreys, although recommended for the position of United States attorney by the attorney-general, has not been confirmed, as there has been no executive session of the senate.

It is understood, however, that there will be no opposition to his confirmation in the senate.

Mr. Watkins yesterday resigned his resignation, although Mr. Humphreys urged Mr. Watkins to reconsider.

"I have a great proposition," explained Mr. Watkins, "and I will accept it. There is absolutely no friction between Mr. Humphreys and myself and I would gladly continue in the position I occupy but for the fact that private practice demands my time. I have agreed to remain in the office until Mr. Humphreys finds a successor."

L. W. W. Testimony Given. Mr. Watkins served with the government at Washington before coming to Portland, and he was active during the war in espionage cases.

When the L. W. W. trials were held in Chicago Mr. Watkins was one of the government's most important witnesses, and he is probably more familiar with the inner workings of the radicals than any other federal officer in the northwest.

Of late he has handled most of the court cases in the federal court, such cases as involving the operation of illicit stills and the violations of the law which prohibits the use of any foodstuffs for beverage purposes.

One of his most important cases concerns an attempt on the part of the government to recover the large amount of range land in central Oregon, which the government contends was obtained through conspiracy.

BAKERS' PROBE IS SCORED

HOUSEWIVES OF CITY EXPRESS DISSATISFACTION.

Failure of Mayor's Committee to Make Detailed Report Calls Forth Recommendations.

In a resolution adopted yesterday by the housewives' council, in which the members openly expressed their disapproval of the results of the municipal investigation of books of local bakers, the women of this city are advised to make only standard weight loaf retailing at 16 cents a pound.

Much criticism was voiced at the meeting, the advocates of the resolution pointing out that "the committee appointed by Mayor Baker has failed to submit a detailed report of its investigations to the public and stated under date of November 7 that 'The report was not available for a detailed examination of the records of any one company, but your committee is of the opinion that its conclusions are based on investigations sufficiently thorough and extensive to set forth the facts of the premises.'"

Indorsement was given the proposed league of women voters, according to plans outlined by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt on her recent visit to Portland. Mrs. John Scott pointed out that it would be undesirable for the members to back the organization as a body, but urged them to participate as individuals.

Charles Cooney spoke on disadvantages of shoddy in wool manufacturing.

HUSBAND IS HOME TWICE

TWO NIGHTS SPENT WITH WIFE IN 4 YEARS, IS CHARGE.

Woman Recants Pictures of Mate Embracing Other Members of Fair Sex.

In hundreds of complaints filed by disillusioned wives at the courthouse, husbands who stay away from home nights figure largely, but the record must undoubtedly go to Walfred Lundin, who stayed home with his wife only two nights in four years of married life, according to Amanda Lundin's action for divorce recorded yesterday.

Albert R. Keesey only came home "to keep up the pretense of being married," he told his wife, Bessie, according to allegations in her suit for divorce filed yesterday. To her friends he said he went home simply because he was sorry for her, she asserts.

All-night celebrations, sometimes in company with members of the fair sex, and automobile trips during which he had his picture taken with arms about women who were strangers to his wife, are also alleged.

M. E. Chilson, Dr. Cole, Fred Wade

George Ferris and Ed Tiller are listed as affiliates of Hattie Michael in the cross-complaint of B. F. Michael in his wife's suit for divorce. He says his wife has been a member of the Pentecostal mission, "otherwise known as the Holy Rollers, or Tongue of Fire" for four years, saying that she finally "lost her reason and believed she was chosen as a saint or vessel of the Lord and believed her relations with other men were the wish and desire of the Lord."

Mrs. Michael was adjudged insane October 13, 1919, says her husband, but was later released from the asylum through the activities of a committee of five from the mission, he asserts. The Michaels were married at Janesville, Wis., in 1887.

As an exhibition of his superior strength and skill, Salvatore Decorato knocked his wife Emma down and stamped on her head last Sunday, says her divorce complaint.

Other divorce actions filed yesterday were: R. Shimmel against Bernice Shimmel; and Frederic Southworth against Ella M. Southworth.
