

TRANSACTIONS BARED BY RED AMBASSADOR

Soviet Envoy Tells of Big Cash Payments.

EX-OFFICIAL IS INVOLVED

Propaganda Work Is Admitted. Friends Whose Names Are Withheld, Declared Ready to Help.

MUSICAL ACT IS WINNER

ORPHEUM STARS WILL CLOSE ENGAGEMENT TODAY.

Maud Lambert and Ernest R. Ball, Composer, Delight Audiences With Novel Act.

As the Hellig theater has been engaged tonight for the Portland Symphony orchestra the final performance of Orpheum vaudeville will be staged to take advantage of its permission.

Settlement Held Authorized. Instead, Martens testified, his government had sent him official authorization to arrange for a settlement on outstanding bonds of a large proportion of which were sold in this country.

He said he hoped to arrange a settlement not only in the case of bonds on which interest will come due next June, but also in the case of others on which interest has been defaulted.

Before calling Martens before them, members of the committee held an executive session, at which it was decided to submit to the state department a transcript of his testimony with a view to having him deported.

During a discussion of communist principles, Martens said that Lenin and Trotsky had receded somewhat from their former attitude in calling upon the workers of the world to rise against the capitalist countries.

Deal With Capital Desired. Martens said the Russian soviet government was not trying to fight "capital" in the United States, but wished to "make a compromise with it."

"Temporary?" he was asked. "Why should it be temporary?" he replied.

Martens testified that since coming to this country his "embassy" had received $50,000 from the Russian soviet government. He said that this was his only source of funds and that he had not received a cent in contributions here.

His last shipment of cash, amounting to $15,000, arrived two months ago.

He testified that the weekly payroll of his "embassy" including his own salary, amounted to $120,000. He added that he employed 30 persons in five departments.

Corporation Report Denied. Martens denied he knew that Malone had formed a corporation to do business with soviet Russia and declared that his "embassy" was not specifically interested in such an organization.

He did not know that Malone had been speaking in behalf of the soviet government of Russia, either before or after he paid him $1000, he said, and denied that he and Malone had spoken from the same platform in Madison Square Garden here last June.

Malone was not regular counsel for the soviet, Martens said, but was employed solely as a special agent in plans to buy and ship to Russia $5,000,000 worth of bonds and $4,500,000 worth of other supplies.

Martens asserted in reply to questions volleyed at him by the grand jury that 25 per cent of his activities here are devoted to propaganda for recognition of the Russian soviet government by the United States, or "publicity work to impress upon the American people that the Russian soviet form of government is desirable."

Branch Office Established. Inquiries based on the committee's announced efforts to find out if Martens is or is not in reality chief of the communist radicals trying to spread revolution throughout the United States brought no definite affirmative results. Martens admitted having a branch office in Detroit in charge of a Dr. Davin, which has been established for the last four months with a small force of workers.

The reason for this sub-branch, Martens said, was because of plans looking toward the purchase of motor cars and tractors for the soviet. He "negotiated" with the Ford Motor company, but had not actually bought anything there, he said. He admitted that he knew all the time.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy. You can save about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membrane so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough, and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for one ounce of Pinex with full directions, and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

DEMOCRATIC SMOKE SCREEN IS EXPOSED

Senator Jones Glad Treaty Is Made Political Issue.

WILSON'S PART IS SHOWN

Ratification Only Possible by Compromise Americanizing Pact, Washington Solon Says.

WHEAT SPECULATORS HIT

ATTORNEY FINDS INDICATIONS OF MILL PROFITTEERING.

Washington Federation of Farm Organizations Informed of Findings of Grand Jury.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25.—Evidence that milling companies of Idaho and Washington have their own grain buying corporations, separate from their milling activities, has been disclosed by the grand jury of the city of Spokane.

Profiteering in the milling business in this section by the use of premiums is indicated, he said. Premiums have been advancing, he declared, since October 1, and one miller recently predicted a price of $20 a barrel for flour within a short time.

"I do not believe the farmers are responsible for the advance in wheat prices during the last few weeks," Mr. Leavy declared. "I am convinced the farmer sold his wheat some time ago. Speculators, by the payment of premiums, have been making the money."

The Plumb plan of railroad control was opposed and return of the railroads to private ownership was recommended in resolutions adopted this afternoon by the federation. The resolutions also endorsed the principle of collective bargaining for organizations of farmers and laborers, and demanded the abolition of speculation in farm products and to that end asked that the government ascertain and publish from time to time the cost of producing wheat.

The need of a united front of farm organizations was emphasized, but pointed out that with any organization by the farmers were condemned. A greater voice in the government was demanded for the farmers, and it was stated that their interests must be considered in settlements between capital and labor. The stand of the American Legion in disloyal organizations and individuals was endorsed.

In London ladies' maids who are also qualified to run military automobiles are paid an extra high wage.

Bill Is Compromised. The senator frankly admits the bill is a compromise, and is not such a bill as would have been written by the radical conservationists on the one hand, or by the water-power interests on the other. However, he finds both factions willing to compromise on the bill now on the senate calendar.

Senator Jones expects the main fight will center on three important points: (1) the water-power bill, (2) the conservation bill, and (3) the Americanizing bill.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

The lawyer declined to say just what form his new offensive would take. Virtually the only proceedings that could be brought, outside of another habeas corpus action, would be quo warranto proceedings by the district attorney, questioning the right of the court to continue operations, or a possible mandamus action against the county treasurer by a taxpayer, demanding that the salary of Judge Kanzier be paid.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

DEMOCRATIC SMOKE SCREEN IS EXPOSED

Senator Jones Glad Treaty Is Made Political Issue.

WILSON'S PART IS SHOWN

Ratification Only Possible by Compromise Americanizing Pact, Washington Solon Says.

WHEAT SPECULATORS HIT

ATTORNEY FINDS INDICATIONS OF MILL PROFITTEERING.

Washington Federation of Farm Organizations Informed of Findings of Grand Jury.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25.—Evidence that milling companies of Idaho and Washington have their own grain buying corporations, separate from their milling activities, has been disclosed by the grand jury of the city of Spokane.

Profiteering in the milling business in this section by the use of premiums is indicated, he said. Premiums have been advancing, he declared, since October 1, and one miller recently predicted a price of $20 a barrel for flour within a short time.

"I do not believe the farmers are responsible for the advance in wheat prices during the last few weeks," Mr. Leavy declared. "I am convinced the farmer sold his wheat some time ago. Speculators, by the payment of premiums, have been making the money."

The Plumb plan of railroad control was opposed and return of the railroads to private ownership was recommended in resolutions adopted this afternoon by the federation. The resolutions also endorsed the principle of collective bargaining for organizations of farmers and laborers, and demanded the abolition of speculation in farm products and to that end asked that the government ascertain and publish from time to time the cost of producing wheat.

The need of a united front of farm organizations was emphasized, but pointed out that with any organization by the farmers were condemned. A greater voice in the government was demanded for the farmers, and it was stated that their interests must be considered in settlements between capital and labor. The stand of the American Legion in disloyal organizations and individuals was endorsed.

In London ladies' maids who are also qualified to run military automobiles are paid an extra high wage.

Bill Is Compromised. The senator frankly admits the bill is a compromise, and is not such a bill as would have been written by the radical conservationists on the one hand, or by the water-power interests on the other. However, he finds both factions willing to compromise on the bill now on the senate calendar.

Senator Jones expects the main fight will center on three important points: (1) the water-power bill, (2) the conservation bill, and (3) the Americanizing bill.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

The lawyer declined to say just what form his new offensive would take. Virtually the only proceedings that could be brought, outside of another habeas corpus action, would be quo warranto proceedings by the district attorney, questioning the right of the court to continue operations, or a possible mandamus action against the county treasurer by a taxpayer, demanding that the salary of Judge Kanzier be paid.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

DEMOCRATIC SMOKE SCREEN IS EXPOSED

Senator Jones Glad Treaty Is Made Political Issue.

WILSON'S PART IS SHOWN

Ratification Only Possible by Compromise Americanizing Pact, Washington Solon Says.

WHEAT SPECULATORS HIT

ATTORNEY FINDS INDICATIONS OF MILL PROFITTEERING.

Washington Federation of Farm Organizations Informed of Findings of Grand Jury.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25.—Evidence that milling companies of Idaho and Washington have their own grain buying corporations, separate from their milling activities, has been disclosed by the grand jury of the city of Spokane.

Profiteering in the milling business in this section by the use of premiums is indicated, he said. Premiums have been advancing, he declared, since October 1, and one miller recently predicted a price of $20 a barrel for flour within a short time.

"I do not believe the farmers are responsible for the advance in wheat prices during the last few weeks," Mr. Leavy declared. "I am convinced the farmer sold his wheat some time ago. Speculators, by the payment of premiums, have been making the money."

The Plumb plan of railroad control was opposed and return of the railroads to private ownership was recommended in resolutions adopted this afternoon by the federation. The resolutions also endorsed the principle of collective bargaining for organizations of farmers and laborers, and demanded the abolition of speculation in farm products and to that end asked that the government ascertain and publish from time to time the cost of producing wheat.

The need of a united front of farm organizations was emphasized, but pointed out that with any organization by the farmers were condemned. A greater voice in the government was demanded for the farmers, and it was stated that their interests must be considered in settlements between capital and labor. The stand of the American Legion in disloyal organizations and individuals was endorsed.

In London ladies' maids who are also qualified to run military automobiles are paid an extra high wage.

Bill Is Compromised. The senator frankly admits the bill is a compromise, and is not such a bill as would have been written by the radical conservationists on the one hand, or by the water-power interests on the other. However, he finds both factions willing to compromise on the bill now on the senate calendar.

Senator Jones expects the main fight will center on three important points: (1) the water-power bill, (2) the conservation bill, and (3) the Americanizing bill.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

The lawyer declined to say just what form his new offensive would take. Virtually the only proceedings that could be brought, outside of another habeas corpus action, would be quo warranto proceedings by the district attorney, questioning the right of the court to continue operations, or a possible mandamus action against the county treasurer by a taxpayer, demanding that the salary of Judge Kanzier be paid.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

NORTH DAKOTA BILL HITS SYNDICALISM

Measure Carries Ten-Year Penalty for Violation.

SOLONS FACE LONG FIGHT

Governor's Appeal for Investigations Expected to Prolong Session of Legislative Assembly.

WHEAT SPECULATORS HIT

ATTORNEY FINDS INDICATIONS OF MILL PROFITTEERING.

Washington Federation of Farm Organizations Informed of Findings of Grand Jury.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25.—Evidence that milling companies of Idaho and Washington have their own grain buying corporations, separate from their milling activities, has been disclosed by the grand jury of the city of Spokane.

Profiteering in the milling business in this section by the use of premiums is indicated, he said. Premiums have been advancing, he declared, since October 1, and one miller recently predicted a price of $20 a barrel for flour within a short time.

"I do not believe the farmers are responsible for the advance in wheat prices during the last few weeks," Mr. Leavy declared. "I am convinced the farmer sold his wheat some time ago. Speculators, by the payment of premiums, have been making the money."

The Plumb plan of railroad control was opposed and return of the railroads to private ownership was recommended in resolutions adopted this afternoon by the federation. The resolutions also endorsed the principle of collective bargaining for organizations of farmers and laborers, and demanded the abolition of speculation in farm products and to that end asked that the government ascertain and publish from time to time the cost of producing wheat.

The need of a united front of farm organizations was emphasized, but pointed out that with any organization by the farmers were condemned. A greater voice in the government was demanded for the farmers, and it was stated that their interests must be considered in settlements between capital and labor. The stand of the American Legion in disloyal organizations and individuals was endorsed.

In London ladies' maids who are also qualified to run military automobiles are paid an extra high wage.

Bill Is Compromised. The senator frankly admits the bill is a compromise, and is not such a bill as would have been written by the radical conservationists on the one hand, or by the water-power interests on the other. However, he finds both factions willing to compromise on the bill now on the senate calendar.

Senator Jones expects the main fight will center on three important points: (1) the water-power bill, (2) the conservation bill, and (3) the Americanizing bill.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

The lawyer declined to say just what form his new offensive would take. Virtually the only proceedings that could be brought, outside of another habeas corpus action, would be quo warranto proceedings by the district attorney, questioning the right of the court to continue operations, or a possible mandamus action against the county treasurer by a taxpayer, demanding that the salary of Judge Kanzier be paid.

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks, announced Attorney Campbell. "We might have gone ahead with the case in hand, but to pursue a habeas corpus case when the child sought had been released from custody without any conditions being attached was considered a poor way to continue an attack on a court we believe to be invalid."

Another suit which will bring the question to issue in a way which cannot be evaded or side-stepped will be filed within two weeks,